SCHOOL TEACHERS' SALARIES

Reports of Committees On Finance and Schools to the Aldermen

The following reports of the Finance Committee and the Committee on Schools (Alderman Blake) in regard to school teachers' salaries will be of interest to many.

Report of Finance Committee

The Committee on Finance had before it for consideration a special request from the School Department for $215,000 for increasing salaries of teachers, administrative officers and clerks for the year 1920, divided as follows:

$187,900 for regular schools to be available on or after January 1, 1920; $10,100 for regular schools to be available on or after September 1, 1920; $13,825 for vocational schools to be available on or after January 1, 1920; $3,175 for vocational schools to be available on or after September 1, 1920. Total, $215,000.

The amounts to be available as of January 1, 1920 were to be used for increases of salaries to take effect on that date and the amounts to be available on or after September 1, 1920, were for increases and adjustments of various salaries to take effect September 1, 1920, for the following school year, which ends in June, 1921.

The Finance Committee is in agreement with the School Department that the entire amount to be available on September 1st next should be granted and so recommend, but the Committee recommends an amount to be available on January 1st which is 25 per cent. less than the School Department requests.

The Finance Committee has been impressed with the fact that the school teachers were entitled to a substantial increase in compensation. The main question has been how much this increase should be in justice to all concerned.

A very exhaustive and conscientious study of all phases of the question has been made. It was necessary to consider all fundamental facts affecting the general financial condition of the City to enable the Committee to take a broad, just and logical view of the whole question.

It may be helpful briefly to explain the position of the City Government, the School Department and the teachers at the time the School Budget for the year 1919 was passed by this Board.

At that time the School Department asked for the appropriation of an amount sufficient to carry the department through the calendar year on the basis of the salaries existing as of January 1st, 1919 and in addition an appropriation of $15,000 to provide for contemplated increases for the last four months of the year, to take effect as of September 1st, 1919.

At that time the Finance Committee gave a hearing to the School Department and the school teachers and after careful consideration, voted unanimously to grant the School Department every dollar asked for; and at that time, so far as any information the Board of Aldermen had in its possession, this amount was entirely satisfactory to the School Department and the teachers themselves. The entire appropriation was unanimously voted by the full Board.

It should be borne in mind that in making this appropriation of $15,000, it involved a total of $37,500 for the school year beginning September 1st, 1919 and ending in June, 1920.

In May or June, 1919, as is the custom, the School Department entered into contracts with the teachers for the school year 1919-1920 and as far as the city is concerned, it has kept its part of the agreement.

In October of this year, the teachers requested, and one group demanded, that the School Board and the City Government give immediate consideration to a substantial increase in their salaries. There were a number of requests and petitions, but the agitation seemed finally to boil itself down to this:

That every teacher in the Newton Schools be given an increase of at least 60 per cent., dating from September 1st, 1919 and that women teachers receive an increase not less than $600 and men teachers an increase not less than $1000 and that $200 of this amount be paid them on or before January 1st, 1920.

At the meeting of the board, held December 15th, 1919, a so-called bonus of $200 each, to be given to the Superintendent, Assistant Superintendent of Schools, the Head Masters of the High and Grade Schools, the Supervisors, and to each teacher now in the employ of the City of Newton, was voted. The total amount of this "bonus" appropriated was $65,466.66. It was distinctly understood that this had no bearing whatever upon salaries to be paid in 1920.

We should bear in mind that on the first of September, 1919, just four

CHARITY BALL

Brilliant Affair Held Monday Evening in Newton Centre

The Charity Ball at Bray Hall, Newton Centre, Monday night was a brilliant affair. Not Newton Centre alone, but all of the Newtons were well represented, as well as Brookline and Boston. Between four hundred and five hundred people were present. The Walter Johnson orchestra furnished the music, playing all of the latest airs. The hall was very attractively decorated with Christmas greens from the Newton Rose Conservatory, which also lent many of the trees. Mrs. George W. Crampton and Mr. Edward B. Stratton, Jr., were in charge of the decorations.

Many private parties preceded the ball. Among these was one given by Mrs. Fred H. Baird of Loring street. Mrs. Baird was becomingly gowned in green tulle over cloth of gold. Mrs. Harry P. Bradford gave a dinner for twenty young people, friends of Miss Eleanor and Miss Augusta Bradford.

Mrs. Arthur G. Badger of Dudley road gave a large dinner party. Mrs. Bradford was dressed in white satin and black lace. Mrs. Swan Hartwell of West Newton brought a large party of young people with her. Mrs. Hartwell was gowned in serise satin and tulle, her daughter, Miss Madeline Hartwell in light green.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Follett and Mr. and Mrs. Dana Follett, Mr. and Mrs. Warner R. Holt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Kelsey, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Powers, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Wing, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Norman F. Pratt, Col. and Mrs. Dwight S. Brigham, Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Ayer, Mr. and Mrs. Prescott Warren, Mr.

THE 1920 CENSUS

Enumerators Appointed to Take the Facts and Figures in Newton

Over 25 Census Enumerators for Newton were appointed by John J. Sullivan, Supervisor of the Census for Middlesex County and will start on the actual work of enumerating the population and gathering other statistics on January 2, 1920.

Under the law these census takers have the right to enter every dwelling house in their district to secure the necessary information. These persons, however, are obligated to maintain the utmost secrecy concerning what is imparted to them and no one need be alarmed at having to tell the census taker all that is asked, for the information, whatever it may be, will be regarded as absolutely confidential.

TEACHERS TO GET $450

1919 Aldermen Recommend That Figure to Incoming Board

The gallery at City Hall on Monday evening was again filled with school teachers and City Hall employees, all of whom were deeply interested in the action of the board of aldermen on the matter of salaries for the coming year. They were not disappointed, for the board, after a long secret session in committee of the whole in a side room, passed resolutions favoring action by the 1920 board for substantial increases for the teachers, city officials and City Hall employees. So far as the City Hall was concerned the board adopted an order fixing the new schedule of salaries, as of December 1st.

The action on the school teachers' salaries merely recommended to the 1920 board that $164,568.75 be appropriated for salary increases, and required further action by the 1920 board (taken yesterday afternoon) and a distribution of this sum by the school committee. It is understood that the above figure means a $450 flat increase to about 324 teachers and $750 increase to about 20 teachers. There was no discussion, Alderman Whidden reporting the recommendations of the committee of the whole. The City Hall action was unanimous, while that on the school teachers salaries had a few negative votes, which it is said was due to a desire to give the teachers the larger sum recommended by Alderman Blake, of the Committee on Schools, which called for a total of over $189,000. In passing it might be well to say right here, that the school committee recommended $215,000, which would have provided a flat increase of $600 for 324 teachers and $1,000 for 20 teachers.

The Board granted petitions of C. J. Cherrington Beacon street, and the Holland System, Inc., Grove Hill Park, for private garages, granted a victualler license at 193 Adams street to Giovanni Proia, and a pool room license to A. Thos. Feola, at Newton Centre.

Wm. H. Hughes was refused permission to transfer a gasoline permit to 1276 Boylston street.

Elmer B. Wilcox of Newton was drawn as a grand juror, and William S. Ball of Newton, Frank W. Remick of West Newton, Thomas Kellar of West Newton and Frank W. Lane of Newton Centre as traverse jurors.

NEW CITY GOVERNMENT

Little Interest Taken in the Inauguration of Mayor and Aldermen for 1920

HON. EDWIN O. CHILDS
Inaugurated Mayor for Fourth Term

The city government for 1920 was inaugurated yesterday afternoon at City Hall without fuss and feathers, six new aldermen taking their seats and one new member of the school committee.

Mayor Childs took the oath of office for a fourth term, gave some good advice to the new members of the board, outlined some of the needs of the city which would have to be considered, gave the oath of office to the members elect of the aldermen and school committee, and thus started the wheels moving for the 47th year of municipal government.

The old board met at two o'clock, passed one or two routine and unimportant orders and adjourned sine die.

At three o'clock, City Clerk Grant called the new board to order and Alderman Forknall was chosen temporary chairman. The roll call showed that only Alderman Clement was absent. Aldermen Goodwin, Rogers and Hollis were a committee to escort the Mayor to the hall, and returned almost immediately with Mayor Childs, Senator Thomas Weston, Jr., and Rev. Robert L. Rae of the North Church. Mr. Rae offered the inauguration prayer. The oath of office was then administered to Mayor Childs, by Senator Weston, a cousin.

Mayor Childs then administered the oath of office to Aldermen-elect, Henry I. Harriman and John C. Madden of ward 1, Percy M. Blake and Hubert L.

months ago, every teacher received an increase of salary at the rate of from $100 to $110 per year.

It will be of interest to the Board to know just how much actual cash for the 16 months beginning September 1st, 1919 and ending December 31st, 1920 a grade teacher should receive under the recommendation made according to the resolution which we are offering for your acceptance to-night. Note the following:

On September 1st, 1919, each teacher received increased salary of at least $100.00; on December 15th, 1919, a cash bonus of $200.00; on January 1st, 1920, she should receive additional annual increase of $450.00; on September 1st, 1920, in many cases, further annual increase of $50.00; this makes a total of $800.00; $600 of which is an increase in the rate of salary paid and $200 is bonus.

In other words, the average salary of the grade teacher for the school year 1919-1920 would be about 70 per cent. above that paid during the school year 1918-1919, plus cash bonus of $200.

A comparison also was made of salaries paid in 1914 with those to be paid during the year 1920.

The total amount expended by the School Department for teacher's salaries in 1914 was $256,019.91. According to the recommendations of the Finance Committee, the total amount that the School Department will receive for increasing salaries during the year 1920, in excess of the amount expended in 1914 is: $264,268.29; or a trifle over 103 per cent. for 1920 over 1914.

Since 1914 the grade teachers have each had an increase in their salary rate, up to and including September, 1919, of $287.00. In 1914 the average was about $763.00 and the Committee believes that with the appropriation it recommends, the School Committee will be able to pay grade teachers during the year 1920 an average of between $1500 and $1550, or an increase of nearly 100 per cent. over 1914, plus the addition to be taken care of by the appropriation to be available September 1st, 1920.

The foregoing is offered in order to demonstrate that under the recommendations of the Finance Committee, our teachers are going to receive a very substantial increase, one that the Committee feels is fair to the teachers, fair to the City and fair to the School Department. Newton will rank ahead of any other City in Massachusetts, with the possible exception of Boston and Brookline and there is a probability that the average teacher in Newton will be better paid than the Brookline teacher.

It is important to bear in mind in making comparison with Brookline that its assessed valuation per thousand pupils is more than double what it is in Newton.

If the budget request for the School Department for 1920 is granted it will increase:

Our total city current expenses, 51.72 per cent. increase; our school current expenses, 124.03 per cent. increase; cost per pupil (average of the whole) 97.2 per cent. increase; cost per pupil in the Vocational High School, 102.5 per cent. increase; teachers' salary per pupil, Vocational High School, 112.00 per cent. increase; amount per $1000 valuation for current school expenses, 75.63 per cent. increase.

Now compare with the above, the following:

The average number of pupils for the fiscal year has increased since 1914 13.96 per cent.; the population has increased, 9.98 per cent.; the valuation of real and tangible personal property per capita has increased, 16.95 per cent.; the valuation same property has increased, 26.63 per cent.; the valuation per pupil has increased, 12.3 per cent.

It is the function of the Aldermen as distinct from the function of the School Committee, to consider and pass upon the expenses of all of the Departments of the City, and also to consider the effect of their action upon the tax rate.

In making into consideration the proposed advances in the School Department salaries and the City Departmental increases for 1920, it looks as though the City will face an increase in the tax rate of between 6 and 7 per cent. for the year 1920. Our present tax rate is $19.80. This jump in taxes is going to fall on rich and poor and if the rate in Newton should go to $25 or $26 on the thousand next year, many citizens in Newton owning moderate amounts of real estate and tangible property may find it a serious matter. And all of this additional taxation must be levied on real and tangible personal property.

The tax on intangible personal property is paid to the State by the citizens of Newton only part of which is returned to the City. Newton's proportion of this income tax grows less in the coming years, so that as our municipal expenditures must in large degree be taken care of by local taxation, the burden to be borne by real estate and tangible personal property must steadily increase in the years to come.

The Committee gave consideration to all available data as to school teacher's salaries now being paid and to be paid in 1920 in other cities and towns in the Commonwealth. From the best information available, it is its opinion that the larger compensation recommended will place the teaching force of Newton on a much higher salary basis than any other city or town in the state, with the possible exception of Boston and Brookline, and we will be very, very close to them.

Very interesting and instructive figures have been obtained as to the maximum salaries for grade teachers already granted by other cities and towns in the State, that have taken action upon increased pay to teachers. The following maximum have been suggested by the following cities and towns:

Brookline, $1900 to $2000; Boston, $1752; Springfield, $1440 to $1550; Worcester, $1600; Dedham, $1400; Cambridge, $1600 to $1650; Somerville, $1450; Milton, $1550; Winchester, $1400 to $1500.

If the increase of $600 requested by the School Board were granted, the average salary of the grade teacher in Newton would be approximately $1550, and this average would be higher than any of the maximum thus far provided for by other cities with the exception of Brookline and Boston, and your Committee feels that it would be unwise for Newton to take such drastic action at this time. Any city or town which has granted to its teachers an average increase or bonus of $800 in a period of sixteen months, is certainly acting with generosity towards its teachers.

The Committee also had referred to it by the Board, the report of the Aldermanic Committee on Schools. The Finance Committee desires to express to the standing committee on schools its appreciation of the exhaustive study given to the salary question by that Committee and the great help it has been to the Finance Committee. The latter is thoroughly in accord with the Committee on Schools as to its fundamental recommendations, especially in respect to a reclassification of teachers and this Committee is strongly of the opinion that some reclassification should be made entirely upon the basis of the present cost of living, or upon the data on that subject supplied by the Committee on Schools. Many other factors, such as those outlined in the foregoing, must be given due weight, including also the question of supply and demand, which must in large measure determine the future of salaries.

The resolution which the Finance Committee is offering to the Board and for which it asks their approval, is in line with the request of His Honor, the Mayor, that in view of present conditions, it was of importance that this year's Board endeavor to fix, in so far as it could, the compensation of teachers and other City employees for the year 1920. We are advised by the City Solicitor that this resolution as far as this Board can go. When it comes to making the actual appropriation next year, we sincerely trust that the recommendations of this Board will be helpful, to the new members especially, in arriving at a decision.

It is pertinent to remark that only six months ago the Boston school teachers requested an increase of $288. In October or thereabouts, the Boston school committee recommended $384, an amount which the Boston Finance Commission said was $96 too large.

The Finance Committee yields to none in its appreciation of the vitally important labors of our teachers. It recognizes their great responsibilities in training the future citizens of our land and desires to accord to them well merited appreciation. Finally, let us emphasize the fact that in making these recommendations, the Committee has done so thoroughly impressed with the seriousness of the situation. Its conclusions have been arrived at after painstaking study and survey of all facts and conditions. When these appropriations have been made and the very much larger salaries have been established, we believe they will be found liberal and fair. The City of Newton should thereafter be in a position to demand and pay for the best available talent for our School Department of which we are all so proud.

The Committee, therefore, with the approval of His Honor, the Mayor recommends that it be:

RESOLVED; that the amount to be appropriated for the use of the School Department for increasing salaries of teachers, administrative officers and clerks, for the year 1920, should be fixed as follows:

$149,925 for regular schools to be available on or after January 1st, 1920; $10,100 for regular schools to be available on or after September 1st, 1920; $10,368.75 for vocational schools to be available on or after January 1st, 1920; $3,175 for vocational schools to be available on or after September 1st, 1920. Total, $164,568.75.

Alderman Blake Report

Realizing the importance of the circumstances which prompted the reference of these requests, a great deal of study has been given to the claims of the teachers that they are all now inadequately paid and that existing salary discrepancies and differentials are unjust. The Committee finds:

1. There are now on the regular teaching force payrolls 232 women and 60 men, 342 in all.

2. An increase in all salaries of the 342 teachers by applying flat rates of $600 and $1000 respectively for women and men will make an aggregate increase in the payrolls of $229,200.

3. The present payroll of these same teachers is $431,274; adding the teachers' request, $229,200, the payroll will be increased to $660,474.

4. By virtue of an agreement entered into by the School Committee in 1914, payroll increases have been held in check by a limitation to the increases of pupils in the schools. Limited increments of increase have been occasionally granted, but with the effect of placing the teaching forces in 1918 in the class of underpaid employees.

5. The increased cost of living has been carefully analyzed by the Committee with the following result. The average cost today in Newton of board with room, clothing, laundry and sundries, of the returns from eleven women teachers for these essential items is $1156.82; of ten selected Newton women, competent judges but not teachers, is $1122.60. The average of these two amounts is $1139.71. The cost of these essentials has risen, since 1914, 73 per cent., which gives a value in 1914 of $660. From the same returns the average of the total cost of living for one year in Newton is for the eleven teachers $1588.91; from the Newton women $1644. The Committee believes that the cost may fairly be taken as $1600, leaving a margin of $461 above the cost of $1139.71 of the essentials before named. Taking the cost of the essentials in 1914 as $660 and adding $461, the cost of living for the year in 1914 was $1121 or $467 less than the average of the estimates of the eleven teachers for 1919. The Committee believes this fairly represents the increase in the living costs of teachers over 1914. In the estimate submitted, four teachers only will receive an increase less than $467, two of these being in lowest trial class whose service teachers cannot exceed ten months, and two ranking as to present salary at $1850 and $2900 per year.

6. The present payrolls of the teachers in all the schools contain an aggravating and unscientific irregularity in salaries, in which standing by merit is subordinated by limited appropriations in the past. Differences in the salaries paid to teachers doing practically the same work in quality and amount exist all along the scale. In the elementary schools there are 38 different salaries, distributed over 234 regular teachers; in the high schools 34, distributed over 105 regular teachers.

7. The average salary of the 215 women teachers in the elementary schools is now $1010.07, eighty-five receiving less. The average salary of the 67 women teachers in the high schools is now $1265.81, thirty-three receiving less. The average salary of the 19 men teachers in the elementary schools is now $2021.05, nine receiving less. The average salary of the 41 men teachers in the high schools is now $2217.07, twenty-seven receiving less.

8. The Committee after a most careful study of the present teachers' register and information furnished from and by the office of the Superintendent of Schools submits condensed revisions of the payrolls of the two school divisions, each, by classification, showing where it may profitably be done, a grouping of teachers to accord with the salary revisions forming the basis for the Committee's recommendation. The average salary for the 215 women teachers in the elementary schools is raised to $1530.70, a gain in the average of $520.63. The 19 men teachers, $2716.31, a gain in the average of $705.26.

For the high schools the raised averages are, for the 67 women teachers $1800, forty-three receiving more, a gain in the average of $534.20. For the 41 men teachers $2814.63, a gain in the average of $597.56 more than this average.

12. The grouping of teachers in these tables has for its immediate objects, first the rescue of the school department from its present unsatisfactory, unscientific and unjust classification of teachers. The present payrolls contain 72 different salaries; the Committee's classification reduces the number of salaries to 28 and the salaries are so graded in ascension as to make it easy to place a teacher where merit in efficiency and experience indicate.

Second, the showing of the amount of increase resulting from the groupings which the Committee believes is warranted at this time, as compared with the demands of the teachers. The advances footed in the two tables are for the elementary teachers $125,335; for the high schools $64,391; the sum of the two $189,726, or $39,474 less than $229,200 proposed in the estimate of the School Committee.

N. H. S. HOCKEY

The Newton High School hockey team was defeated by an alumni team Saturday on Bulboughs Pond. The score was 9-3. Lack of team practice by both put the work up to the individual players, and as a result the alumni stars piled up the points.

The game, from start to finish, except for a short time in the first period, was one of low-scoring dashes up and down the rink, hardly any passes, being made by either team during the whole game. Faulty goal tending by the Newton High team was largely responsible for its being beaten.

The alumni team was composed of Davidson, Scott, Leete, O'Malley, Vaughn, Owen, Richmond and Jewell.

AUTHOR'S READING

DOUBLE WEDDING

On Saturday afternoon, December 13th, Misses Edith E. Guttererson and Mary Esther Guttererson were married at a pretty double wedding in Milford, N. H., to Mr. Clement R. Stinson and Mr. Clarence N. Howard. The wedding was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Hayward on the Wilton road and was attended by many friends and relatives of the young people.

Rev. Mason W. Sharp of the Methodist Church was the clergyman and the attendants were Mrs. Florence Harper of Newtonville, a sister of the brides, and Wells A. Howard.

The home was prettily decorated with evergreens. A white bell suspended from an arch of evergreen made canopy over the wedding party.

The two brides were both attired in white satin trimmed with rose buds, and each carried roses. Mrs. Harper also wore white satin.

After the ceremony there was a reception at which the brides' cake was cut and refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Stinson and Mr. and Mrs. Howard then left in a shower of confetti for Boston, where they took the boat to New York.

The brides are the daughters of the late Marcus and Amy Guttererson and since the death of their parents, Miss Esther has made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Hayward, and Miss Edith has been living in Newtonville.

Mr. Stinson was in military service during the war in the S. A. T. C.

Mr. Howard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard of Mt. Vernon, N. H.

SANTA CLAUS AT CHANNING CHURCH

Parents and friends of the Channing Sunday School as well as the children themselves spent a most enjoyable evening Monday night at Channing Church. A supper preceded the entertainment in charge of Mrs. Robert E. Mandell. Santa Claus (David Grant) gave an exhibition of dolls which he claimed to have gathered from all parts of the world. The dolls were represented by George Deffen, the Captain; Marion Mellus, the French doll; Caroline Hodgson, the dancing doll; Nancy Mandell, the rag doll; Ann Scofield, the Japanese doll.

"Winklin, Blinkin, and Nod" from Holland were represented by Elizabeth Scofield, Alice Deffen, and Lucille Deffen and the Chinese doll by Mary Louise Harrington.

Each doll came forward and when wound up by Santa Claus sang or recited a piece.

Santa Claus then placed her carefully in the background, and brought out his next doll.

After the doll exhibition Mr. Ralph W. Angier auctioned off the dolls to members of the audience amid much fun and laughter. Strange to say many little girls and boys were bought at fabulous sums by their own parents.

Following the auctioning, Santa Claus distributed gifts from the Christmas tree.

BRAE BURN CLUB

Nearly 800 people attended the first skating carnival of the season at the Brae Burn Club Monday night. Many small dinner parties preceded the dancing. A band from Cambridge furnished music for those who skated.

While the Colonial Singing Orchestra provided for those within doors. Long strings of colored lanterns added greatly to the enjoyment as well as bonfires along the banks. Special exhibition dances were given by Mr. and Mrs. Niles, and by Miss Louise Wells.

The committee in charge were Mr. Edward F. Woods, Mr. Henry W. Forbes, Mr. Carl P. Dennett, and Mr. Frank B. Withers.

The first of the Sunday afternoon concerts and teas was well attended last Sunday. Next Sunday the music will be furnished by Mrs. Lillian Hayes Walker and by special Symphonies players.

SCOUT PLAY

The children of the Pomroy Home were the guests of the Girl Scout Troop No. 2 at Channing Church last Saturday afternoon.

The troop gave a play called "Hope Foster's Christmas Star." The principal parts were taken by Katherine White, who was "David" the newspaper boy, Alice Williams who was "Jan," and Mary McPherson who was "Hope Foster."

Following the play there were games in charge of Mrs. Wells E. Holmes, Miss Evelyn Cummings, and Mrs. C. L. Pearson. Refreshments and candy were distributed by Mrs. Frank A. Day.

Miss Evelyn Cummings, former captain of the troop, was presented with a very beautiful badge by the members of Troop 2.

A GOOD PLEDGE

Members of the Good Cheer Club, founded by Blanche E. Herbert, editor of the Good Cheer Book, make the following pledge:

To promote Happiness, Efficiency, and Civic Welfare, I sincerely promise that wherever I am, I will talk Health instead of sickness. I will talk Prosperity instead of failure.

I will carry Good News instead of bad news. I will tell the Cheerful Tale instead of the sad tale.

I will mention My Blessings instead of my burdens. I will speak of the Sunshine of yesterday and tomorrow, instead of the clouds of today.

I will Encourage instead of criticize. I will be a Friend to every one.

CITY HALL

The annual dinner of the retiring mayor and board of aldermen will be held this evening at the Hotel Avery.

At a caucus of the 1920 board of aldermen held Monday evening, President Henry I. Hartman was renominated, Alderman Reuben Forkna' named for vice president, and City Clerk Grant City Treasurer Newhall and Clerk of Committees Brimblecom were endorsed for re-election.

EMBODIED THE GERMAN IDEA

Mother of the Great Napoleon Might Well Be Described as Typical Teuton "Hausfrau."

Probably the only marble bust of Napoleon's mother was one of the objects that the Potsdam palace counted its most interesting relic. For beside the bust the visitor came upon a small library every title of which relates to the Bonaparte family. This collection is vaguely accounted for as the fruit of Blucher's capture of the emperor's personal luggage, beside the seizure of most of the Bonaparte family when the empire fell in 1814.

Prussian agents in Paris during the various revolutionary outbreaks are credited with "assembling" anything identified with Bonaparte or his family. One volume, the alleged "Memoirs of Madame Mere," (the mother of Bonaparte) was specially cherished by the Hohenzollerns, for old Kaiser Wilhelm caused the chapters to be read to him when too ill to share the soldier drills and army maneuvers. The Kaiser's interest in the Madame Mere reminiscences was that Laetitia Ramonini, as pictured by herself, was an exact type of the Teuton "Hausfrau." It was a never-ending embarrassment to the children of Madame Mere that the old lady couldn't be induced to assume an imperial state; that she remained to the last the sagacious, economical housewife, upon whom rested the responsibility of bringing up a brood of eight.

President McGaffee in commenting on this distribution to all employees, compared the present business with the modest business of twenty-four years ago when the nucleus of the present great factory was erected in the heart of a district then practically without industries. The directors anticipate a 1920 of continued cooperation and look forward to the greatest volume of business with resultant benefits to employees, in the history of the company.

"EXTRA WAGES" GIVEN

In recognition of loyalty and continuous service, the Board of Directors of the Thomas G. Plant Company yesterday announced a distribution amongst employees in all departments, of "extra wages." This distribution is in addition to a previous one made last July. A notice which accompanied the present distribution points out that extra wages will also be distributed on July 1 and December 31, 1920.

This company is now making more than 11,000 pairs of women's medium and fine shoes a day at the mammoth factory in Jamaica Plain, and production is increasing so steadily that they plan to make an additional 1,000 pairs daily each month for the next four months, bringing production up to 15,000 pairs a day in April. These plans mean the employment of many additional skilled shoeworkers and will materially aid the prosperity of Roxbury, Jamaica Plain and Boston.

Six members of the 1919 Board of Aldermen retired from public service yesterday, four of whom have held that office for four years each. Alderman George M. Angier of Waban has been chairman of the Finance Committee for the past two years and a member of the committee during his entire term of service. The chairmanship of this committee has always been held by able men, but Mr. Angier has set a new and higher standard, if such a thing is possible. With large business interests of his own, he has been unsparing of his time where city affairs were concerned, and his courtesy, tact and sound business judgment have been conspicuous throughout his term of service. Mr. Angier has been ably seconded by Alderman Herbert M. Cole of West Newton, who has also been a member of the Finance Committee for the past four years. Keen of mind and frank and outspoken in manner, it is safe to say that Mr. Cole always knew what he was about and was always able to back his position with facts and figures. Alderman Arthur Kendrick of Newton, a member of the Finance Committee for four years, has also been one of its strong men, although his value has been more noticeable in committee work than in the open board.

It is a curious fact that of the six men who retire, three were members of the Finance Committee and three members of the Public Works Committee. Alderman Justin A. McCarthy of West Newton who retires after four years' service because he has removed from the city, has won not only the respect, but the personal regard of all his colleagues. While Mr. McCarthy belongs to the opposite political party from a large majority of the Board, that fact has always been ignored in the aldermanic chamber, and Mr. McCarthy has been a considerable factor in the settlement of city affairs. Alderman Hermon Holt, Jr., of Newton Centre, has been handicapped throughout his two years of service with poor health, and has not been able to take an active part in city matters. Alderman George M. Hearsh of Newton Lower Falls, the only alderman defeated for re-election had won for himself a warm place in the regard of the Board. He has been unusually active for a first-year member, and had given promise of continued usefulness in the public service, a promise which we hope may be fulfilled in the future.

Mr. William M. Noble of Newton Centre is the only member of the present school committee to retire this year. The city has been fortunate that it has had the benefit of his sound business judgment and advice on the large matters affecting our public schools.

We have expressed the opinion many times before, but feel that it cannot be said too often, that the citizens of Newton should feel proud that men of the character and standing of whom we have been speaking, are ready to give their time and their abilities to the public weal. We earnestly hope that such service is appreciated and recognized by everyone in the city.

While all city affairs are usually given careful consideration by our Board of Aldermen, we do not recall any matter which has been given the painstaking research and analysis, as the proposed increase in salaries of our school teachers. Every phase has been scrutinized and considered and it is safe to say that while the action taken may not be satisfactory to everyone, it is a fair, and possibly, a liberal compromise of all the factors concerned. We print this week, the principal features of the report made by Alderman Blake, which recommends substantially, an increase of $520 for the bulk of the teachers, and a statement from the Finance Committee, which recommends substantially, $450 for the same teachers. The School Committee also submitted a proposition calling for $600 increase. The recommendation of the Finance Committee, calling for over $164,000 additional tax levy was finally approved, and carries with it, on our present valuations, an increase of over $2.00 per thousand on the tax rate. The Blake plan would have required nearly $2.40 increase in the rate, and the School Committee plan, about $2.70. When we consider that the teachers had a normal increase in salary of $100 last September, have been given $200 bonus, last month, and in addition to the $450 now granted for 1920 may receive a small increment beginning next September, a grand total increase of about $800 in sixteen months, we doubt if there will be much adverse criticism of the action taken by the average taxpayer.

In this connection, we should also note that the increased salaries recently granted the policemen, firemen, teachers, and City Hall officials and clerks, adds over $300,000 to the tax levy of 1920, and with a loss of about $40,000 in revenue due to the new distribution of the income tax, the Assessors must raise valuations to an unparalleled degree, or the tax rate will jump to new and unprecedented figures. The taxpayer of 1920 has certainly got something coming to him next fall.

Sealer Andrew Prior deserves the thanks of the community in the excellent work he has done in handling the distribution of government food and supplies in this city.

BASKET BALL

After a little break in the home schedule over the holiday season the Newton Y. team is read to swing into action for the last half of the season's schedule opening up next Wednesday night, Jan. 7, with the fast Gloucester team. This will be a good hard game as the Gloucester players gave the Boston five a close game on the latter's floor which gives some indication of their strength.

Following is the remaining schedule in part showing some of the big attractions that are in store for the lovers of the game. Jan. 14, there will be no game as there is to be a life-saving demonstration by the Boston branch of the Red Cross Life Saving Corps. This team will demonstrate the various methods of life-saving, use of the pulmotor, swimming strokes of all kinds, plain and fancy diving. Ladies admitted. No admission charged. Jan. 21 the speedy Bridgewater Club will be the attraction. Jan. 23, the State Champions from Springfield will come for a return game. Feb. 4, Dean Academy plays here, and Feb. 11, the strong Lowell team comes to Newton. These are all first class teams and will be well worth seeing in action. The balance of the schedule will be given out later.

Pratt, ward 6, Theodore E. Jewell and Bancroft L. Goodwin, ward 7 and to members elect of the School Committee, Mrs. Harriet M. Peabody, ward 3 and Salmon W. Wilder, ward 6.

The Mayor presided while Alderman Henry I. Harriman was re-elected president of the board and then retired.

President Harriman after thanking the board for the honor conferred upon him, paid a flattering tribute to the aldermen who had just retired from the board and gave a short resume of the work of the committee on a Soldiers' Memorial. Alderman Reuben Forknall was then elected vice-president. City Treasurer Newhall was re-elected for the 16th year. City Clerk Grant for his 10th year of service and Clerk of Committees Brimblecom for his 23rd year.

The rules of the board were changed so that the committee on Schools will hereafter be called the committee on Education, and President Harriman then appointed these committees:

Finance, Allen, chairman, Carter, Forknall, Nichols, Phipps, Rogers and Spaulding.

Public Works, Clement, chairman, Blake, Harriman, Goodwin, McAuslan, Whidden and Young.

Franchises and Licenses, Hollis, chairman, Cook, Hickey, Jewell, Madden, Morse, and Pratt.

Claims and Rules, Spaulding, chairman, Clement, Madden, Morse and Nichols.

Legislation, Nichols, chairman, Allen, Blake, Hollis, Harriman, Phipps and Rogers.

Mayor's Address, Goodwin, chairman, Carter, Forknall, Pratt and Spaulding.

Education, Blake, chairman, Goodwin and McAuslan.

Kenrick Fund, Forknall, chairman, Cook, and Hickey.

Orders were passed establishing office hours for City Hall, authorizing temporary loans of $2,117,000, for the observance of Feb. 23rd, for printing the Mayor's Address, for $2,337.62 for Water Dept. expenses in 1919 and establishing the fees for sale of used automobiles at $10 for class 1, $25 for class 2 and $50 for class 3.

Automobile licenses were then granted to the Newton Highlands Garage, Newton Auto Sales Co., Newton Garage and Automobile Co., Liberty Motor Mart, W. J. Furbush, class 1, to J. C. Heffron, Clark and Coffin, Newton Centre Garage, Nonantum Garage, Lillie and MacComman, class 2, and to Kligman Bros., J. D. McMullin, West Newton Auto-Repairing Co. and Samuel Bram, class 3.

An auctioneer license was granted to W. C. Hatch.

The board then adjourned to January 19th.

CHRISTMAS FESTIVAL

The Christmas Festival of Grace Church School, was held on Christmas eve. The exercises this year took the form of a Christmas Mystery Play, or Pageant. Over the chancel was an electric star, and underneath it, was a manger filled with hay, from which proceeded a light which lighted up the darkened church: Christ the Light of the World. The Virgin Mother was represented by Miss Edna Banks, who was garbed in appropriate costume, and with the light from the manger shining upon her in the dim church, looked like a picture of the Middle Ages. The angels were represented by Edith Gillies, Eleanor Anderson, Grace Sutcliffe, Eleanor Smith, Eleanor Wheeler, Eleanor Painter, and Annette Switzer. They sang the angelic songs very sweetly, Grace Sutcliffe taking the seraph's solo. The shepherds paid their visit to the manger, represented by Dawson Alexander, Raymond Hill and Edward Nealley. The wise men who came from the rear of the church, bringing their gifts to be laid in the manger, were William Hanson, James Townsend and J. H. Buffum. Their songs and costumes were very effective. Then, while a beautiful pageant was formed by the mother, the shepherds and the wise men, with the angels bearing great lighted tapers, the church school came forward by classes, and laid their gifts, which were to support two French orphans for the year 1920, in the manger. After the distribution of candy and gifts to the scholars the service was concluded by the rector, Rev. Dr. Laurens MacLure.

GIRL SCOUTS CHRISTMAS ACTIVITIES

Christmas Time was a busy time for Troop IV, of Waban. At the meeting preceding Christmas, the girls made 120 "stocking bags" which they filled with candy. Half of these bags were taken by Captain Burdett and the girls of Patrol A to "The House of Goodwill," a settlement house in South Boston, where the girls entertained a very little foreign children at their Christmas party. They gave a short play, told stories, sang, and gave out the candy bags. The rest of the bags were taken by nine Scouts and their Captain to the Peabody Home for Crippled Children in Hyde Park. There they repeated their entertainment for thirty of the little inmates of the home and then the Scouts visited 20 little children who were on frames. These children had previously sold one of the nurses what they most wanted for Christmas, "These wishes" were passed on to Troop IV, and as far as possible the Scouts procured them, from dolls to red automobiles, and they were given to the children on Christmas Day. Besides this, two of the Scouts in Troop IV, gave a number of children, not as fortunate as they, a happy Christmas. They provided a splendid dinner for a poor family and gave each one of the eight children a present. This is the report of only one troop. The other troops have been active too, and a number of families who might otherwise have been passed by, learned that Santa Claus had not forgotten them.

Upper Falls

—Mrs. Henry Morse, of High street, is seriously ill at the Newton Hospital.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Buckley, formerly of this village, are the parents of a newly arrived baby son.

—Mrs. and Mrs. John Lucas, of Belmont, spent Christmas with Mrs. A. Lucas of Keefe avenue.

—Mrs. Mary Martin of Providence spent the holidays with her mother, Mrs. Bracelin of Elliot street.

—Master Henry Heald, of Camden, N. J., is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Heald, of Pennsylvania avenue.

—Mr. James Moran of Ellis street, is reported ill at the Newton Hospital with a severe attack of bronchitis.

—A Christmas tree for the children was held at the Twombly House on Wednesday afternoon. Gifts were distributed, and games were played followed by refreshments.

—On Dec. 24, a still alarm was rung for a fire in a stock room of the New Eng. Tel. and Tel. Co., 427 Cheney street. The cause was spontaneous combustion. Timely discovery prevented a serious fire.

—An alarm was rung from Box 615 Tuesday for a fire in a house owned and occupied by Mrs. R. T. Sullivan of 300 Elliot street. Mrs. Sullivan was burned about the head and arms and was attended by Dr. McOwen. The cause of the fire was unknown.

—A very entertaining Christmas dinner was held at the Stone Institute Christmas Day. Every member of the home was able to participate in the festivities, and the turkey and good things provided by thoughtful friends. The distribution of gifts and a small prayer service was held Christmas Eve.

DEATH OF MR. FIRTH

William Firth, one of the leading importers of textile machinery in this country and Canada, died Saturday night at his home, The Grange, in Chestnut Hill. His last illness was comparatively brief, although his health had not been of the best for three or four years.

Mr. Firth was born in Yorkshire, Eng., and was in his sixty-third year. As a young man he worked in cotton mills in his native country. He came to the United States in the eighties and established an importing company in Boston about thirty years ago. In his earlier days as an importer, Mr. Firth made frequent trips to England, and travelled extensively through the United States and Canada.

Winchester was the first home of Mr. Firth in this country. After living there for several years he decided to return to England, where he built a costly stone house near the place of his birth. America seemed to have too strong a call upon him, however, and presently he returned to the United States, and built at Chestnut Hill another stone house, a reproduction of the one he had left in England, and called his new estate The Grange. He was, moreover, a naturalized American citizen, and a staunch admirer of Lincoln and Roosevelt.

In England, Mr. Firth was a member of the same Masonic lodge with which the late King Edward was affiliated; and in this country he had membership in the Dalhousie Lodge in Newtonville and in the DeMolay Commandery, Knights Templars. His clubs were The Country Club of Brookline, the Algonquin, the Exchange, the Boston Athletic Association, and he was a member also of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company.

Soon after the beginning of the great war, Mr. Firth became greatly interested in the cause of the Belgian refugees in England, and co-operating with his daughter, Mrs. Richard Hawthorth, whose home is near Manchester, England, both he and his wife gave practically all their time to collecting clothing and money for these war sufferers. Indeed it may be said too much to say that Mr. Firth retired from his importing business, when the war began, to give all his efforts to the export of war relief supplies.

Mrs. Firth, Mrs. Hawthorth and a grandson are Mr. Firth's only survivors.

At the funeral services held Tuesday afternoon at the First Church (Unitarian) in Chestnut Hill, Rev. Addison Moore, D.D., officiated and the church choir sang the hymns "Abide With Me" and "Peace, Perfect Peace."

The congregation was seated by the following named ushers: Allen C. Browne, John Wylder, Jr., Campbell Patterson and Russell H. Johnson; and the honorary pallbearers were the friends of Mr. Firth; William West of New Bedford; Joseph J. Smith, Alexander S. Brown, John Wylder, Frank L. Nagle, F. B. Comins, A. L. Hathaway, Albert G. Duncan, Franklin W. Hobbs and William Reed. Burial was in Walnut Hill Cemetery at Chestnut Hill.

Newton Centre

—Rev. and Mrs. Edward M. Noyes held an informal reception at their home on Laurel street, New Year's Eve.

—The Newton Circle will meet at the First Church at 2 o'clock on January 13th. Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett will be the speaker. Mrs. Barrett is President of the National Florence Crittenton League, and has been connected with the War Service Bureau.

—The annual parish supper, followed by the annual meeting of the parish, will be held next Tuesday evening, January 6. The supper will be at 6.30, and to it every adult person in the parish is invited. At the parish meeting after the supper, the annual reports will be made by all the organizations of the parish; and the results of the recent Every Member Canvass will be announced.

—The Children's Festival of Trinity Church last Saturday was much enjoyed by all, both young and old. Mrs. Colony's stories delighted the younger children, and the carols and Christmas tree, and refreshments added to the joy of the occasion. In the evening the older children were very much entertained by the magician who was secured by Mr. Barrett, the Superintendent, with the generous aid of a kind friend of the parish.

—The Festival of Lights, or Candle Lighting Service, will be held in Trinity Church next Sunday evening, January 4, at 7.15 o'clock. Everybody is invited, including the children. Every person in the church, child or adult, will be given a candle.

The service is a symbol of the spread of the Light of the World. Everybody gives the light. The motto of the service is: "See how far that candle casts its beam; so far does a good deed shine in this naughty world."

—Mr. Harold L. Bond of Beacon street is president of the Waldo Bros. Bond Co., of Boston, a merger of the two well known firms of Waldo Bros. and the Harold L. Bond Co.

—An entertainment under the auspices of the Waban Women's Club and the Neighborhood Club will be given at the club house next Wednesday evening, January 7th consisting of a dramatization of Robert Burns, "The Cotter's Saturday Night."

It is a charming rendition of the old, old story, and is a healthy and elevating inspiration and wholesome flavor of its songs, and lines—in marked contrast to the prevailing flavor of the comedies, plays and moving pictures so popular today. It has been dramatized so as to produce the general environment of a Scottish home of thrift, contentment, piety and neighborly kindness, as a background for a group of old Scottish songs. The costumes are of the home-spun or Bannockburn type. All the characters are well suited to their parts, making the situation depicted true to life.

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

"Thrifty," as a term, has supplanted "Conservation," the watchword of the war. Words constantly on the lips often fall, lose their force and fail of their object through over use, until the careless or thoughtless person says she is tired to death of its sound and doesn't want to have anything more to do with it. Yet, when rightly understood Thrift is the only potent factor which will solve the over present problem, the High Cost of Living. Americans have ever been lavish spenders but even this habit may not be a sin, for there is a certain amount of truth in the statement that it is good to keep money in circulation. The crux of the whole question is to know how the money goes, whether one is getting a fair return for the investment, or whether one may not get better results from spending more money in one way and saving it in another. Thrift does not mean penuriousness, it means careful spending and getting the most out of one's money and one's possessions generally, while at the same time having something in reserve for a rainy day.

Mention has already been made in this column of the nation-wide thrift movement on the part of the Government and of the head workers among the women's organizations of this State. One hundred and seventy-five clubs have now appointed Thrift chairmen, who are at work on various phases of the problem. Winchester has already held a Thrift Exhibit and yesterday and today a comprehensive one has been going on in Somerville. Among the features of this latter exhibit may be mentioned, Children's Table, canning, sugarless cookery, War Savings booth for sale of stamps, Milk Campaign exhibit, Booth with budget expert for consultation, Booths illustrating household management, household care, food, clothing, Personal Adventures in Thrift by Somerville women; Lectures each day on thrift and budgeting. In Newton Mrs. J. C. S. Taber has been the chairman of the Newton Federation committee with the Thrift chairmen of the local clubs as the other members. Mrs. Taber has just become the chairman for the Sixth District to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Denison.

The course of lectures on Budget Making which begins next Wednesday at the Technical high school is lined up with this thrift work, originally planned for one club and now opened to all club women. No woman having the best interests of her family at heart can afford to miss them.

The best of New Years to all readers!

Local Happenings

An innovation in the shape of a jolly Christmas party was the order of the day at the meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, last Friday afternoon. A gayly decorated Christmas tree laden with gifts, one for each member and one brought by each member for the club, added to the merriment of the would-be children. Games usual to these occasions, the singing of Christmas carols and a Virginia reel filled the afternoon. The gifts for the club included much needed articles, such as chairs, samoviar, baskets, cases and the like, for the use in the tea room.

At the meeting of the Waban Woman's Club, held on Monday, Mrs. Dana M. Dutch presided in the absence of both the President and Vice-President of the club. Mention was made of Thrift Week, which begins January 17. Following the short business meeting a young man, Laurice Goudette, who is a pupil of Miss Beatrice Holbrook, rendered two piano selections. Rev. A. M. Ribbany of Boston spoke of his experiences at the Peace Conference. Mr. Ribbany is in authority on the problems of Syria and Armenia, and his talk was most instructive and interesting. The regular meeting will be held on Monday afternoon, January 12th, when President Mary E. Wooley of Mt. Holyoke College will lecture on "Women and Reconstruction Problems" and Mrs. Gifford LeClear will sing a group of songs.

The Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. had a delightful afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred R. Hayward, Centre street. It being one of the club's Special Days the regular order of things was put aside and an entertainment was substituted. Among other things pictures of the members at an early age were exhibited upon the screen and an account was given of each. Refreshments were served.

On Tuesday morning the Auburndale Club had a most interesting morning under the direction of Mrs. R. L. Bridgman, who presented a paper on Mazzini. Miss Bridgman gave an account of Cavour and Mrs. Turner, who substituted for Mrs. Hildreth, who is out of town, took Garibaldi. Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Nelson Freeman added piano duets.

BIRD CLASS

Miss Margaret Tucker, leader of the Bird Class of the Community and Social Service Club, appeals to the members of her class and to the public in general to help our helpers the birds, now during the winter and offers the following suggestions:

John Burroughs says that it is doubtful if the tiniest of the winter birds ever freeze "if fuel enough can be had to keep their little furnaces going." When we provide suit or seeds and nuts for winter birds we are helping them through their critical times when (1) extreme temperatures make extra fuel essential or (2) when ice storms or deep snow make the natural food supply difficult or impossible to get.

But beside helping the birds and giving ourselves the pleasure of their companionship, we are actually helping our whole community. We are cooperating to maintain a corps of active workers in our behalf. Birds are our best allies against two serious enemies to our food supply, our forest and shade trees, our lawns and hay crops—in fact, every growing thing by which mankind benefits. These two enemies from which birds defend us are weeds and insect pests.

In winter these hosts the birds defend us are weeds and insect pests. In winter these hosts the birds defend us are weeds and insect pests. In winter these hosts the birds defend us are weeds and insect pests.

But the birds never forget. It is just their time to steal a march on these sleeping pests. And all day and every day we can see our bird allies right now by our houses here in Newton hunting the enemy out. Some search the tree trunks, the bark, or cavities, others, the twigs, for insect eggs, scale insects, or grubs hidden under the bark. The tree patrol consists of the woodpeckers, chickadees, nuthatches, creepers, and ringlets. On the ground slate-colored juncos and their brown-clad cousins, the native winter sparrows, attack the weed seeds.

In case you are not doing your bit for these industrious little workers, get busy once. Fasten some suet or better still, some "cod-fat" which is not so crumbly to tree branches; tie a large bone with strong twine so it will hang from a horizontal limb. Besides bits of meat left on the bone fasten on some cod-fat in a coarse-meshed netting. This the English sparrows find it hard to utilize while most native birds can feel from it easily. Put up bird houses of which there are many good ones.

If you need information write or go to the State Ornithologist, State House, Boston, or to the Audubon Society, 66 Newbury street, Boston, or the Class Leader will be glad to give information.

"How to Make Friends with the Birds," by Niel Morrow Ladd, Doubleday, Page & Co., is a compact little pocket manual of practical bird lore and full of information and suggestion.

Margaret Tucker, Class Leader.

Editor of the Graphic

Is juvenile crime increasing in Newton?

I have lived for considerably over a third of a century in our attractive city and have considered it remarkably free from all grades of crime, especially juvenile, but last Friday my new galvanized iron ash barrel disappeared from the sidewalk between dark and 7 o'clock; a week or two ago a baby carriage, kindly loaned for a child temporarily staying with us, disappeared over night from under a tree near the side door where it happened to be left, and three or four weeks ago a galvanized iron coal full of refuse tin cans, etc., was taken from the sidewalk like the barrel of last week. As for apples and cherries, being picked by boys, who cross the lawn against requests to the contrary, that is an older story, but are we drifting even here toward the borders of Bolshevism? It behooves parents and neighbors to be watchful of their boys.

Pageantry and New Movements in the Theatre.

1920, the four hundredth anniversary of the coming of the Pilgrims, rouses New England to thoughts of celebration. The increasing use of pageants in historical and community events suggests the probable form of this celebration, which so strengthens the community spirit. The subject of pageantry is most completely treated by Mary Porter Beegle and Jack Randall Crawford in "Community drama and pageantry" (VUL-B39). The value of this book is greatly enhanced by selected bibliographies on pageant and festival origins, open-air theatres, acting, pantomime, costume, color, dance, music, and pageant texts.

"American pageantry" (VUS3-D37) well supplements this more academic treatment with its many suggestive illustrations of successful pageants. Closely related to the interest in pageantry is the new movement in the theatre—indeed several books include discussions of both. The "History of the theatre in America" (VUS3-H78) by Arthur Hornblow supplies a good background. Thomas H. Dickinson treats briefly the course of the various revolts from the old form under the title "Insurgent theatre" (VT-D56). Specific examples of the little theatre movement are cited in detail by Constance D'Arcy MacKay (VUS3-M19), while Louise Burleigh enlarges the idea of the "Community theatre" (VT-B92). Sheldon Cheney's "New movement in the theatre" (VU-C42) and Carter's "New spirit in drama and art" (VT-C24) should also be valuable in more clearly defining the new trend. Percy MacKaye enlarges upon the social element in the theatre in his book of suggestions, "The civic theatre" (VT-M19). Though dealing with the conventional theatre, Moderswells "Theatre of today" is worthwhile as it demonstrates the great advance due to a realization that the art of the theatre is the culmination of many of these "Theatre through the stage door" (VT-B41) must be particularly mentioned, both because the author David Belasco is so famous a producer and because the book is so full of entertaining sidelights and personal episodes.

BRYAN—GUILD

Miss Carolyn Guild, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Guild of Sargent street was married Saturday to Mr. Mahlon Philip Bryan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Philip Bryan of Brookline. The wedding took place at Grace Church the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Laurens MacLure, rector of Grace Church, and by the Rev. Henry Bryan of Garden City, L. I., uncle of the groom. Only the immediate members of the family were present. The bride's younger sister, Miss Mary Chester Guild, was maid of honor, while the best man was Mr. Frank Abner Merrill, Jr., of Brookline.

The bride was gowned in pearl brocade, the wedding dress of her grandmother, with old duchess trimming on dress and veil. The maid of honor wore Nile green tulle over silver and carried Killarney roses. She wore a tulle hat of the same shade.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride, which was elaborately decorated with Killarney roses. The music was furnished by members of the Symphony Orchestra.

After an extended trip through the South, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan will make their home in Philadelphia.

AUSTIN—ADAMS

Miss Marguerite H. Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Adams of Meridith avenue, Newton Highlands, was married on Christmas Day, to Mr. Fred Alonzo Austin, son of Dr. and Mrs. Alonzo B. Austin of Peterboro, N. H.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Louis A. Parsons, rector of the St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Newton Highlands.

The bride wore a gown of white silk messaline, a veil with wreath of white flowers, and carried a white prayer book, the gift of the groom.

A reception at the home of the bride followed the ceremony. The house was tastefully decorated with Christmas greens and berries.

After the wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Austin will be at home in Peterboro, N. H.

BAD FIRE

A fire which was discovered about 3 o'clock Saturday morning in the residence of Mr. Frederick S. Pratt on Highland street, West Newton, drove most of the family into the street in their night clothes, and two servants, Sarah McLaughlin and Catherine Dawson, were unable to reach the ground floor on account of the smoke and went out on the roof of a rear piazza, from whence they were taken down by ladders.

The fire started from some unknown cause in the cellar and burned through the centre of the building to the roof. Chief Randlett ordered a second alarm sounded when he arrived and it took nearly four hours of hard work for the department to extinguish the flames. The damages are estimated at $10,000.

NEWTON BRANCH SPECIAL AID

Now that the Christmas rush is over, will not more women respond to the urgent need for workers on Thursdays at the Y. M. C. A. from 9 to 5, or for home work?

Since April the Special Aid has answered requests from the Newton Hospital, Welfare Bureau, Newton Circle and District Nursing Association, and the Woman's Seaman's Friend Society, besides calls from Devastated France, Serbia, Italy and Poland. There is an immediate call for over 500 garments for the above Newton Societies, besides the War Relief work.

ADVERTISING PRICES

Newspaper advertisements are excellent agencies making for thrift, economy and wealth. They are home savings banks, handy bankbooks and not infrequently proofs against family jars and divorces. Next to the Bible they are the most important household guides ever set up.

A good advertisement is proof of the power of suggestion and the psychological potency of printer's ink mixed with brains. As a magnet attracts the needle, so a newspaper advertisement attracts the reader and draws the crowd. Suggestion creates want and want creates purchasers. There is a direct connection between the suggestion and the purchase. The extent of the purchase is in direct ratio to the power of the suggestion.

Newspaper advertisements are for the benefit of the purchaser more than for the benefit of the advertiser. This may sound strange, but it is true. That the public has not hitherto realized it is due to the fact that most persons have looked at an advertisement as they look at dry goods and articles of food. The advertisement is not the article but the idea behind it, the guideboard that leads to it, the bridge that safely carries the troubled householder or weary bread-earner to safety.

Trade-marks familiarize; figures vitalize. Prices tell the story to the prospective purchasers, and prices honestly revealed in figures usually mean good goods, fair profits and no profiteering. The result is satisfied customers. Prices made clear and prominent in a daily advertisement prohibit profiteering. Prices openly made are guarantees of a square deal. Hence the value of newspaper advertising with plain figures all can read. Prices in good newspaper advertisements are measured not by profit but by service. That is the keynote to the "ad" writer—the song he sings as he builds an attractive advertisement out of facts, figures and genius. He is society's benefactor, the country's deserving citizen, for he tells the people where they can save money, and in having money assist in saving their nation and the nation's financial and economic honor. Newspaper advertising and prices are co-partners in the great firm of Thrift, Success & Co.—New York Herald.

French Barracks Now "Y" Canteen

Before America's arrival in France this room had been used by French troops as a barracks. It is now a Y. M. C. A. canteen for our boys.

NEW BEDFORD PASTOR
AS SOLDIERS' GUIDENew England Man Shows Doughboys Wonders of Versailles

Paris—"I expected this trip to Versailles to refresh my memory on French history," remarked the Medical Corps major, "but I'd forgotten it would bring to mind a lot of American history, too."

"Yes," agreed the Lieutenant with "AO" on his shoulder, "A trip like this refreshes a fellow's memory on a lot of historical facts he never knew before."

They were two of a party of 140 officers of the United States Army and Navy who were taking the Y. M. C. A. sightseeing trip to Versailles, the most popular of all the sightseeing trips in Paris.

Every day except Mondays the Y. M. C. A. charters two special trains on which it takes an average of 800 enlisted men and from 100 to 150 officers to the beautiful palace which cost Louis XIV so much that the grumbling started among the people which culminated in the guillotining of Louis XIV. And fully ninety per cent of those men are surprised at the things of especial interest to Americans which they find in that palace of kings.

William B. Geoghegan, pastor of the First Congregational Society of New Bedford, Mass., the mentor of the twelve Y. M. C. A. guides who every day conduct these parties through Versailles, has written a lecture which largely is responsible for the interest the Americans take in the palace. Mr. Geoghegan wrote the lecture for his own use, when only about eighty men a day were visiting Versailles, and he the only guide, but it proved of such unusual interest to the American visitors that it was adopted as the model from the lectures of all the Y. M. C. A. guides there.

It was in Versailles that the treaty that established the independence of the American colonies was signed, and later it was there that Benjamin Franklin and John Jay strengthened the friendship between France and America which has lasted longer than that between any other two great nations of modern times. In the Hall of Battle is a great picture of Washington at Yorktown, and there are, of course, numerous mementoes of Lafayette, though the Lafayette memorial of greatest interest to Americans, the monument erected from a fund contributed by the school children of America, is in the gardens of the Louvre.

These and other historical facts and anecdotes of special interest to Americans Mr. Geoghegan has woven into a sympathetic and appealing talk which he gives as he leads the men from chamber to chamber.

Mr. Geoghegan's lecture is so informative that French people who can understand often attach themselves to his party instead of following the French guides, all of who are authorities on the historic interest of the palace. A French Lieutenant-colonel and three other French officers were in the party yesterday, and they not only listened with much interest but continually nodded approval. In fact, their approval was so pronounced that an "AO" Lieutenant said:

"I'll bet this 'Y' man is a French-American."

"Probably," agreed the Medical Corps Major. "He certainly has remarkable knowledge and understanding of France."

Mr. Geoghegan, however, is very much American. His home and his life work have been in Massachusetts, not merely as a minister, but as a battler for public health. It was his work before the state legislature which gave New Bedford, Mass., its tuberculosis hospital which is one of the model institutions of America, and he has given much of his work to similar efforts. He came to France in June 1918, and first served with the Foyer du Soldat on the Toul Front.

When the Americans took over the Toul sector he joined the 89th Division and served with it through all its offensive, going to the front with the first load of supplies when the division started its big push, and establishing a canteen at Beney. Beney was under fire all the time, and men were killed there every day, but Mr. Geoghegan and his associates held on and carried supplies to the men in the pits—they had had no time to dig trenches. Often they worked at night, as they could not have a fire in the day, because of the tell-tale smoke, realizing its service to the army. Even when ill with the flu, Mr. Geoghegan stuck to his post. A month after the signing of the armistice his physician ordered him to the south of France, but instead he came to Paris and took up the sightseeing work, realizing its service to the army.

"The American soldiers do not come to Paris to dissipate, but to learn all they can of its beauty and historic interest," said Mr. Geoghegan yesterday. "They are kept so busy seeing the sights that most of them have little time, as well as little inclination to go wrong. The fact that last week more than 46,000 men were served by the various Y. M. C. A. sightseeing trips in Paris is proof of the doughboys' desire to make the most of his brief stay here. America has a right to be proud."

PLYMOUTH THEATRE—An event of unusual interest to players will be the appearance at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston, on Monday night, January 5th, of Grace George, in "The Ruined Lady," a new American comedy by a new American author, Frances Nordstrom.

Admirers of Miss George will see this brilliant actress and charming comedienne at her best in a play that is described as being both human and humorous.

Miss Nordstrom, hitherto better known as an actress than as a writer for the stage, is said through "The Ruined Lady" to have come into her own as a playwright. She is said to have written an engaging comedy about engaging folk.

COPELEY THEATRE—"The Big Drum" by Sir Arthur Wing Pinero had been scheduled for production by the Henry Jewett Players earlier than this but the unprecedented success of "Charley's Aunt" at the Copley Theatre has necessarily caused a postponement of this English play, acclaimed by the London critics to be one of the best things that Pinero ever wrote.

In presenting this play to his public Mr. Jewett is seizing every opportunity to make the occasion a notable one in the history of the Henry Jewett players and nothing will be overlooked to have the performance given with every attention to the minutest detail.

WILBUR THEATRE—"Too Many Husbands" is the title of the amusing farce which is due at the Wilbur beginning Monday night, January 5th. "Too Many Husbands" was written by the celebrated dramatist, W. Somerset Maugham and at the present time is running in both New York and London. A. H. Woods produced the play in America and all the well known artists who have made it a success on Broadway will be seen and heard when the piece is given its Boston hearing. Among the principals may be mentioned Kenneth Douglas, Estelle Winwood, Lawrence Grossmith and Fritz Williams. "Too Many Husbands" has been hailed as the most brilliant bit of playwriting since Oscar Wilde's comedies. It treats humorously of the predicament of a young widow who marries a second time only to learn, a year subsequently, that her first husband was not shot in the war as had been announced.

SHUBERT THEATRE—Owing to its phenomenal success at Ye Wilbur Theatre, Boston, Stewart & Morrison's delightfully amusing musical comedy "Betty, Be Good!" will move to the Shubert Theatre on January 5th for a limited engagement.

The demand for seats has been increasing daily as the fame of this fascinating comedy with music spreads, and so great was the demand for tickets that it was decided to prolong its engagement in the Hub before the opening in New York, whence it goes from Boston.

Harry B. Smith's book, crammed with ludicrous situations, rapid repartee and lilting lyrics, and Hugo Rosenfeld's mesmerizing and tantalizingly haunting tunes, have gained an enviable reputation, and the capacity of Ye Wilbur is complete at every performance.

Is Your Motor Extravagant in Gasoline?

That depends largely on the quality of your gasoline and the mixture you use.

With high quality, uniform gasoline and the carburetor adjusted to insure complete, clean combustion, any motor will show gasoline economy and dependable power whether crawling in traffic or pulling up a heavy grade. The careful, rigid processes of refining and testing SOCONY Motor Gasoline guarantee its high quality and uniformity. Simply adjust your carburetor to SOCONY and stick to it. Then you'll get big mileage out of your gasoline. It is uniform, rapid-fire, clean-burning and power-full wherever you get it. For motor economy standardize on SOCONY.

"STRAIGHT-FROM-THE-SHOULDER RELIGION"

Enjoyed by Doughboys Says Returned Pastor

Boston—Proof conclusive that the doughboy thoroughly enjoys straight-from-the-shoulder religion was the trend of a statement just made by Dr. Albert S. Hawkes, pastor of the Worcester, Mass., Congregational church, just returned from France.

Dr. Hawkes' assertion is based on the fact that the nine Y. M. C. A. huts in Camp Pontanzen, Brest, each with a capacity ranging from 1,200 to 2,000, are crowded to the doors on Sundays during the religious services.

"I have seen these buildings so packed," he said, "that men sat in the rafters, windows—any place they could secure standing or seating room. In fact they even crowded on the platforms."

Dr. Hawkes was director of all musical programs connected with religious services conducted by the Y. M. C. A. at the big camp. When he began the work of organization there were only two pianists and song leader. In two months he had increased this staff to thirty accomplished musicians, soloists and song leaders, this number increasing with the demand.

In the huge auditorium with a seating capacity alone of three thousand, he declared that he has seen men, who remained after the mass-singing to hear the lecture, leave when the "movies" began. The singing was invariably met with unbounded enthusiasm.

"It was wonderful! An inspiration! Imagine, if you can, more than three thousand full-toned, healthy, male voices ringing with the notes of a famous anthem. They sang like they fought—with every ounce of energy their American souls possessed."

"Popular songs started the program, the words flashed on the screen. The singing service ended with hymns."

"The finest speakers obtainable in France were next introduced. After a short, snappy talk soldiers were given opportunity to consult them. Hundreds of men have availed themselves of this opportunity—the last one afforded while in military service."

Speaking of the distribution of religious literature by the "Y," Dr. Hawkes said:

"Pretty good evidence that they were wanted and appreciated was demonstrated by the fact that in barracks, religious publications were found really everywhere. They were never thrown around or destroyed as were newspapers, booklets, etc., after they had been read."

He believes that "this type of work, about which little is known or understood, is the most remarkable and thorough of any of the multifarious ways in which the 'Y' served the A. E. F. The soldier loves to sing when proper facilities and good leaders are afforded, and he appreciates good speakers on religious topics."

"The significance of our work was two fold," explained the pastor. "First, it brought the Christian gospel before the soldier in a practical, human fashion. Secondly it showed him at the close of his military career, that Y. M. C. A. stood for something else besides canteens, recreational and the various other activities to which he was accustomed at the front."

FIVE MILLION BOOKS DISTRIBUTED BY "Y" DURING WAR.

While Free Magazines Averaged 300,000 Monthly.

Paris—(By Mail)—If it is true that armies travel on their stomachs, then the American Expeditionary Forces included literature in their diets. The Y. M. C. A. distributed more than 5,000,000 bound volumes throughout the American units abroad during the months of the war. For a number of months more than 300,000 magazines were distributed monthly without cost to the soldier, but at an expense of $30,000 per month.

More than 28,000,000 copies were distributed during the period of the war at a monthly cost of $35,000. Ninety per cent of these were given away. More than 1,000,000 volumes of text books were printed or bought by the association for educational work, all of them eventually being taken over by the Army along the Y. M. C. A. educational work. A million and a half copies of "Popular Songs of the A. E. F." a 96 page song book, were printed by the "Y" and distributed free of charge to the doughboys, while 633,000 other volumes of musical works and sheet works were given away. There was also free distribution of more than 2,000,000 pieces of religious literature.

Before the American Library Association arrived in France to carry on its enormous work the task of furnishing all literature fell upon the "Y," and at times because of difficulties attendant on shipping the association was forced to advertise in Paris papers for gifts of reading matter printed in English in order to be able to carry on its work.

MOST CHIVALROUS ARMY IN HISTORY

Woman "Y" Worker's Lonely Pilgrimage.

Doughboys of the A. E. F. are bringing home with them the finest thing in their lives abroad—their ideal of American womanhood.

An American woman says so; a woman who has traversed France in every kind of conveyance to sing and talk to the boys in every sort of place; a woman who has read burial services over the dead and has sung to boys dying in her arms.

Her name is Mme. Ada Turner Kurtz. She has studied the doughboy to better advantage, perhaps, than any other woman in France, for she was the only woman Y. M. C. A. worker abroad who held a "roving commission," and who went wherever she believed she was needed, from the forests in the South to the war zone in the North and the occupied territory along the Rhine. She was a Y. M. C. A. entertainment and religious "unit" of one—until she became voice teacher to musician-soldiers in the Army of Occupation, with a German officer's apartment for her studio.

The A. E. F. in Mme. Kurtz's opinion was the most chivalrous army in history. They gave to women the highest tribute of respect and consideration. This was their attitude to the women war workers, and if it changed the woman, not the Y. M. C. A. or the doughboy, was at fault.

MRS. ADA TURNER KURTZ

She tells of her lonely pilgrimage into the forests of the Bordeaux region, to tell the impatient young soldiers of the S. O. S. that their job was not so lonely as they thought. She tells of surprising a unit of the S. O. S. that had been seen in a French forest for months, deep in a French forest; she seized her, set her upon a box, scrambled for "slum" and knives and forks and spoons, every man eager to do something for her. And she tells how some of them would reach out and touch her, just to prove that she was real.

More than all else, Mme. Kurtz declares, the doughboy craved the mother-touch of womanhood. They sought it from all the women workers, whatever their age. They wanted a woman with whom they were free to talk, to whom they could take their troubles, and show the pictures they all carried of beloved women at home. The fact that the women war workers could satisfy this craving, Mme. Kurtz says, is proof of how necessary they were to the army.

The singer tells the story of one youth whom she picked up dying and carried to a hospital. As she held him, he opened his eyes and said, "Mother." She told him she was not his mother, but it was all right, he was to go to sleep. Then he said, "Thank God you're a woman." She tells the story of a Scotch boy who thought he was dying. She went to him and asked him what she should sing.

"Sing 'Annie Laurie,'" he said. And she sang it.

He did not die. Later she had opportunity to ask him why, when he thought he was dying, he asked her to sing that song.

"Don't you know," he answered "that every man in khaki has an Annie Laurie for whom he would lay his head down and die?"

MOVIES IN SIBERIA.

Boston—Although thrilling drama holds first place in the eyes of Siberians, their demand for educational films and more comedy features is growing, according to R. J. Reitzel, director of the Y. M. C. A. lecture bureau in Vladivostok. The educational film, Director Reitzel advises the "Y" National War Work Council headquarters here, is being popularized among the peasantry and is proving a short-cut to their general enlightenment.

"Mr. Reitzel points out that the 'Y' shows have done much to displace and counteract the German films with their thread of propaganda. The shows have not been confined to 'Y' huts but have been given in city schools, and before groups of workers, at sport and other clubs and before the soldiers and boy scouts. The movement is being still furthered in line with the greater extension work taken up by the 'Y' machines having been installed in cities from Vladivostok as far west as Omsk and Tomsk."

DEATH OF MR. ULMER

Mr. Gustav W. Ulmer, a resident for 45 years of Newton Centre, died yesterday at his home of Bowen street after a short illness with heart trouble.

Mr. Ulmer was born in Mohrningen, Germany, July 16, 1850 and for many years was engaged in business as an electrical engineer. At one time he was in charge of the Newton Fire Alarm Telegraph system. On account of failing eyesight he retired from active business about six years ago.

Mr. Ulmer was a well known singer, possessing a magnificent bass voice, and was a charter member of the Highland Glee Club. He was not only deeply interested in musical matters, but was one of the finest critics of music in this vicinity. He was a member for many years of the First Church of Newton Centre, of Dalhousie Lodge of Masons and of the Odd Fellows.

He is survived by his widow, one son, Mr. G. W. Ulmer, Jr., and two daughters, the Misses Marie and Caroline Ulmer of Newton Centre.

Mr. Ulmer was big in stature and big in heart and will be sincerely mourned by a large circle of friends. Funeral services will be held from his late home at 32 Bowen street, Newton Centre at 2.15 P. M. Sunday.

BOLSHEVISM

District Attorney Tufts gives a Most Interesting Address to Board of Trade

The postponed December meeting of the Newton Board of Trade was held Monday evening at the Newton Club house, and was preceded by a substantial banquet served by the efficient Steward, Mr. Piper, of the Club. About fifty members and guests attended the affair, which was under the direction of President John H. Gordon.

The guest and speaker of the evening was Hon. Nathan A. Tufts, District Attorney of Middlesex county, who gave a most interesting talk on Bolshevism. Mr. Tufts deplored the tendency of the average man to be indifferent to public and political affairs, a condition which led to poor laws, usually obtained by selfish interests. He declared our present immigration laws to be a loosely set of poorly working provisions, due to the fact that Congress was afraid of votes. In consequence, we have had together many desirable immigrants, a large number of most undesirable aliens, who find a haven here, because all they need to land is to have one friend in the country and $30 in their pockets. The Federal government, he declared, was responsible for allowing the anarchist movement to grow in this country. Berkman, sentenced to 30 years in prison, for throwing a bomb at Henry C. Frick, was released after only a few years in prison, and for eight years, with Emma Goldman, has preached sedition all over the country. Of 619 anarchists arrested and taken to Ellis Island last year for deportations, only 22 were deported and the others released on parole. The agents of this movement, which Mr. Tufts stated was "Made in Germany" and was the result of German money during the war, slowing up our war work by strikes and labor troubles, are all over the country, and you have them right here in Newton. Mr. Tufts stated that the soviet form of government in Russia was the direct result of German gold, and an endeavor to win the war by destroying the Russian government and releasing troops from the Eastern front for service in the West. Trotsky, was taken to Russia from New York and was said to have been given $50,000,000 in money to accomplish what has been done in Russia. Now we are having the same doctrine taught here in classes and clubs. The appeal is made to the poorer classes to obtain the wealth and power of the country, to others on the grounds of malice or revenge. Red meetings have been openly held in New York, Boston and other large cities, without hindrance from the authorities. Mr. Tufts believed in legitimate free speech, but he believed it should be open, honest and above board. He told of finding tons of seditious literature in a small town in Middlesex County and of selling 20,000 volumes of similar books in a Cambridge book bindery. The movement, he said, was not wholly among the poorer classes, but it was being fostered by persons of wealth and position, whom Mr. Tufts called "political degenerates." He had found a school teacher in Cambridge distributing anarchist literature and stated his belief that there was a definite plan among the soviets to obtain control of our public schools.

He urged that laws which would welcome the right kind of emigrants who came here to become American citizens, and would have others deported at once, and the inspection of aliens made at the point of departure, rather than at the point of arrival. But the arrest and deportation of the leaders will not be enough, we must educate the large masses of aliens who are already here. Over 20,000,000 persons in this country, Mr. Tufts said, were unable to read, write or speak the English language and there were 800 periodicals published in foreign languages of which 200 were anarchistic in tendencies.

Mr. Tufts had no fear for the country if its citizens would awake to the situation, but he said that we were largely ruled by minorities, and cited the election of President Wilson, by only a third of the voters, the adoption of the I. & R. in this state by a small minority, and the recent election of Berger, with 9000 voters refusing to vote at all. The situation he believed was like small pox. While it was confined to isolated cases, there was no great danger, but when it became an epidemic, people must arouse themselves and take the necessary steps to correct the evil.

Mr. Tufts was given a well deserved vote of thanks for his able address. Mr. J. B. Jamieson gave a report of the recent Daylight Saving conference, and the Board passed a vote favoring Daylight Saving.

The nominating committee reported the following list of officers to be elected at the regular meeting on January 27th.

President, Arthur W. Hollis; vice-presidents, John T. Burns, Joseph B. Jamieson, John W. Byers, Gordon H. Rhodes, J. Weston Allen, Henry B. Reed; secretary, Harold Moore; treasurer, Willard L. Sampson; directors, Ward 1, George Wilson, Ward 2, Horace W. Orr, Ward 3, T. Walter Travis, Ward 4, John H. Gordon, Ward 5, George M. Angier, Ward 6, Walter Winn, Ward 7, Walter B. Wolcott.

READ FUND LECTURES

Interesting Course for this Season Announced by Trustees

The trustees of the Read Fund, Messrs. Loren D. Towle, Joseph B. Jamieson and Grosvenor Calkins announced this week, the Read Fund lectures for the current season.

The list includes five lectures covering travel, science and current events and ought to attract a large attendance.

Next Monday evening Mr. Donald B. MacMillan, the well known Arctic explorer will give an illustrated lecture on "The Riddle of the Arctic." Mr. MacMillan has had years of experience in the Arctic and is an interesting lecturer.

The list also includes lectures by Miss Mary P. Woolley, president of Mt. Holyoke College, on the important and timely topic of "Americanization," to be given Jan. 26th, an illustrated lecture on Feb. 9 by B. R. Baumgard on "The Rhine and the Army of Occupation," on Feb. 23 Mr. William R. Balch for many years a war correspondent of the Transcript, will speak on "The present confusion in Current happenings," and on March 8, Mr. Charles H. Tyndall will close the series with an illustrated lecture on "The Wonders of Ether Waves."

All these lectures, held on Monday evenings, will take place at the Hunnewell Club hall in Newton, the doors being opened at 7.30 o'clock.

Admission is free except that pupils below the eighth grade will not be admitted.

PUBLIC MEETING ON AMERICANIZATION

A meeting of great importance to all who are interested in the question of Americanization will be held next Monday evening at the Technical High School at 8 o'clock. The speakers are Mr. Charles F. Towne, recently in charge of Immigrant Education, Mr. John J. Mahoney of Lawrence, State Supervisor of Americanization, and Mrs. Isabel D. MacLean, supervisor of Americanization in Lynn. Mayor Childs will preside.

GIRL SCOUT WEEK

Newton Troops Making Plans for Drive on Week of Jan. 24th

The Girl Scout Troops of Metropolitan Boston are obtaining the assistance of capable organizers and campaign workers to aid them in raising their quotas during Girl Scout Week, January 26th to February 1st, when funds are to be raised to extend the work of the organization.

The chairmen for Newton are ex-Mayor Charles E. Hatfield, Mrs. I. S. Dillingham, Jr., and Miss Caroline E. Freeman. Many of the troops plan to have entertainments during Scout Week which will help to show the people the benefit of supporting their organization. The funds raised in the campaign will be spent in establishing new camps and to engage more leaders. Hundreds of girls in Massachusetts wish to register as Girl Scouts but are unable to do so because of the lack of trained instructors.

At the last Troop meeting before Christmas, Captain Eddy of the Newtonville Troop told her girls of a little village in New Hampshire where the inhabitants are all very poor and very much shut off from the outside world. There are only a very few families in the whole village, if the place is large enough to be called a village, there is no church, no store and only the very smallest kind of a school-house with about a dozen pupils. It is a farming community, not commercial farming as the inhabitants raise only enough to supply their own wants. Just enough to live on. Consequently there is very little money with which to buy clothing or any of the other necessities of life. Troop 1 voted to help these people and Captain Eddy sent off a splendid lot of fine warm clothes and other good things to them before Christmas. The Troop has helped all of that little community and the whole organization of Girl Scouts has gained more loyal friends.

The senior group of Troop 3, which is the Newton Centre Troop, had a good time during the Christmas holidays in giving ten little girls from Thompsonville a Christmas party. The party was held at the home of Captain Ordway. Santa Claus was there and had presents for all the little visitors. Refreshments were served, with real ice cream, games were played and it proved to be a very happy time.

This same group of Scouts had a supper party for their own patrols, during their vacation at the home of Mrs. Oscar Hawes. The girls cooked and served the supper themselves. Captain Ordway being the guest of the occasion. After supper was over and everything cleared away, dishes washed and the kitchen left in a kitchen, neat and tidy, a fine meeting.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

First Aid Knowledge given practical Demonstration this Week

Four of the Newton Boy Scouts had a chance to put into practice some of the First Aid as taught in the Scout organization. When returning from a conference of Boy Scouts held in Providence, the four scouts in question, Scouts Phelps, Weeks, Barba, Hoyt and Executive Talbot arrived in the Council "Hiver" less than a minute after a collision of a Packard and a Ford. Two people in the Ford were quite badly hurt, a young lady suffering from a cut head, and bruises and shock, while the man had various cuts and also suffered from shock. The scouts were right on the job with their first aid kits, and treated both the victims for their injuries. Upon the arrival of a doctor, some time later, he complimented the boys on their work, and said they had done just the right thing.

Four Scouts from Newton attended a conference at Providence last week. This was a conference for boys, and not for the leaders, although they were "allowed" to be present. The scouts were First Class scouts Phelps and Hoyt of Troop 7, Barba of Troop 11, Weeks of Troop 4. The conference lasted two days, and was held at the High School and at Brown University. Many prominent men talked to the scouts, among whom were Dr. Chas. E. Eastman, the Sioux Indian, Dr. Fisher, of National Headquarters, and Al Gurney, a War Correspondent. Good eats, and interesting experience for all made the trip more than worth while for the boys. They saw Providence, met the Governor, swam in the Y. M. C. A. pool and attended the various sessions of the conference.

Troop 1 had a most interesting meeting last week, with a speaker, Mr. Walter B. Briggs of the Harvard Library staff, who spoke on "Books," and their relation to every day life. Mr. Briggs touched on some of his experiences overseas where he was head of the Library Dept. of the Y. M. C. A. and Mr. Talbot, the Scout Executive was his assistant. Mr. Briggs brought out the need of good reading, and contrasted the present day line of cheap magazines to brass and glass jewels. He stated that a man who could afford real gold and diamonds would be thought foolish to wear false, and that people who read the cheap type of book and magazine were exactly in the same position.

Commissioner Irwin spoke to the scouts of Troop 10 of First Aid and of his experiences in railroad accidents. Mr. Irwin had a number of most interesting photographs of wrecks, which he showed to the scouts. After the talk Mr. Irwin demonstrated to the scouts various uses of band-aids.

Scout Executive Talbot paid a call on Troop 7 Friday night, and spoke to the scouts about the proposed wireless club, and showed the boys the field wireless set which was presented to the Council by Deputy Commissioner W. S. Radway. It is planned to make use of the old fire house on Watertown street for a headquarters, and to erect an aerial there. The great question was heating the building, but this has been solved by the donation of a large railroad type stove, which will be installed shortly.

The scouts of Newton are going to form a Wireless club in the immediate future. It has been found that fully one half of the scouts in the district are interested in wireless, and therefore Commissioner Irwin has placed the matter of the formation of a club of these wireless sharks into the hands of Executive Talbot. From gaining control Japan joined the

THE FAR EAST

Prof. H. H. Powers Speaks at the Forum last Sunday in Eliot Church

The adult class at the Eliot Church which was discontinued during the war, is again renewing its meetings at the noon hour. It is the plan of the leaders of the class to have lectures and discussions on subjects of interest to the community at the noon hour on Sunday. The first of these lectures was given last Sunday by Professor H. H. Powers, whose familiarity with the East rendered him peculiarly fitted to speak of its problems.

Professor Powers exhibited a map of the Eastern Hemisphere showing China and Japan and said that it was of great importance to all to see this map in order to understand the present situation in the Far East.

Pointing to the map, he explained the strategic and commercial importance of the gulf into which the Shanghai peninsula extends, owing to the lack of good harbors north of Shanghai, this gulf is the gateway both to the interior of China and to Russia.

He said, that one time, both Russia and Germany had possessions on this gulf, and that it was to prevent Russia from gaining control in this region that the Russian-Japanese war was fought and to prevent Germany

Already the district has a field wireless receiving set, the same as used by the Signal Corps of the Army, and Executive Talbot has built a portable aerial mast to go with the set. This mast has been tried out, and found to be very efficient. Although only four of the four sections were used, giving a height of 24 feet, Arlington, Virginia, and Sayville, L. I., signals were heard and copied.

The present plan is that the scouts use the old Veteran Fireman's house on Watertown street, West Newton, for one club house and another at the Playground House in Newton Center if arrangements can be made to erect an aerial over the building. At present the scouts are in need of a stove with which to heat the old fire house.

The scouts will be divided into grades, according to their ability and knowledge of wireless, and will be given an examination from time to time and be promoted to a higher grade. Scouts here in Newton have sets ranging from a single slided tuning coil to Audion sets upon which are received stations from abroad.

Several well known men in the Wireless field have promised to come and lecture to the boys, and the club room will be open very often, almost daily it is hoped.

A trip to Boston was taken by Mr. Talbot, Mr. Robert Irwin, Mr. John Woodbridge and Mr. Koehler to investigate a location for a log cabin to be erected by the scouts. A fine place was found, and Commissioner Irwin is arranging with the owner for permission to use the timber.

It is hoped that several meetings of the scouts at the Armory will soon be held.

Scout Executive Talbot awarded tenderfoot badges to Scouts Gadsden, Nelson and Rogers and a second class badge to Scout Putnam at a recent meeting of Troop 7. Scouts Dewing and Crosby received their First Class badges only a short time before.

The Patrol Leaders school met Friday and while the attendance was not as good as usual, due to many being away, the session was most interesting. Mr. John Woodbridge led the scouts in the setting up exercises, and then he gave them a talk on the examination results of the previous week, answering many questions. Mr. J. C. Irwin then gave a talk on Map Reading and Map Making, which was most instructive.

Mr. Talbot, the Scout Executive, seems to have been bitten by the "wireless bug" which has attacked so many of the local scouts. He is fitting up a wireless station at his home, and expects eventually to have a set capable of receiving foreign stations. Mr. Talbot is not absolutely new to the game, as he was research engineer for the American Radio and Research Co. and had charge of the erection of the 310 foot steel tower at their laboratory in Medford.

JOHNSON-TAYLOR

Miss Catherine Taylor, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. H. W. Taylor of Newton Centre, and St. George Johnson of Dalton, Mass., son of Mrs. O. H. Johnson, were married at 2 o'clock Saturday in Trinity Church by the rector, Rev. Edward T. Sullivan. Miss Myra T. Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Johnson, was bridesmaid and Richard Johnson, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were John Maguire of Brookline and Philip Ketchum of Brookline.

The groom is a Williams College man and also a graduate of the Harvard Law School. The bride is a graduate of Simmons College. Following a wedding journey to Colorado Springs, Colo., they will live in Newton Centre.

THE NEWTON WOMAN'S CLUB

The regular meeting of the Newton Woman's Club was held on Monday, January 5, at the home of Mrs. Ida Jarvis, 52 Cummings road, Brookline. Miss Hortense Parker sang several songs and gave recitations in costume. Miss Wilhelm Gertrude Cotton rendered piano solos most acceptably. Tea and a social hour followed.

MAYOR'S ADDRESS

Mayor Childs' Address to the City Government of 1920

Gentlemen of the Board of Aldermen:—

As I welcome you to the tasks ahead of us I extend to you the season's greetings and I wish each one of you and all of our people a very happy new year.

We have been chosen by the voters of Newton as their trustees to manage the business of this city for them.

That business consists largely of spending money. Our job is to provide for the needs of all our people, to spend wisely and get a fair return for every dollar expended.

We are living in extraordinary times. Conditions are abnormal. This makes our work harder and our responsibility greater.

We have just concluded the hardest year which City Governments have ever faced.

We need not apologize to anyone for the way in which we have come through. We have met conditions which come from war creditably.

The recovery from the shock of war is the most tremendous event which 1919 has recorded from the standpoint of city, state or nation.

In these days of unrest and dissatisfaction and confusion it has been difficult to see clearly very far ahead. Nevertheless we have faced problems as they have come to us and have tried to solve them in a way which would work for the best interests of all.

We have made mistakes because we are human. Election to public office doesn't make a man any better than he really is. In the service of the public we learn by experience. The wise public servant is not the man who never makes a mistake. He is the man who never makes the same mistake twice.

The Legislative and Executive branches of our city government have worked together during the past year and the judgment, not of any one man, but the best judgment of all is what we have tried to obtain.

I wish to express at this time my appreciation and thanks to the members of last year's Board of Aldermen for their co-operation; also to the various Boards and Commissions, to the Heads of Departments, Clerks in City Hall and to all the employees of the city for their many kindnesses and for the help which they have given me.

It is a real pleasure to welcome you who take up, for the first time, the duties of public servants.

You are succeeding men, no two of whom are alike but each of whom has rendered distinct service to this city. I congratulate you upon your high calling. What you are able to do in the days to come toward promoting the welfare of your fellow-citizens will never be regretted by you even though your service may be rendered at considerable sacrifice to your business as well as to your own personal convenience.

I shall be glad to confer with any of the members of this Board or with any of our citizens at any time and there need be no hesitancy on the part of anyone to demand the Mayor's services whenever they are needed.

I commend to you the reading of all city reports, especially those relating to finances and public works. By so doing you will gain at first hand valuable information which time forbids even touching upon at a time like this.

As you have opportunity I recommend most strongly that you get acquainted with all of the Heads of Departments, visit their respective offices and ask questions. Only by doing this can you comprehend the work of the city and discharge intelligently the duties incumbent upon you as Aldermen.

In arriving at conclusions on important matters don't lean too heavily upon what other cities do.

Newton cannot be compared with any other city in the Commonwealth. Forty-five thousand people scattered over eighteen square miles, grouped in ten villages, each village almost a town by itself, with miles of streets, drains, sewers and sidewalks to be maintained, and 8500 pupils going to 25 different schools,—with standards of living high, make a municipality which cannot be duplicated wherever you go.

It costs more to live here than in most places. Municipal expenses are necessarily large.

People, however, live here from choice. They demand much and have always been willing to pay for it.

During my term of office I have never had a complaint against the tax rate.

The people of this city for the most part are high minded, reasonable and honest. They are good neighbors and friends. Their judgment I venture to think is that we should not be contented doing what other municipalities are doing but that we should be willing to lead in all forms of effort which make for the peace and comfort and happiness of all.

For real joy in service I commend to you the plan of striving to transact public business in a manner which will satisfy and serve the ordinary citizen—those who make up the great rank and file of our people who live honorably and who make little noise.

He who seeks to follow the extreme radical who is keen for anything new or the reactionary who lives in the "good old days" is building his house upon the sand.

Experience has taught me that the judgment of the plain people is more nearly correct than that of either of the extremes and I have leaned heavily during my term of office on just such folks.

The criticism, censure and opposition of the extremes are most helpful to one who is striving to arrive at the truth. Their support is quite often a liability and not an asset.

The year just closed was marked by the return of our boys. Their home coming was celebrated on June 7th when all that could be done was done to show them that the city appreciated their services and was proud of their record.

The pleasure and pride with which we welcomed our veterans of the World War cannot be measured by words. Some who did not return we met in spirit only. They gave much—by far the greater part.

As an outgrowth of the war has come the American Legion. The Newton Post is a live organization, distinctively American.

For God and Country these young men have associated themselves together for the following purposes:—

To uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America; to maintain law and order; to foster and perpetuate a 100 per cent. Americanism; to preserve the memories and incidents of their association in the great war; to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, State and Nation; to combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses; to make right the master of might; to promote peace and good will on earth; to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy; to consecrate and sanctify their comradeship by their devotion to mutual helpfulness.

Such an organization is bound to be a big factor in producing a finer type of citizenship and it should have the co-operation of the city and of all our people in all it strives to do for noble ends. I recommend that temporary quarters be furnished the Newton Post in the upper part of the church building next door. The West Newton branch of the Library will in all probability occupy the lower floor after February first.

Company A of the State Guard has answered promptly every call for service and during the recent disturbances in Boston rendered valuable aid under Captain Crowell. The record of this Company for efficiency was not surpassed by any unit which saw service during the strike. The most gratifying and commendable feature was that many busy men, whose period of enlistment had run out, promptly re-enlisted when their services were needed, and, at great personal inconvenience fulfilled every duty to the end.

A large number of members of the Newton Constabulary also enlisted in the State Guard and under the lead of General White served the City of Boston for several weeks. The work of this unit was most creditably done.

I recommend that the Newton Constabulary be continued as an auxiliary to our Police Force provided the members thereof are willing to serve after peace has been declared.

This organization has demonstrated on many occasions its value to the city.

Both A Company and the Constabulary deserve the thanks of the entire city.

During 1918 the city suffered some losses, but made many gains.

We lost out in the income tax distribution matter in spite of the fact that the best possible case from our standpoint was presented by the ablest authority on taxation in this State, Alderman Nichols. The annexation bill was defeated and we shall not be annexed to Boston immediately. In legislative matters the City Solicitor has at all times been active, and Alderman Allen rendered valuable assistance, putting in a vast amount of time without compensation.

In mid-summer Mr. Colton, the Forest Commissioner, resigned to accept a position of responsibility in a private concern. Mr. Colton served the city well and his going was regretted by all who were associated with him.

The city lost early in the year a good friend and one who had served her for years in high places when Colonel Isaac F. Kingsbury died.

For many years he held the office of City Clerk. He was a Newton boy who developed into a soldier, a faithful public servant and a true friend.

The financial condition of the city is sound. A brief statement will give you a summary of the situation.

If the city is going to grow, and it must, we must spend money and thereby do our part toward stimulating its growth.

It will be necessary to build sewers and streets and sidewalks and school-houses as it has in the past, also to provide water and police and fire protection.

All these things cost money but they will eventually pay for themselves through the development of property. Municipalities like individuals cannot get something for nothing. It behooves us to keep pace with the demands of the times.

The tax rate for 1919 was $19.80. This is an increase over the 1918 rate, due principally to diminished income tax receipts and an additional Elevated Railway Tax.

The total gain in Real Estate and Personality was the second largest in the history of the city.

This was due partly to the revaluation made in Ward 6, which was part of a plan for the revaluation of the whole city, started under Mayor Hatfield's administration seven years ago—and partly to new buildings.

This revaluation gives permanent increased revenue to the city and keeps it up to date.

Assessments in Newton on the whole are fair.

Reported sales of real estate are far in excess of valuations in most cases. This of course is due to shortage.

Our Board of Assessors is conservative. Increases in valuation which it made are only such as keep us up to the times. The members thereof are fair and open minded. They represent no interests save those of all the people of the whole city. This is as it should be and we are most fortunate.

In regard to revaluations it is pleasing to note that these matters have been most pleasantly and satisfactorily adjusted after personal inspection, inquiries of real estate dealers who operate in the section and consultation with the owners of property.

The Board of Assessors, the City's revenue producing agency, has functioned well.

Many matters of a public works nature have been acted upon during the past year. Many others ought, at least, to be considered during the coming one.

The length of sewers ordered constructed during the past year has been some 50 per cent. greater than the average for the past ten years, 3 1/4 miles having been ordered at a cost of something over $100,000. Owing to the increased cost of such work, an increase in the rate of sewer assessment may be necessary and a report on this subject has already been submitted by the engineering department to the public works committee of the Board of Aldermen at their request.

The most important surface drainage work for some years has been the improvement of the South Meadow brook from the Saco-Lowell Shops to Dedham street, a distance of nearly a mile including half a mile of lateral ditches and three concrete culverts under the intersecting highways. This is another link in the improvement of this valley, a work which has been before the city government for more than twenty years. The completion of this drainage work across and east of Dedham street is suggested for the coming season.

The improvement of the Cold Spring swamp, a large tract of low land in the centre of the city, may well be considered as a necessary improvement in the early future.

Of the minor drainage work, the drainage of the Mt. Vernon and Austin street district on West Newton hill, for long a necessity, has been completed and the improvement of the Newtonville drain in the Crafts street district is work much to be desired.

About one mile of improved street surfacing was completed during the past year as against none of this work during 1918. In order to keep up with the policy adopted prior to 1918, a much larger amount of such surfacing will of necessity be required to be done during the coming year.

A start has been made on what is probably the most important street widening required in the city, reference being made to the widening of Walnut street, a matter receiving favorable comment for more than twenty years and on which further progress will doubtless be made as soon as conditions warrant.

Considerable work was done by the engineering department in laying out a proposed widening of Walnut and Dedham streets to a width generally of 80 feet from Newton Highlands square to the West Roxbury line, a distance of some 2 1/2 miles. Progress on this project has been at a standstill for several months owing to the failure as yet of the abutting owners to unite on the project and release the land required for the widening.

Minor widenings were made at the more dangerous locations in Dudley road. Drainage work on this street is well under way and a permanent road surface will be completed on this street early in 1920.

Attention is called to the advisability of completing the widening of Beacon street from Washington street to Waban village at an early date as this is one of the most rapidly growing sections of the city and this thoroughfare should be improved.

A beginning might be made by widening from Washington street to Agawam road, but preferably to Carleton road.

Along the important bridge work at hand is the reconstruction of the Wales street bridge in conjunction with the town of Wellesley. The city government has expressed a readiness to meet the town half way on this proposition and it is expected that the matter will be again brought up in the Wellesley town meeting in March.

The important work of the year as relates to city buildings and yards has been the construction of additional service buildings at the Crafts street yard, the commencement of the new schoolhouse at Waban and the taking of land on Elliott street for a future site for a highway yard on the south side of the city.

Considerable study was given by the engineering department to the preparation of plans for an incinerator for refuse disposal, but as a suitable site has not yet been agreed upon, the matter is now in abeyance.

The construction by the Metropolitan District Commission, formerly the Metropolitan Park Commission, of the boulevard along the Charles river from Jefferson street to a connection with the parkway known as Nonantum road east of the end of Charlesbank road, is well under way and the question of providing a suitable outlet for this boulevard from the junction of Maple and Jefferson streets will undoubtedly be a subject for consideration by the aldermen as soon as the Metropolitan improvements are completed.

In this boulevard extension matter the city is indebted to our representatives on Beacon Hill,—Messrs. Early, Powers and Rice, also to Senator Weston, for their very great assistance. Their constant watchfulness over all matters affecting our city, which come before the Legislature, is greatly appreciated.

Considerable activity in building operations throughout the city commencing in June, caused a demand for the extension of water mains and for house connections. Owing largely to late conditions it was impossible for the Water Department to fully meet this demand with the result that many petitions for street mains, received late in the year, cannot be granted until the coming season. This Department carries over considerable cast iron pipe and nearly a car load of galvanized wrought iron pipe, the latter purchased at 6% less cost than in 1918.

A contract was recently been placed for an electrically driven five million gallon pumping plant, in duplicate, which when installed, will absolutely insure water for the city in case of accident to the existing pumping engines and boilers, or a break in the reservoir. It will also enable us to shut down the regular Pumping Station temporarily for repairs needed on engines and boilers. This can be done with no expense on the part of the city for water obtained from the Metropolitan system, except the comparatively small cost of raising it fifty-five feet.

Included in the appropriations asked for 1920 will be an item for clearing certain sections of obstructed large mains, also one for leakage tests on the main pipe system. Additional hydrants on old mains, in sections the character of which has radically changed due to recent building, will also be requested.

During the coming year we hope to reforest twenty-six acres of the Water Works lands with red and white pine, making a total area replanted of one hundred and seventy-five acres. Fencing, tree planting and improvement of the Reservoir grounds are also contemplated. It may be of interest to know that on the first of April the Water Debt will be reduced by the retirement of $250,000 4% bonds.

During the year the changes ordered by the District Police in our school-houses has been partially carried out. Already the changes in the Burr, Old Chaffin, Lincoln, Underwood, Eliot, Adams, Pierce, New Hyde, Stearns and Emerson Schools have been made in a manner satisfactory to the State Building Inspector, with the exception of the new stairway in the Emerson School on which the workmen are now engaged, and a few minor details in two of the assembly halls. When these matters have been attended to, certificates of inspection will be issued by the State Authorities for all of these schools. Changes in the other schools in accordance with the plans submitted to the State Departments, and which have been approved ought to be made this year. If this work is to be completed by September when school opens for the fall term contracts should be let in the near future.

I suggest for further consideration on your part the advisability of taking for city purposes the vacant land in the very heart of the city, bounded by Commonwealth avenue, Walnut and Homer streets.

The city already owns a right of way through it and ownership by the city of the whole tract might materially aid in a proper development of that part of the city.

With the new City Hall proposition definitely postponed steps should be immediately taken toward providing the City Treasurer with adequate working quarters. A new fire station at Auburndale and utilization of the old fire station at Lower Falls for a branch library are needs which I present for serious consideration and action.

The work of the Police and Fire Departments has been creditable. The men deserve the increase in pay which they received. We have set a standard of compensation for those who protect life and property in our city, of which we need not be ashamed.

Complimentary comments on the work of these departments frequently come to me from those who have had occasion to observe their work at close range.

One of our greatest citizens, a man not given to idle talk, wrote me only the other day,

"It gives me great pleasure to congratulate you on the efficiency of our Fire Department. We had a slight but very dangerous fire last evening. Compared with fourteen years ago when we were served by horse machines, the response seemed to be almost instantaneous!

"Please convey my most hearty thanks to the Department, and especially to those officers, who were here so promptly last evening." And District Attorney Tufts recently complimented our Police Department for detective work, which discovered and speedily brought to judgment a law-breaker who had left for parts unknown.

On January 21st Patrolman John Purcell, having reached the age of sixty-five years, retired on pension from active police duty. For many years he served the city. The respect with which those of our citizens who have observed his work, hold him is the best evidence that he has served the city well.

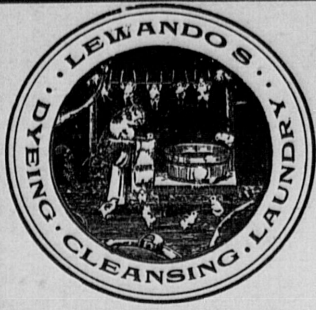

Our city is well provided with playgrounds. To them and to the work of supervised play as carried out in this city we can point with pride. The past year has given us two additions.

The Burr playground in Ward 7 has already been turned over to the city for use, and the deed of the property is being drawn up at the present time.

The land, you will recall, is the gift of the children of the late Isaac T. and Anne E. Burr. The development of the same for playground purposes is Mr. Allston Burr's personal gift. He has spent a large part of his time and a vast amount of money in making for the city on the site of his boyhood home an ideal playground—and he is still busy perfecting every detail.

In this development the beautiful trees on the estate have not been sacrificed, but made use of, which adds to the beauty of the landscape.

THE CALL TO THE CHURCH

At the opening of a campaign of the Episcopal Churches of America every Episcopal Church in this Diocese will hold next Sunday evening a service called "A Service of Lights." The church is darkened, bringing into prominence an illuminated star in the chancel. The choir enters, singing "We Three Kings of Orient Are," and led by the Three Wise Men in costume. They come up the centre aisle guided by the star. Then some hymns are sung. There is a short service and address. After the benediction the rector takes a light from a large candle on the altar, which symbolizes the Light of the World, and lights the tapers of the Wise Men; they in turn light the tapers of the end choristers in the choir stalls, who pass the light along the pews, each lighting his neighbor's taper. Then the Wise Men go down the centre aisle and light the tapers of the persons at the ends of the pews, who turn and light the tapers of their next neighbors, and so the light is passed along the pews.

Each person receives a taper, children as well as adults. Each receives the light and gives the light, an impressive and beautiful symbol of the process of receiving and imparting the Light of the Spirit. The custom comes down from the days when the Church taught by symbol, illustration and dramatic representation, and impressed the great truths of the Gospel upon people who didn't read.

MR. BAMBURGH RETURNS EAST

Mr. William Cushing Bamburgh, formerly advertising manager of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company, in Boston, has resigned as manager of sales of the M. S. Little Manufacturing Company in Hartford, Conn., and will fill the position of Director of Sales and Advertising in The Babson Institute, Wellesley Hills, Mass. Mr. Bamburgh's services have been secured by Mr. Babson for the development of the Institute's work in training young men to become efficient executives.

Mr. Bamburgh, a former resident of Newtonville, has been very active in the Boston Rotary club during the past seven years, having occupied the vice-presidency and the presidency of the club. He is a member of the International Rotary in the district of New England, in 1918-19. Mr. Bamburgh has lectured for a number of seasons before large classes in Northeastern College and Boston University, on salesmanship and advertising and publicity, and is author of a notable work on business correspondence.

ESTABLISHES SCHOLARSHIP

A new scholarship has been established at Harvard through the gift of Mr. Clift Rogers Clapp, '34, of Temple street, West Newton, in memory of his son, Howard Rogers Clapp, who was killed in action in France in November, 1918. The terms of the gift stipulate that "the fund shall be paid to a student in the college chosen as much for high character and manly qualities as for excellence in scholarship, preference being given to men descended from at least two grandfathers or more remote ancestors who were natives of United States of America or what is now known as Great Britain."

WABAN LODGE INSTALLED

The officers of Waban Lodge 156, I. O. O. F., were installed Wednesday evening by D. D. G. M. Chas. W. Jones of Needham. The officers installed were: J. P. MacKenzie, N.G.; A. F. Merriam, V.G.; G. C. Bennett, recording secretary; F. A. G. G. Libby, financial secretary; I. W. Ingham, treasurer; C. F. Dow, chaplain; E. L. Buell, warden; Henry Urkhart, corresponding secretary; F. E. NEWTON CENTRE COMMUNITY WORK NOTES

A committee of fifteen young people are planning a Community Social which will be held in the recreation rooms of the Methodist Church on Saturday evening, January 24th. Mr. Leary, secretary of the Newton Centre Community Work is assisting the young people in arranging this event. The social is being arranged solely for the purpose of developing a Community spirit among our boys and girls, and as it is hoped that a large number will take this opportunity to become better acquainted.

A committee on Co-operation with the Community, working as a sub-committee of the Committee of Management for the Newton Centre Community Work, is planning a Community Skating Carnival to be held on Crystal Lake in the near future. Mr. Tracy A. Rudd is chairman of this committee, and he is enlisting the interest of other Newton Centre men. The exact date and details of the Carnival will be announced later.

Nearly every Newton Centre man has been interested in some degree in the Playground House located on the Playground. That the house was not being used to its fullest capacity has long been the feeling in the Centre.

Our Community Secretary started a movement among the young people to use the building for gymnasium purposes. Lists are now being circulated among the young people who are showing great interest in the plan. If sufficient interest is shown efforts will be made to secure the services of trained physical directors for both boys' and girls' classes. A group of young men about twenty in number are being organized to help the community secretary to conduct community work here. This group will be known as the Newton Centre Community Council.

The next business meeting of the Committee of Management will be held in the parlors of the Methodist Church on Tuesday evening, January 13th, at 5.30 P. M.

BACON—ACCOLA

Mr. Louis Accola of Bozeman, Montana, announces the marriage of his daughter, Estelle, to Lieutenant Richard Hamilton Bacon of Newton Upper Falls. The bride is a graduate of Smith College, class of 1917. Lieutenant Bacon was graduated from Amherst College, class of 1915. He attended the second officers' training camp at Plattsburg, where he received his commission. He was assigned to duty with the Fifteenth Field Artillery, Second Division, and received his promotion to a first lieutenant during his eighteen months' overseas. Lieutenant Bacon is now with his regiment at Camp Travis, Texas, where the young couple will make their home for the present. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mason Bacon of Newton Upper Falls.

COPLEY THEATRE—With the name of Sir Arthur W. Pinero behind it and the play itself a masterpiece in its kind it is not surprising that "The Big Drum" would make good from the very start in the hands of Mr. Jewett's players at the Copley Theatre. Last Monday evening's performance was a veritable triumph for this talented company, and the play was eagerly followed by an audience that tested the capacity of this cozy playhouse. The story of Philip Mackworth and Ottoline, Comtesse de Chamsee, proved an unusual one, and in the manner in which Sir Arthur has handled it but because of the surprisingly good acting of Mr. Percy Waram and Miss Jessamine Newcombe, who had the leading roles, but the other members of the company as well.

On muscular control depends will power. There is a vital connection between muscle and mind. In modern occupations one doesn't get the full development of heart and lungs which our fathers used to get when they did the chores and odd jobs about the house.

As a people we are getting away from hard labor. We lead largely a nervous life. Massachusetts pays twenty millions a year for human breakdowns and reform work. This sum could be materially reduced if each city and town did its duty in promoting the physical welfare of its young and its working people. Lack of will power means no judgment of one's own, just follow the leader—do what he says.

Attention to the physical well being of our youth, which is given through the playground means a better preparation for citizenship. What we all need is to learn to will and to learn the full meaning of "fair play," "intelligent winner," "good loser," and "team work."

This calls for a sound body and a sound mind. The scope of the work of our playgrounds may well be enlarged with evening recreation in the summer and multitudinous winter activities.

I have thus outlined some of the needs of our city. There are others which will present themselves from time to time. From this catalogue we must select wisely the things which ought to be done this year. Necessary demands some new construction, but in doing this we must not allow our maintenance accounts to run low. Proper maintenance is economy in the long run.

As we take up our respective duties let us keep in mind constantly the two important factors in any real and lasting success, namely, efficiency of method and clearness of vision. Let us pursue no short-sighted policy. Let us do what we do well. Let us be fair with all our people, employees as well as our citizens. It is no more fair to keep the tax rate down at the expense of the human element than it is to put it up on account of graft.

Let us see to it that proper salaries are paid basing them upon all the facts which are at our command. We pay our merchandise bills, high as they are, and continually going higher, without a murmur. We ought to pay the right price for labor and services with just as good grace.

Let us guard the rights of our employees as carefully as we guard the rights of the public. Only by so doing will either be satisfied. The education of our youth must not for any reason be allowed to deteriorate. The standard for our city has always been high. It must be kept so. I trust that the time will never come when teaching the young will be put up at auction and the job knocked down to the lowest bidder. The boys and girls of today are the men and women of tomorrow. They must be so considered in all we do or try to do for them.

"Economy without impairing the efficiency of service" is the motto for the year which I would leave with you, together with the solemn reminder which we ought never to forget that "there is that scattereth, and yet increaseth; and there is that withholdeth more than is meet, but it tendeth to poverty."

What we need, gentlemen, is sound judgment, courage and hope; a willingness to assume responsibility and not the disposition to side-step it and pass on the burden to others. Above all let us be hopeful. Hard duties and difficult tasks are ahead of us. Even so there is a sound basis for well-reasoned optimism. I wish you a happy and hopeful New Year.

This field has done much to develop a finer community spirit in that section of our city and the thousands who gather there from time to time testify by their presence their appreciation of the gift, which all who live in that neighborhood feel is theirs.

The splendid co-operation of the owners of this great industrial plant has gone a long way in promoting the welfare and happiness, not only of the workers, but of all the residents there.

What has pleased the people most is that the Mill Agent, Mr. Samuel Hyslop, has been at the field every Saturday afternoon and on many other occasions all through the summer and Happy is the housewife who keeps a supply of White House Ginger Ale on hand. It is the drink she can always serve with confidence and pride.

Whether for the informal lunch, home party, or the between-meal "snack," the pure, mellow, real ginger flavor of White House is always a favorite. The first sip is a delight—an invitation to a new appreciation of how good and how pure ginger ale can be.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The Great and General Court convened for its annual session on Wednesday, the Senate organizing by the re-election of Senator Edwin T. McKnight as president, and the House, re-electing Joseph E. Warner as speaker. The first day was devoted to the organization adopting rules, the appointment of committees and the assignment of seats.

The senior member of the House was Hon. George H. Newhall of Lynn, who first sat in the House of 1894. Mr. Newhall gave some interesting reminiscences of the men who were in the General Court about that time. It is of interest also to know, that the present quarters in the State House, occupied by the House and Senate were first used in 1895.

Wednesday was also Lynn day at the House, for the temporary speaker, the temporary chaplain, the sergeant-at-arms, the House chaplain, were all residents of that city, and a Lynn representative was appointed on nearly every one of the numerous committees required at the opening exercises.

In committee appointments, Senator Weston of this city fared extremely well, considering that he is not a political friend of the powers that be in the Senate. Mr. Weston is chairman of the important committees on Labor and Municipal Finance and is a member of the committees on Military Affairs and of Street Railways.

In the House, Representative Early is transferred from the important committee (from a Newton point of view) to the committees on Public Health and Public Institutions. Mr. Rice is transferred from the committee on Ways and Means to the committees on Counties and on Education. The writer, one of the 103 new members in the House is appointed to the committees on Reconstruction and Social Welfare.

Yesterday Governor Calvin Coolidge was inaugurated for a second term, the House being crowded to suffocation with a most representative audience. The Governor was given a great reception when he arrived and General C. R. Edwards was also the recipient of great applause.

The Governor urged the Legislature to be economical, pass a few new laws as was possible, vote the necessary appropriations and go home. Good advice and I hope it will be followed to the letter.

J. C. Brimblecom.

DAUGHTERS' DAY

The daughters of the members of the Mothers' Association of Auburn-dale enjoyed a very beautiful and inspiring address on Wednesday afternoon at the Methodist Church.

The speaker was Miss Lillian Potter of Lasell, who has had much experience with all types of girls and mothers. Miss Potter spoke of the need of close companionship today between mothers and daughters. She gave several anecdotes which showed how selfish and inconsiderate some girls are in their homes.

One mother wrote of her daughter, who had just been home on a vacation. "Her father and I seem to be lacking in table manners. We shall have to study up I am afraid." Another, whose daughter was studying interior decoration, wrote that she was afraid that about half of their things in the house were wrong.

Still another incident was that of a father who when invited to go on a week-end automobile trip said that he would have to consult "the kiddies" as they had gotten into the way of using the car for week-ends lately.

In contrast to these incidents, she read a beautiful original poem which a former, careless, selfish girl wrote to her mother whose love and care she was just beginning to appreciate, now that she was away from home.

She told a touching story of a young man who told his mother not to worry since God had given him broad shoulders that he might bear her burdens.

Miss Potter said that many mothers object to having their daughters wait upon them, not realizing that it is only through training in service that true, womanly character can be won. She concluded by reading a beautiful letter which had been sent to her from a girl who had been almost incorrigible when in school. This girl expressed her appreciation of what had been done for her by her teachers at Lasell, and her love for Miss Potter.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS OF THE CHARLES WARD POST
The installation of officers of the Charles Ward Post No. 62 G. A. R. took place, at Temple Hall, Newtonville, on Wednesday evening.

The installing officer, was Past Dept. Commander W. A. Wetherbee, assisted by Mr. Eugene Sanborn as Officer of the Day. The officers installed were Commander John Flood; Senior Vice-Commander, Martin C. Laffie; Junior Vice-Commander, George H. Osborne, Quartermaster, James E. Reid; Adjutant, W. C. Wetherbee; Officer of the Day, Samuel A. Langley; Officer of the Guard, Charles W. Coleman; Patriotic Instructor, James E. Reid; Sergeant Major, J. Coolidge Coffin.

Following the installation, speeches were made by Mayor Edwin O. Childs, and Major C. D. Cabot of the 26th Division. The entertainment consisted of solos by Mr. Walter Kearns, cornet solo by Mr. West, and readings by Prof. J. B. Taylor. Mrs. George P. Flood was pianist.

SCHOOL NOTES

Miss Dorothy Drake, Editor

The editor of the school column wishes to express her appreciation of the co-operation of the teachers and pupils of the various schools of the city in making the school column of real value to the community by showing the community what the schools are doing not only in school hours, but outside as well.

The Private Schools of the city begin school this week with the exception of Mt. Ida, which opens next Monday. The Fessenden School opened Wednesday, the Country Day on Thursday, and the Allen School on Thursday.

Fessenden School

The Fessenden School opened Wednesday. On Saturday night a dancing assembly will be held at the school. Next Saturday night a play will be given at the school, called "The Man with a Dumb Wife." On January 24 will occur the annual masquerade.

Lasell

Lasell Seminary opened Wednesday with a full attendance, ready for the work of the Spring term. Mr. Frank Speare, Educational Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., long connected with Northeastern College, will be the speaker at the vesper service at 6:30 Sunday.

The Burr School

There is to be a change in the courses of the 7th and 8th grade girls of the Burr School in a few weeks. The 8th grade girls will take sewing instead of cooking, and the 7th grade girls will take cooking lessons for the latter part of the year. The 7th grade girls have made their own cooking aprons.

Cupid has found his way to the Burr School. After the vacation two of the teachers returned engaged. We join in wishing Miss Wallace of grade 1 and Miss Crawford of grade 2 much happiness.

Peirce School

Hockey clubs, in charge of Mr. Silva, have been formed in the Peirce School. The junior team is made up of the boys under twelve years of age and boys twelve years and over may join the senior team. The tryouts were made during the Christmas vacation. Tuesday afternoon a game was played between the junior teams. It was very exciting and fast, the small boys doing some good playing which indicated that they would develop into good material later. The game was a tie 2-2. After playing over time for several minutes neither team could score and the game was finally called off.

The senior team played the Stearns School on the same afternoon. They were not so fortunate as the juniors. The score being 3-0 in favor of Stearns. Many pupils from the school witnessed the games helping the players with hearty cheers.

Roger Wolcott School

The members of the seventh grade sewing class have completed their caps and started upon the aprons which they are to use when their cooking classes commence the latter part of the month. At that time the eighth grade cooking class will take up sewing. The boys of both grades are doing carpentry work at the same time in the Hyde School, which they greatly enjoy.

Mrs. Forbes is now teaching eighth grade commercial geography. She gave the class a most interesting lesson on the production of coffee and demonstrated it with the real materials as seen in the different stages. Work has begun in earnest on our new schoolhouse. Steam drills and shovels are making a seemingly light task of the problem of cellar excavation. The work is being studied and watched with great interest by the upper classes.

Horace Mann

School opened January 5th after a two weeks vacation. The Eighth Grade pupils received their class pins on January 7th. The pins were ordered from Mr. Dorrety of Boston.

The Horace Mann Hockey Teams are being organized under the direction of Mr. Caton. There is to be a junior team for boys under twelve years of age, and a senior team for older boys.

A NATION WIDE CAMPAIGN

Mr. J. H. Sellman, Mr. I. S. Dillingham, Jr., Mr. C. C. Colby, Mrs. F. H. Loveland, Miss Mabel L. Riley and Miss Elizabeth Angier are the members in this community of the National Wide Campaign Committee of the Episcopal Church, and are pushing in every possible way the work of this great undertaking.

From the Diocesan House in Boston comes the news that a purple cross window card which stresses the Church's Call to Action, Worship, Personal Religion, Education, Service, Expansion, and ultimately to Giving, will soon be ready for use in every Episcopal home. Already the Bible Readings, arranged by Bishop Lawrence, for the next twenty weeks, are being called for in great numbers.

Information Men, who are carefully instructed so as to render effective service each Sunday by giving notices of the progress made during the week in campaign matters, are another valuable asset of the campaign. Meetings for special inspiration are being planned far in advance.

NONANTUM CO-OPERATIVE BANK

The annual meeting of the Nonantum Co-operative Bank will be held on Tuesday, January 13, 1920 at the office of the bank, 263 Centre street, Newton at 7:30 P. M. to elect eight directors for three years and to transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

NEWTON POST

The recently elected officers of the Post were installed last Monday evening at the State Armory, they include, C. Sinclair Weeks, commander; C. Raymond Cabot, vice-commander; Harry W. Strandquist, adjutant; Thomas F. Hickey, finance officer and Rev. Fr. William J. Farrell, chaplain. Reports were received from the delegates to the recent state convention and from the committee to secure new quarters. It is expected that the next meeting will be held in the old church building adjoining the City Hall, which is being fitted up by the city for the accommodation of the Post.

Next Monday evening at the Armory, the Post will show the motion pictures of the 25th Division in action, some of them having been taken under shell fire.

The Newton Post, American Legion, are forming Basketball, Hockey and Bowling teams, and will be pleased to hear from other live American Legion Posts in regard to making arrangements for games.

Arrangements have been made whereby the hockey rink at Brae Burn C. C. will be at the disposal of the post on practically any evening, making possible evening games which should be convenient to all concerned. Basketball floors and Bowling alleys are also at our disposal.

Any posts desiring to get in touch with the above named outfit so that they can show them a time may do so by calling A. P. Brown, Beach 1046 during the day, or Newton West 171-M after 6 P. M.

Those members of the Newton Post who are not informed as yet in regard to the athletic teams and who have no leanings toward hockey, basketball or bowling, especially hockey for the time being, are urgently requested to get in touch with A. P. Brown immediately.

Newton Highlands

The Monday Club met this week with Mrs. G. H. Keeler on Oak terrace.

Mrs. W. M. Mick of Parker street, Oak Hill has been quite ill the past week.

At the Congregational Church next Sunday evening at 7:45 the Men's League will conduct a special service at which Dr. Robert E. Hume will speak on "The Political and Religious Conditions in India."

The weekly prayer meetings of the Methodist Church are to be held for the present in the homes of the people. This Friday the meeting will be with Mr. and Mrs. John P. Regan of Erie avenue. Next week the meeting will be with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hopkins of Aberdeen street.

The Camp Fire Entertainment given last Friday at Lincoln Hall, was a great success. The entertainment was called a Winter Circus because of the variety of features given such as side shows, animal shows, art gallery, etc. Miss Mildred MacDonald and Miss Madeline Powell gave exhibitions of dancing, and Mr. Lillian Curry lead the kitchen orchestra. The jazz band under Mr. Robert Chapin was exceedingly popular. Little Mary Shannon danced, and Mark Bell sang, accompanied by Winthrop Whitaker.

The Camp Fire Girls cleared $100. At the special evening service held at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Walnut street, next Sunday night, the Feast of Candles will be observed. An elaborate program has been arranged and special musical features planned to make the service one of the most impressive ever held in the Newtons. A striking feature of the evening will be the address by Dr. H. S. Jellalian, noted Armenian publicist of Boston. He will speak on "America's Opportunity in Armenia," telling something of the history of the great Armenian question and what the Armenians ask America to do to help them.

DEATH OF CHARLES F. BOWEN

Mr. Charles F. Bowen, a resident of Newton for about 20 years, died January 6, at the home of his son, Robert S. Bowen, on Parsons street, West Newton, where he had made his home since his retirement from business. He previously lived in Newton Lower Falls.

Mr. Bowen, who was in his eightieth year, was a Civil War Veteran and was a Massachusetts Minute Man having answered the first call for troops. He is survived by a widow and two sons, Robert S. Bowen of this city, and Willard L. Bowen of Natick. Funeral services were held at his late home yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Richard T. Loring of St. John's Church, Newtonville. The interment was in the Newton Cemetery.

allies. He did not feel certain that Japan would occupy the Shantung peninsula in the way in which Germany would do so, but it is certain that she does not wish an efficient, progressive, nation that might prove hostile to her in that vicinity. Japan feels toward Shantung as the United States feels towards Mexico.

As to the question why she does not return the peninsula to China, Professor Powers said that she feels that the Chinese are totally unfit to hold it against English or possibly United States aggressiveness. Japan, he said, wishes all Western nations out of China. She is suspicious of English influence, and is also suspicious of the United States.

Moreover, the economic situation is acute in Japan. She is a little nation, not as large as California with a population of 57,000,000. She is debared from immigration to the United States, from Canada, and other nations. It is only natural that she should seek an outlet for her people in the vast almost untouched Empire at her door.

Japan also regards the property which the Germans left in Shantung such as warehouses, docks, railroad facilities, etc., which were built by the Germans and not by the Chinese, as hers by right of indemnity and sees no reason why they should be given over to China.

The government of China is very unstable at the present time; there is rivalry between northern and southern sections, and power lies largely in the hands of local governors. Already the railroads are controlled by foreign countries which means that these countries will necessarily have much influence in China.

Japan has agreed to withdraw her military forces if China will agree to give her certain rights in regard to the railroads.

As for the "Open Door" policy, Prof. Powers said that he thought that Japan would not impose a tariff and that technically all nations would have equal trade rights. Practically, however, Japan would probably control the situation.

As to what the United States should do, Prof. Powers said that the problem was not a simple, ethical, one and that while we should refuse to lend our guarantee to Japan's position, we should reserve our judgment for future developments.

In conclusion, he paid a high tribute to Japanese statesmanship saying, "Japan is the only country in recent years whose statesmen have made no mistakes."

NEWTON HIGH SCHOOL

Newton High won from the training ship Nantucket, 8 to 0, at Bullough's pond, Newtonville, Saturday afternoon. The youngsters from the harbor school were no match for the fast Newton seven and the puck was constantly in their territory. Coady, the orange and black centre, was too fast for the opposition and sent the disc into the net four times. Marvin, a former Newton High boy playing with the Ranger seven, was the star for his team.

This will be a good opportunity to buy excellent food at reasonable prices. Those in charge will be happy to serve any who will give their patronage.

AT ST. MARY'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Next Sunday evening, at 7 o'clock there will be a candle service as appointed by Bishop Lawrence for the churches in his diocese. It is a service full of information and education concerning Christ as the Light of the world giving that light through His chosen Apostles and through them to the ministry and laity and so evangelizing the world. Scripture passages and hymns with a short talk from the rector give the meaning of the symbolic part of the service. From the large candle on the altar representing the Christ Light the twelve men as apostles receive their light, then the three orders of the ministry, the Bishop, the Priest and the Deacon, receive their light from the Apostles, and these in turn light the candles of the choir the vestry and the congregation.

When all the individuals' candles are lighted, the choir leads the procession around the church, the congregation falling in and still carrying their lights see how far they can carry them into the darkness of the world. The service is full of inspiration and should do much in awakening interest in symbolism as conveying truths of the gospel. Old St. Mary's Church, built in 1814 should lend itself effectively for such a service to which every one is invited.

THE NEWTON PLAYGROUND

Weather permitting a demonstration of artistic skating by prominent skaters of Greater Boston will be given on Bullough's Pond this Saturday from 3-4 under the auspices of the Newton Playground Committee. Teel's Orchestra will play from 2.30 to 5 P.M. On account of the lack of funds the evening carnival will be held at a later time. The athletic program for boys and girls will also be held on some Saturday later on.

PUBLIC LIBRARY

The Newton Public Library is planning to issue an identification card to be used instead of the customary library card. It is not transferable. These cards are to be used when new cards are issued, or upon the expiration of the time of the borrower's present card.

Each patron may borrow a reasonable number of books, magazines, photographs, lantern slides, etc., the only restriction being that of seven-day fiction. Of these each family is entitled to have out at any given time a number of seven-day books not in excess of the number of adults living in one family, and in one house.

Library cards are necessary only where individuals, themselves come to the library, for one member of a household may get out books for the family.

The card is small enough to be carried in a pocketbook, bill-fold, card-case or hand-bag.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

Concrete plans for stimulating thrift have been laid out by the Savings Division of the Treasury Department and other organizations. A test is to be started with this month of January and continued through February in January with the hope that it will bring such gratifying results that the club women will continue to apply them as a permanent practice. It is as follows:

January—To Keep Accounts, that is, an account of daily expenditures, grouping them under such items as Rent, Food, Clothing, Household Service, Amusements, Incidentals, etc. February—To Save, by analyzing the January expenses and make an effort through information gained in January to save a certain amount through conservation without hardship. March—To Invest, that is, invest the amount saved in February over an equal number of days in January in government securities. The women are asked to report percentages saved to their Thrift chairman at the end of three months.

The club women are also asked to cooperate with the Y. M. C. A. in its National Thrift Week, Jan. 17-24. The Ten Commandments of Individual Finance at the basis of this Thrift Week are: National Thrift Day, Saturday, January 17; Share With Others Day, Sunday, January 18; National Life Insurance Day, Monday, January 19; Own Your Own Home Day, Tuesday, January 20; Make a Will Day, Wednesday, January 21; Thrift in Industry Day, Thursday, January 22; Family Budget Day, Friday, January 23; Pay Your Bills Promptly Day, Saturday, January 24.

Here surely are practical suggestions which it will do no one harm to think over seriously and apply such as can be applied to one's own problems.

State Federation

Friday, January 16, 2:30 P. M. Education conference for the Sixth district in the Princess Theatre at Wakefield by invitation of the Cosmos Club. "Better Speech for Better Americans" is the theme of the afternoon. Prof. Dallas Lore Sharp will be the principal speaker. Prof. Clifford W. Moore of Harvard will speak on "The Importance of Latin in Modern Education," and there will be an original one-act play written for the occasion and presented by seniors of the Wakefield high school entitled "Tony."

Monday, January 19, 2:30 P. M. at West Medford. Civics conference for the Sixth district. Mr. Horace Kidger of the Newton Technical high school will give an address on "Citizenship." Civics chairman of the Sixth district to which the Newton clubs belong are urged to attend.

Newton Federation

Charles F. Towne of Auburndale, recently Massachusetts agent in charge of Immigrant Education, Joan J. Mahoney of Lawrence, State Supervisor of Americanization, and Mrs. Isabel D. MacLean of Lynn, supervisor of Americanization in Lynn will be the speakers at a public meeting at the Technical high school hall next Monday evening, Jan. 12, at 8 o'clock. The meeting is arranged jointly by the committee on Americanization appointed by the Newton Public Safety committee before it disbanded and a similar committee of the Newton Federation. All the speakers are well known hearing and the message they have to bring is one of vital importance to this community.

Plans are underway for a conference on "Ways of meeting of the Shogun in Household Service," which will be held the last of January at Newtonville under the auspices of the Civics and Social Service committee of the Federation. Details will be given next week.

Local Announcements

The meeting of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C., postponed from this week, will be held next Monday at the home of Miss Marion Dorr on Lake avenue, when Miss Cora Stanwood Cobb will talk upon "The Solar System."

Mrs. F. E. Nowers will be hostess for the meeting of the Travel Class on Jan. 12th.

President Mary E. Woolley of Mount Holyoke College will lecture before the Waban Woman's Club next Monday afternoon, Jan. 12, on "Women and Reconstruction Problems." There will be songs by Mrs. Gifford LeClair.

On Tuesday, Jan. 13, at 2:30 P. M. in the Congregational chapel at Auburndale Edwin M. Whitney, a well-known reader will present "Turn to the Right," before the Auburndale Woman's Club. Mrs. M. E. Herron will speak of Legislative bills. Music will be furnished by a double quartet composed of members of the club's chorus.

At the close of the meeting there will be a food sale under the auspices of the Education committee for the benefit of the Scholarship fund. Donations will be gladly received.

The Newton Parliamentary Law Club meets on Tuesday morning at 10:30 with Mrs. W. D. Tripp, 45 Boylston street.

The Home Economics committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club announces a lecture on "Cakes and Frostings" by Miss Amy Buckhold at the Central Congregational church on Tuesday, Jan. 13. Miss Elizabeth Judkins will render a program of violin music.

Mrs. F. C. Ingraham is in charge. Attention of the members is called to the fact that the Current Events class of the club will meet in the same place on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. J. Harry Poole will lecture on Current Events for the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands at the Congregational church on January 13th, at 2:30 P. M. Miss Grace E. Miller will speak of Newton Hospital Social Service work. Mrs. Grace S. Farrington will report on Newton Federation work and

Mrs. Charles A. Clark will tell of plans for the Thrift work of the club. After the lecture a food sale will be conducted by the Home Economics committee, Mrs. M. Marsden Griswold, chairman.

The first meeting of the Citizenship class of the club under the leadership of Mrs. Claude U. Gilson will be held at the home of Mrs. Grosvenor D.W. Marcy, 32 Rockledge road, Thursday morning, Jan. 15, at 10:30.

George W. Coleman will address the Social Science Club next Wednesday, Jan. 14, on "Americanization through the Open Forum." Guests may be invited.

The Newton Ladies' Home Circle meets in G. A. R. hall, Newtonville, on Thursday afternoon at two o'clock.

Mrs. F. S. Keith will be hostess for the meeting of the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club for next week's meeting on Saturday, Jan. 17.

The Newton Community Club announces that a few additional guest tickets are available for the members for the lecture by John Kendrick Bangs at Channing church on January 22nd. All that remain on Monday, Jan. 12, will be placed at Hubbard's for the general public.

Local Happenings

Mrs. Henry E. Williams was in charge of the meeting of the Newton Highlands Monday Club this week, which was held at the home of Mrs. Seward Jones of Columbus street. Mrs. Williams read to the great amusement and entertainment of the members, "A Young Visitor." Refreshments were served during the social hour.

The Newton Mothers' Club met at the home of Mrs. Herbert Felton of Chestnut street on Monday afternoon. Assisting Mrs. Felton as hostesses were Mr. Norman Bingham, Mr. E. F. Gile and Mr. Grove of Prince street. Miss Angela Melville gave an exceedingly interesting account of work at the Pine Mountain Settlement School and Rev. J. Edgar Park gave a short talk on "Irish Politics," in which he expressed the opinion that there must be concession upon both sides before there can be any real solution of the Irish question. The usual social hour with light refreshments closed the afternoon.

In addition to Mrs. W. C. Crawford took upon current events at the meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's club on Monday evening. Mrs. Chester N. Cole of the State Federation spoke upon legislative matters and Mrs. Babcock interested the audience in a demonstration of Mapleine products. Refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. Willard Marcy.

Mrs. Edward Payson Drew was hostess for the meeting of the Auburndale Review Club last Tuesday morning and the committee in charge included Mrs. J. F. Dunton, Mrs. N. W. Dennett and Mrs. Drew. "Italian Opera—Song and Story" was the subject. The overture from "The Barber of Seville" was played by Mrs. Drew and Mrs. Nelson Freeman. Mrs. Dunton gave an account of Italian operas including something concerning the different composers. Mrs. Alvord rendered two songs, the Blind Girl from "Glaconda" and the Gypsy Song from "Il Trovatore," with Mrs. L. D. MacNutt at the piano. The Shakespearean version of Falstaff was presented by the following cast: Mrs. Drew as Mrs. Page, Mrs. Dennett as Falstaff, Miss Dennett as Mr. Ford, Mrs. Dunton as Mrs. Ford and Master Madison Cannon as the page. The cutting of the play was so skillfully done that there were no apparent breaks, the acting was all that could be desired, while the costumes gave the finishing touch to a very smooth and successful performance.

Guest Night of the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday evening of this week was an unusually interesting and successful occasion. There was an informal reception during which the president, Mrs. J. C. Hagar, together with Mrs. A. L. Wakefield and Mrs. A. D. Salinger, vice-presidents greeted the members and their guests. After a half-hour of community singing, led by Mr. F. M. Blanchard, with Mr. F. E. Mann at the piano, Molly Best entertained the audience with some of her Jewish and Irish stories of the East Side. A trio consisting of Mrs. R. T. Loring, violin, Mrs. Lillian Haynes Walker, cello, and Mrs. H. C. Lythe, piano, followed, the singing was all that could be desired. Light refreshments were served to the large number present.

After a brief business meeting on Wednesday morning Charles F. Towne of Lasell Seminary and former director of Americanization for Massachusetts, addressed the Social Science Club upon "Americanization through Citizenship Centers and Public Libraries." Mr. Towne reminded his audience that those who call themselves real Americans need to be Americanized as well as those of foreign birth, that Americanization is a spirit and an attitude of mind. He told of work which he himself originated in the public schools of Salem a number of years ago and which is still continued, how he brought about harmony and comradeship in a school made up of pupils who were about fifty per cent of the old Puritan stock and fifty per cent Irish. He also told of library work in Providence. He stated that our Massachusetts libraries are splendidly organized. He answered the objection sometimes made that instead of having books in the foreign language we should insist upon the foreigner reading those in English, by suggesting that through having books in his native language we gain his confidence and his understanding and pave the way for his becoming a better American.

The first day of the New Year was a happy one in Auburndale, at least for those who were so fortunate as to be present at the annual "Guest Night" entertainment of the Auburndale Woman's Club. Two performances of the clever farce entitled "Two of a Kind" were given, the evening presentation being followed by dancing to the persuasive strains of Knight's orchestra.

Good dramatic judgment and faithful work lifted the play quite out of the sphere of the trivial, and won the warm approval of an audience who have been educated to expect much from "Guest Night." The bifocal stage setting for the first and third acts, with the alluring ocean view which made one almost smell the salt breeze in the second act, formed an adequate background for convincing work by the leading characters, Mrs. Royal Whitling and Lowell D. MacNutt. No one could be surprised that each of them quite captivated the other, and the audience was well pleased.

The leading parts were well supported by a large cast, which included Theodore Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Gore, Mrs. J. F. Dunton, Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Ufford, Mrs. Charles Floyd, Mrs. L. D. MacNutt, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shepard, Lillian Freeman, Mrs. Harry Feather, Mrs. W. J. Champion, Miss Carol Dunton, Miss Margaret Lane, Miss Katherine Sawyer, Cavanaugh Spaulding, Robert Hayes, and Royal Whitling. The characters were quite varied, ranging from the facetious colored janitor to the supercilious Mrs. Cabot, and were all well taken.

Much credit is due the Program committee, of which Mrs. Walter S. Wells is chairman, and to all whose efforts contributed to the success of a very enjoyable occasion.

Newton Centre Womens Club Card Party

A card party of unusual interest is to be held at Bray Hall, on Jan. 14, at 8 P. M. given by the Newton Centre Woman's Club, the proceeds of which are to be added to the Building Fund.

Although many card parties have been held, this is the first in which men have been invited to participate and an unusually happy occasion is anticipated.

A candy squad under the leadership of Miss Alice Weston and Miss Katherine Wilkins assisted by Mrs. Charles Hubbard, the Misses Priscilla and Elizabeth Clark, Caroline Bovey, Emily Woods, Winifred Moore, Margaret Wilkins, Sylvia Burdett, Anita Garet, Beulah Hayes, Marion Kelsey, Eleanor Weston, Eleanor LaBonte, Virginia Parker, and Charlotte Flanders have volunteered their services and candy will be made and served during the evening and at the conclusion of the card game ice cream, cake and coffee will be served at the table. A special feature during the evening will be the sale at auction of a beautiful hand-made table-cloth donated by the president of the Club, Miss Edith Gammons, who also has most generously volunteered to duplicate the amount raised on the table-cloth, not exceeding $200. Mr. Frederick L. Alvord has consented to be the auctioneer.

A great amount of energy has been displayed by the members of the committee in charge, as well as the members of the club to make this a great success, and from present indications it would seem that they would not be disappointed as a large number of tables have already been sold.

Any one wishing a table reserved will kindly communicate with Mrs. Lillian D. Jennings, Newton South 433-J.

The Committee in charge is Mrs. Lillian D. Jennings, Mrs. Everett English, Mrs. Charles Edwards, Mrs. Ernest W. Dearing, Mrs. James H. Ritchie, Mrs. A. Leslie Harwood, Jr., Mrs. Hermon Holt, Jr., Mrs. Ellis Spear, Mrs. Ralph M. McClellan, Mrs. Walter Leighton, Mrs. Gardner C. Walworth, Mrs. H. Frederick Lesh, Mrs. Sherman B. Ward, Mrs. Manning A. Williams, Mrs. Alden H. Speare, Mrs. Arthur W. Raynor, and Miss Harriet O. Paul.

Budget Class

A good number of club women together with some of the girls of the Vocational school attended the first of the lectures for the class in Budget-making given at the Technical school hall on Wednesday afternoon, but the audience did not include nearly the full number who had applied for tickets. The lectures are full of valuable information that women cannot afford to miss in these days of high prices and they are given free to all through the courtesy of the school department as a part of the extension work of the schools.

Miss Agnes Donham, who is giving the course, is fully equipped to speak with authority and besides her lecture she gives ample opportunity for questions and discussion of personal problems.

The budget, she defined, as a plan for spending money during a given length of time. It should be planned carefully and should control one's expenditures and he never changed until one is perfectly sure it can't be made to work. In the first place, we must determine our standards of living; decide what is necessary, what is desirable and what is undesirable. In planning the budget there must be a conscious choice between possible expenditures. Incomes were divided into four classes, which the speaker named as the existence income, providing barely enough shelter, food and clothing to keep one alive; the living income allowing of sufficient shelter, food and clothing to make work possible. The comfort income provides wholesome and decent shelter, adequate food for health and enjoyment, well selected as to cost and kind; clothing for both warm and cool weather which allows freedom of motion and is in good taste; always a sufficient sum to meet operating expenses consistent with the food and shelter while there will be a margin for the physical, mental and spiritual side of life. Lastly, the luxury income, which permits of shelter with more space and comforts, as additional bathrooms, etc., food chosen with more care and margin for travel, higher education and the like.

After deciding what kind of an income we have, it is necessary to decide where we belong. It may be necessary to lower our standards, but never our ideals, ideals being the things for which we strive, while standards are ideals tempered by environment.

Savings are the most important thing to decide, but we must not save at the expense of getting along without necessities and thereby cutting efficiency. One should save first, then provide for needs, and third, for one's desires. A definite amount should be saved in a definite way. Save first before you spend. Persons who are saving have a feeling of satisfaction not possessed by those who are spending for unprofitable luxury. Standards in food, and shelter were also discussed. The old percentages for the division of the income which were nearly ideal before the war can no longer be maintained with the constantly rising prices. In their place Miss Donham substitutes: 'safe' shelter, 'adequate' food; 'suitable' clothing; 'necessary' operating, and 'something' for the higher life. Standards for clothing, operating and the margin will be discussed next week, Wednesday, Jan. 14, at 2:30 P. M.

NEWTON BRANCH SPECIAL AD
The Branch was able to partially fit out the United States destroyer "Sinclair" flagship of the 23rd division, which has started on a cruise to the west coast and around the world. A cordial letter of appreciation and thanks has been received from the captain. There were not enough sweaters, and women are urged to knit them as well as other articles, so that when another call comes it can be met. The Branch appeals not only for knitters, but for workers to sew on Thursdays at the rooms in the Y. M. C. A. building and to do sewing at home.

NEWTON CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL

The Christmas holidays have witnessed one or two events in athletics which are worth noting. The Alumni hockey squad made up of former players, who were home for the vacation gave Newton's regular team a stiff battle and finally overcame them by a score of 9-1. Previous to this game, Bulloughs pond had been the sight of many strenuous scrimmages between the first and second teams of this year's squad, but the alumni had the edge on the younger regulars, and thus wended them long before the final whistle blew. A second game of the same kind, proved fatal also, and Newton fell 4-1. On Thursday, Brookline's skaters met Newton at Brae-Burn, and although the team is not yet at its best, the Orange and Black are fully confident of the outcome. Condy, who really won the game by his single tally against Brookline last year, is still in the line-up this year and means to greatly increase his work. Upon looking over the other members of the squad, strong material is certainly the feature. Learnard, a new candidate for goal, has done surprisingly good work of late, as shown by his stick handling and protecting at the goal, during the Alumni game. The stops which he made brought comment from many of the old Newton hockey players, and they feel that he should be a wonderful asset to the team this coming season. The regular season opened Saturday, when Newton trimmed the Nautical Training Ship seven, by a high score.

Monday morning, the Senior boys listened to the second of a series of lectures on city government, given by Mr. Bailly, chairman of the Board of Assessors. He told the boys the different financial deals, and matters which the city had to handle each year, giving some very interesting facts in connection with the taxes. Mr. Adams plans to have this series of lectures every second or third week, if possible and then at the end of the season, to give an examination to see just how much has been learned through these helpful talks.

The Boys Debating Club has now progressed very well, and there is a good outlook for a strong team when the trials begin. It has been found possible to hold debates with Everett, and Boston Latin, if dates can be arranged, of course this does not include the Triangular League debates which will be held undoubtedly early in the spring.

Basket ball for girls, is now going in full swing, and the candidates are beginning to get the idea of the game. The first game is not far away, and there will be a great deal of strenuous work, before a steady and fast team can be put on the floor.

The Inter-class Track Meet has been set for late in January, probably the 30th or 31st. Since the beginning of practice December 19th, most of the veterans and new fellows have had ample chance to race around the track, although Coach Dickinson has held most of them in restraint until the trials are held. The best of the runners that have made a good showing seem to be, Bell, in the 300 yard; Garrity and Richards in the 600, while Lovejoy and Cowing are plodding around the track in the 1000-yard run. During vacation many of last year's stars have had a chance to see the coming track men for Newton this year, and have given good advice in regard to running. Furthermore they took the opportunity offered them to "warm-up" themselves, in preparation for the coming track season at their respective colleges.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

At the regular meeting of the Board of Directors held on January 6th, Mr. W. E. Harding was elected as a member of the Board.

A phonograph is needed for the boys' rooms in the Newton Y. M. C. A. Any friends of the boys who would like to contribute either money or a machine, please call up Newton North 592.

On January 22nd the bowling team from Wakefield will have a match with the Newton Y. M. C. A. on our own alleys. Wakefield has a strong team and the match should be a good one.

The young people of the Central Congregational Church are to use the alleys on January 14th.

Hon. Nathan A. Tufts, the District Attorney, has been elected to the office of District Attorney for the District of Middlesex.

This club meets every Monday evening for a dinner together, and any young man is invited to join this club for good fellowship and benefit derived from hearing good speakers.

A limited fund is available to be used to assist ex-service men who desire to attend evening classes in educational institutions in Greater Boston. The committee to pass on these applications consists of: Mr. Harold T. Dougherty, chairman; C. C. Perry, H. W. Strandquist, T. R. Lockwood, and H. W. Bascom, secretary.

Applications may be handed to any member of this committee or call Mr. Bascom, Newton North 592 for additional information.

The committee would appreciate knowing about any ex-service men who are studying, who might be interested in this matter.

CENTRAL SQUARE THEATRE

A particularly attractive vaudeville program is scheduled for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, including Ziemann and McIntyre in "Newspaper Acrobats." Four Dancing Demons, Vaudeville's Fastest Dancing Offering, Paul Dicker and company "Rhubarb" Coscia and Verdi the Violin and Cello Boys, Petticoat Minstrels, an entirely new offering of Dottie Claire's Minstrel Maids.

There will be two big Sunday night concerts, from 5.30 to 10.30, continuous. An entire change of program is planned for Thursday, Friday and Saturday featuring Viola Dana in "The Willow Tree" and five big vaudeville acts.

BASKET BALL

The local Y. M. C. A. basket ball team resumed the home schedule Wednesday and won a very close and interesting game from the fast Gloucester five. The end of the 1st half resulted in a tie score, but Newton traced out in the final period finishing the game with a 7 point lead. Capt. Hunt, who is out of the game with water on the knee was missed from the lineup as he is the strongest individual scoring player on the team. It is hoped that he will soon return to the team. Brimblecom, who substituted for Hunt did well shooting nine baskets from the floor, while Shaw got five.

There will be no game next Wednesday the date being reserved for the Boston Red Cross Life Saving Corps which is to give an exhibition in the Y. tank of life saving, resuscitation, use of the pulmotor, swimming strokes, plain and fancy diving. This demonstration is open to the public. No admission charged. Ladies invited.

JACKSON—LEE

The marriage of Miss Isabella D. Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis W. Lee, and Dr. Henry Jackson, Jr., took place Saturday noon in the First Unitarian Church, Chestnut Hill. The Rev. Addison Moore, minister of the church, officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore white satin with a long court train. The tulle veil, edged with point lace, was fastened with a Russian head-dress of the same lace, and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses tied with white gauze ribbon.

Miss Edith McHenry, a cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore lavender chiffon, a large hat of lavender cloth of silver and carried a bouquet of roses.

The bridesmaids were Miss Susan D. Lee, Miss Alice Lee, Miss Lucy Aspinwall and Miss Barbara Rice. The Misses Lee were in apple green chiffon; Miss Aspinwall and Miss Rice in jade green chiffon, and all wore taupe hats and carried bouquets of roses.

The decorations in the church were white roses, heather and bay trees, the windows banked with small orange trees in Italian vases.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Lee home on Hammond street.

NEWTON REAL ESTATE

John T. Burns & Sons report that they have sold for J. T. Webster, the two-family frame and stucco house situated at 64 Eddy street, Newtonville. With the house, there is approximately 4500 square ft. of land. Total valuation is $8500. E. J. Snow purchases for a home.

John T. Burns & Sons also report that they have sold for G. Wilbur Thompson, the new, seven room, single house situated at 19 Salisbury road, Newtonville, to Winfield C. Dwinall. With the house, there are 9000 square feet of land, total valuation $7000.

Through the same office, the beautiful brick house, recently completed on Kenilworth road, Newton, has been sold to Ezra Hartford. Robt. T. Fowler was the grantor. Together with the house, there are 10,000 square feet of land. Total valuation $18,000.

John T. Burns & Sons also report that they have sold for Leon Rubenstein, the two-family frame house at 70 Eddy street, Newtonville. With the house, there are 4500 square feet of land, Patrick J. DeBourke was the purchaser. Total valuation is $7500.

KENDRICK—CHILDS

Miss Mary Chaffin Childs, daughter of the late Edwin O. Childs, was quietly married to Mr. Arthur Kendrick, at her home on Richardson street last Saturday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. Grant Person assisted by the Rev. Wolcott Calkins.

The best man was Mr. Andrew P. Alvord of New York. The matron of honor was Mrs. Allan C. Emery of Weymouth Heights, and the ribbon girls Miss Mabel G. Emery and Miss Virginia C. Emery of Weymouth Heights.

Mr. C. Alfred Chaffin of Newton. The little flower children were Elsie Earle Emery of Weymouth Heights, and Edwin O. Childs, Jr.

The bride wore white satin trimmed with white applique lace, and a tulle veil with orange blossoms. The matron of honor wore a pink crepe de chine trimmed with braid.

A reception followed the wedding, the house being prettily decorated with pinks, and green foliage. Miss Mabel E. Emerson of Andover played the wedding marches of Lohengrin and Mendelssohn.

After February 14 Mr. and Mrs. Kendrick will be at home at 45 Hunnewell avenue, Newton.

CHURCH NOTICE.

First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Newton. Player's Hall, Washington Street, West Newton. Sunday service 10:45 A. M. Subject of lesson-sermon: "Sacrament." Sunday School 10:45 A. M. Testimonial meeting Wednesday 8 P. M. The public is cordially invited to attend the services and to use the Reading Room at 297 Walnut Street, Newtonville, which is open daily from 2 to 6 in the afternoon, and on Tuesday and Saturday evenings.

RING CHURCH BELLS

January 16, 1920, will pass into history as a red-letter day for the United States, and the whole world, and it is urged that the churches of Newton come into line with those all over the land and usher in the advent of prohibition by the ringing of the bells from 11.50 P. M. to 12. The great victory should be heralded with rejoicing by the forces for righteousness.

POLICE NOTES

Three men were arrested in the West End of Boston last Saturday, charged with being part of the gang which shot up Police Officer Henry Loughlin in Newtonville on December 19. They were arraigned before Judge Copeland on Monday.

No pleas were entered and cotinnances were granted for a week. Clifford H. King, twenty-six years old, of South street, Waltham, was placed under bonds of $25,000, of which $15,000 was imposed for assault with intent to murder and the remainder for breaking and entering and larceny in the night. His companions, Michael Bruno, aged twenty-eight, of East Boston, and Carl Kevorin, twenty-three, of the West End, were each placed under bonds of $10,000 for breaking and entering and larceny in the night.

One way to reduce carbon trouble

Heavy carbon deposits in the combustion chamber and on piston heads cause lots of engine trouble ranging from pre-ignition of the fuel charge to destruction of the lubricating oil. This trouble is avoided. With uniform, high grade gasoline that possesses even vaporizing and ignition qualities, carburetion can be so perfectly regulated that the fuel charge is burned up completely, leaving a minimum of carbon deposit.

SOCONY Motor Gasoline meets every motor fuel requirement. It is carefully refined to a definite standard of high quality. It is as uniform as modern science can make it. Its carburetion and ignition qualities assure dependable power under all weather conditions. Standardize on SOCONY for motoring economy and satisfaction.

The Annual Parish meeting of the Church of the Messiah will be held in the Chapel on Monday evening, January 12th at 8 o'clock. At this meeting annual reports will be made on the work of the past year, and officers will be elected for 1920. The meeting will be preceded by the Annual Parish Supper at 6.30 in the Parish Hall.

The next meeting of the Auburndale Club will be held on Saturday night at the Woodland Park School when Major W. O. White of the Intelligence Service of the Canadian Military Forces will speak to the club on his experiences in Russia. Major White was in charge of the Photographic Division of the Intelligence Service and spent ten months in Russia.

Refreshments will be served.

The services at the Church of the Messiah next Sunday the 11th will be appropriate for the inauguration of the "Church's Call"—a movement which is being observed in the Episcopal Churches throughout the Diocese of Massachusetts at this time. At the morning service (10.30) Rev. Douglas Matthews will preach on the subject and give his perspective of the nationwide movement of which the Church's call forms a part, in which wider movement, also, he has already taken part—"The Service of Lights" will be held on Sunday evening at 7.30. This service will illustrate in a vivid, impressive way the Epiphany Story of the Visit of the Wise Men to Bethlehem and its meaning in Christian life.

MR. STEVENS DEAD

Mr. Horace P. Stevens died Tuesday at his home on Crescent avenue, Newton Highlands. He was born in West Newfield, Me., in 1842, the eldest son of Addison Roscoe and Mary Elizabeth Stevens. When a young man he came to Boston and enlisted there for the Civil War, serving as a private in the 44th Massachusetts Infantry. For many years he was engaged in the retail grocery and provision business in Charlestown.

Afterward he was in the produce commission business on John street, Boston, and still later carried on a retail grocery and provision business in Chelsea, where he resided for about 40 years. Soon after the Chelsea fire of 1908, he moved to Newton Highlands. He leaves a widow, a son and two daughters.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the Massachusetts Crematory Chapel, Forest Hills, in charge of a Christian Science reader.

Newton Centre

Mr. Samuel Armstrong, who has been ill at his home on Center street for the past week is able to be out.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bolinger of 44 Grafton street are rejoicing in the birth of a daughter born January 3rd.

The engagement is announced of Miss E. Agnes Wallace to Mr. Maurice LaCroix of Dummer Academy, Byfield, Mass.

Miss Lillian Johnson of Beacon street is again able to be out after being confined to her home with a slight illness for the last week.

Mr. Isaac Smith Hazard died last week Thursday at the residence of Mr. Levi B. Dowley on Hancock avenue. He was 64 years of age and a resident of the Newton Centre churches.

The Young Peoples Societies of the Newton Centre churches are planning a community social for Saturday evening, January 24, Mr. A. T. Leary, the new Community Secretary, is helping the societies in their plans.

Funeral services for the late Gustav W. Ulmer were held Sunday afternoon at his late home on Bowen street. Rev. Edward M. Noyes, pastor of the First Church officiated and the interment was in the Newton Cemetery.

The Woman's Union of the First Baptist Church met as follows: Wednesday, Circle No. 1 with Mrs. Wilcox on Homer street; Circle No. 4 Tuesday, with Mrs. Burbeck of Grant avenue. At the latter circle Mrs. Bradbury and Mrs. Robbins spoke.

Tonight at the First Baptist Church Prof. P. M. Vaughan will speak on the Student Volunteer Movement. Delegates from the First Baptist Church and from the Newton Theological Institution will also speak at the Convention now being held at Des Moines, Iowa.

The Men's Club of the First Church held its monthly dinner Monday evening. At 7.45 Mr. F. F. Weiss, recently of the United States Department of Justice spoke on "Experiences in Rounding Up Enemy Aliens." The ladies of the parish were invited to hear Mr. Weiss address.

Tuesday night Mrs. Harry E. Clifford of Beacon street, entertained the members of her bridge club at her home. As Mrs. Charles P. Smith of Lake avenue happened to have a birthday on that night, she was presented with a birthday cake which came as a great surprise.

At the annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of Trinity church on Monday Mrs. Louis H. Fitch was chosen president, Mrs. John Bogart, secretary, and Mrs. Fannie E. Long, treasurer. Following the business meeting, tea was served by Mrs. Harmon Curtis, Mrs. Edward B. Stratton, Mrs. William Lambkin, and Mrs. William B. Neal.

Mrs. Katie Waller Barrett, President of the National Florence Crittenton Mission, is to speak at the First Church next Tuesday at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Barrett is president of the National Council of Women, and, during the war, Chairman of the Army and Navy Commission of Training Camp Activities. The meeting is to be an open one and all women interested are invited to attend.

The Young People's Club of the First Church is to hold a cafeteria supper tonight at the First Church at 6.30. Following the supper there will be short addresses by the Rev. Edward M. Noyes, Mr. Ralph McClellan and Mr. Mark Noble. Later in the evening, Mr. Robert Remick and Mr. Hasler Capron will give a sketch.

Miss Priscilla Ordway will present a sketch of which she is in charge, and there will be readings by Miss Flora Bosson.

"The Basis of Industry, or Business and the Golden Rule" is the subject of an address in Trinity Church, Sunday evening at 7.15, by Charles A. Andrews, treasurer of the Gorton & Fisheries Co., and president of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts, which includes over 1,400 of the leading industries of the Commonwealth. Mr. Andrews is qualified to speak with authority on the subject of business, which, as his subject implies, has a basic relation to the Golden Rule. He will give some first hand information of vital interest.

At the First Baptist Church on New Year's Day a reception by the members of the Woman's Union to the members of the Church and congregation was held in the chapel. There was a large gathering. A buffet supper was served, after which the meeting was adjourned to the main auditorium to hear and see the stereotyped lecture "The Challenge of a World Task" by Rev. Sumner R. Vinton. Mr. Vinton is in the forefront of the great Inter-Church World movement, being in charge of the lantern slide department which is to visualize the statistical part of the World Survey. Maps, charts and wonderful pictures illustrating the present moral, religious and educational conditions in the world, in both the foreign and home fields were thrown on the screen, and the magnitude of the great task that the Inter-church World Movement is now to shoulder was most convincingly shown.

The annual church supper and meeting of Trinity Church held on Tuesday brought out the largest attendance in the history of the church. The treasurer's report was read by Mr. Charles B. Moore; the result of the Every Member Canvass by Mr. Charles H. Wilkins; the report of the Sunday School by Mr. Charles A. Barrett; the report of the Junior Service League by Mrs. H. O. Winslow; the report of the Woman's Auxiliary by Mrs. W. Cornell Appleton; Floral and Altar by Mrs. Allen Hubbard; Men's Club by Mr. George M. Randall; Girls' Friendly Society, Mr. Samuel P. Paul in the absence of Miss Hattie B. Ward, and the report of the House Committee, by Mr. William B. Neal. The officers elected for the ensuing year were: Senior Warden, Isaac S. North; Junior Warden, Louis H. Fitch; treasurer, Mr. Charles B. Moore; clerk, Mr. Samuel B. Paul; assistant treasurer, Mr. Clarence H. Wilkins; vestrymen: Messrs. Robert Casson, William G. Snow, D. Crosby Greene, John C. de Mille, John F. Milner, and D. Bradlee Rich.

OUR SCHOOLS

Comprehensive Report Recently Made to The Board of Aldermen on Condition of Public Schools

The following copious extracts from the recent report of the Committee on Schools to the aldermen on the administration of the Newton Schools will interest many of our readers:—

There are 10 central elementary school buildings and two high school buildings.

The elementary schools are conducted by 10 principals, eight of whom are supervising; 18 assistants; 16 subordinate building assistants (on trial); 146 room teachers; 25 kindergarten teachers and assistants; 12 special teachers; seven supervisors of special lines of study and one general supervisor serving as assistant to the Superintendent of Schools and directing mainly primary work. The pupils attending these elementary schools are 6534 in number; the teachers, excluding principals, supervisors and special teachers, number 205, making the general ratio of teachers to pupils about 1 to 32. Each school room is termed a unit and the extent of supervision by the principals is shown to be:—

For the Bigelow school district, 21 units; Horace Mann, 23; Stearns, 21; Pierce, 30; Burr, 17; Hamilton, 4; Wolcott, 7; Emerson, 14; Hyde, 17; Mason, 25.

The combined teaching and supervising forces of these schools aggregate 235, made up of 137 women under 40 years of age; 29 between 40 and 45; 17 between 45 and 50; and 32 over 50, in all 215 women. Of the 20 men 11 are under 40 years of age; two between 40 and 45; three between 45 and 50; and four over 50; 12 of these men are married and eight are single.

The high schools are contained in two buildings; the one on Walnut street containing pupils taking the popularly called classical course, the one on Elm road providing technical and vocational education. These three schools are conducted by three principals, 19 department heads, four teaching assistants, five secretaries and 74 regular teachers, 104 in all. The number of pupils per teacher in the classical school averages 26.8; in the technical school, 25.5; in the vocational school, 10.8. Of the total teaching force in these schools, 61 teachers are under 40 years of age; 18 between 40 and 45; eight between 45 and 50; and 17 over 50; 33 men are married and seven are single.

The school department is in charge of a school committee of seven members, who employ a superintendent and organize, equip and maintain a secretarial department headed by a secretary of their own choosing. The city charter segregates the school department from the other administrative functions of the city and clothes the department with authority to expend appropriations in such distributions as the school committee may elect.

The investment of the city in school buildings, grounds and permanent equipments is estimated by the Commissioner of Public Buildings ($1,610,400 for buildings) and others (School Committee, lands, $257,150, equipment, $149,500) to be approximately $2,017,050. Allowing for depreciation and progress toward obsolescence, this estimate may properly be reduced to $1,700,000, but equal accommodations to be provided at the present time would cost at least $2,500,000. As school property is not readily convertible to other uses, this present investment value represents a commercial aspect of the educational structure viewed as a plant erected to produce something.

Excluding permanent repairs, external improvements and replacements, the cost of operating this plant has risen from $117,654 in 1889 to $572,318 in 1919, the valuation of the city in that same period increasing from $34,654,672 to $78,635,390, while the number of pupils increased from 4283 to 8650.

If the valuation of the city's taxable property were today on the same basis as in 1916, the amount today would be at least $95,000,000. Then utilizing the preceding figures for comparison with 1919, it would follow that the increase in valuation over 1889 would be 174 per cent. or at the average rate per year of 5.8 per cent.; the increase in population 113 per cent., yearly average 3.8 per cent.; the increase in enrolment of school pupils 113 per cent., yearly average 3.8 per cent.; the increase in schools operation 387 per cent., yearly average, 12.9 per cent.

The cost per pupil in 1889 was $27.47; in 1919, $65.86; an increase in the 30 years of 140 per cent. or at a yearly average of 4.67 per cent. The arrangement of all these figures is interesting and shows the stages passed in the evolution of the educational structure as conducted by the school committee. The material fact is that the rate of gain in valuation (5.8 per cent) has exceeded the rate of gain in cost per pupil (4.67 per cent) by 24 per cent.

The figures rest on the total enrolment of pupils; the average attendance at the schools is 92 per cent. of this enrolment; but this fact does not lessen the usefulness of the figures in appraising the stages through which

AMERICANIZATION

Discussed at Public Meeting Held at Technical High School

A public meeting on Americanization was held Monday evening at the Technical High School, Newtonville. The meeting was presided over by Mayor Childs who said that Americanization was interpreted in many ways, but, in his opinion, it stood for that process which enabled those who came to our shores to blend the best ideas of the old world with those of the New World.

The first speaker was Mr. Everett Kent, Chairman of the School Board, who said that the Committee on Public Safety which did so much during the war realized the importance of Americanization work and passed resolutions that this work should continue. He said that Mr. Murray of the Vocational School had been made head of the work in Newton.

Mr. Charles F. Towne, recently in charge of the Immigrant Education in Boston, then spoke. He said that our nation was made up of strong individualists, and that we were evolving a national consciousness similar to the movements in other countries. America, he added, has been so busy heretofore expanding and building up industries that she has neglected the new-comer, and allowed him to be exploited. These new-comers bring very real contributions in the way of Art, Music, etc. He said that we must bring the schools to the foreigner, and that in all work with and for the foreigner the feeling of friendliness was essential.

As Mr. Mahoney who was to speak was unable to be present owing to illness, the next speaker was Mrs. Isabel D. MacLean of Lynn. Her topic was "The Application of a Program of Americanization in a City." She explained the Federal State Plan as a plan by which the government at Washington through the Federal Director should work with a Director in each State, and with a Director in each city. She then gave a concrete illustration of the working of the plan in the city of Lynn.

Three groups she said, were essential to the successful carrying on of an Americanization program. These were a group of representative women of the community; secondly, a group of representative men in which the School Board should have a prominent part; and thirdly, a group of representatives of the different races of the community.

In Lynn there are 30 different races. Representatives of each of these were secured, and invitations were sent asking them to come to a conference to "talk of the extension of the schools to adults." To make the gathering less formal, all sat in a circle.

NEW JUDGE

City Solicitor Elias B. Bishop Appointed to Superior Court by Gov. Coolidge

City Solicitor Elias B. Bishop of this city was nominated by Governor Coolidge yesterday, to be a judge of the Superior Court. The nomination was a complete surprise both to Mr. Bishop and his friends who had no idea that the Governor was considering his name. It is needless to add that the nomination is heartily commended by every acquaintance of Mr. Bishop.

Mr. Bishop was born in Newton, August 2, 1862, and graduated from Phillips Andover, Harvard University ('94) and the Harvard Law School ('97) being immediately admitted to the bar. He formed a partnership at that time with Mr. George M. Cushing, which has continued to the present day.

In 1904-05-06 Mr. Bishop served in the board of aldermen of Newton and in 1907-08-09 in the House of Representatives. In 1915 Mayor Childs appointed him as City Solicitor, a position which he has filled to the complete satisfaction of the city government.

It is interesting to note that Mr. Bishop's father, the late Hon. Robert R. Bishop, served for many years as a judge of the Superior court, prior to his death.

Mr. Bishop resides on The Ledges road, Newton Centre, in the Bishop homestead.

LODGES

At the meeting Wednesday night, of Dalhousie lodge of Masons, W. M. Wilfred A. Wetherbee, master of the lodge in 1880-81, was presented with a Henry Price medal, having been a member of the lodge for 50 years. Life memberships were also conferred upon Messrs. Asa Hall, William D. Harvey, A. Stuart Pratt, Frederick F. Cutler, Ernest W. Hall, John R. Robertson, Frank L. Nagle, Charles F. Hunting and Edward F. Hamlin.

At the next meeting of Dalhousie lodge on Wednesday evening, after the business session, the ladies are invited to an illustrated lecture by Private Robert M. Irwin of Newtonville, on the battlefields of France, including pictures of Chateau Thierry, St. Mihiel and Toul.

WORDS OF PRAISE

Boston Chamber of Commerce Commends Action of Newton Constabulary

The following letter has been received from the Boston Chamber of Commerce by Col. James G. White, commanding the Newton Constabulary unit of the Massachusetts State Guard:—

January 6th, 1920.
Col. James G. White,
Boston, Mass.

The Directors of the Boston Chamber of Commerce representing the business interests of Boston, desire to express their appreciation of the service which you, as Commander of the Newton Constabulary, and the men in your command, rendered to the city of Boston during the recent tour of duty following the strike of the Boston police.

The manner in which the duty was performed was of the highest order. The high standard of our citizenship was revealed by the events in which you had a share, and as a necessary consequence the future of our country is the better insured. The law was vindicated and order was enforced. This general accomplishment has been enthusiastically commended from one end of the country to another.

The Directors of the Chamber have unanimously voted that this letter, signed on behalf of the Chamber by its President, be sent to you as an evidence of this appreciation on the part of the business community.

A letter has also been sent to the officers and men of your command.

Yours sincerely,
Signed, JOHN R. MACOMBER, President.

DEATH OF MRS. MAY

Mrs. Emma Elizabeth May, the widow of the late Samuel P. May, died yesterday morning at her home on Centre street, Newton. Mrs. May was born in Boston May 10, 1838, but has resided in this city all her married life. She is survived by two daughters, the Misses Jeannie and Stella May, both of Newton, and two sons, Mr. William R. May of Newton and Dr. John B. May of Cohasset. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at her late home, 272 Centre street, at 2.30 o'clock.

CHARITY BAZAAR

Newton Lodge of Elks are Making Elaborate Plans for Coming Event

The Elks' Bazaar, which is to be held the week beginning January 26th, promises to be a mid-winter event of unusual interest. It is the first affair of the kind undertaken by Newton Lodge, the members of which are making every effort to establish a brilliant record for attractive public entertainment.

The bazaar is to be given for the benefit of the Elks' charity fund, a recognized agency for good wherever the order is known. The Newton lodge has annually distributed bountiful Christmas baskets to the needy, while the National organization of Elks has been responsible for innumerable benefactions. Evangeline Booth has said that if it had not been for the fund raised by the Elks the Salvation Army could never have carried on its admirable work. It is well known that the Elks expended $500,000 in reconstruction hospitals for soldiers and sailors injured in the World War, including the large institution on Parker Hill, Boston.

The coming bazaar will be held in the Elks' Home in Elliot Block. The arrangement of booths will prove, it is believed, distinctive and novel. There will be a booth for each color, red, white, blue, purple, yellow and green. In addition there will be a doll booth, novelty booth and candy booth, together with many special attractions.

It will be the aim of the lodge members, all of whom are industriously engaged in completing the plans, to have an extended variety of purchasable articles. In fact just what is to be offered must remain a surprise for the bazaar is intended to "make 'em sit up and take notice." To that end a large committee of ladies has been active in contributing for each table articles that will find ready buyers and thereby increase the receipts.

In connection with the bazaar a souvenir of the occasion is to be published. It will possess more than ordinary value as it is to contain pictures of the 27 officers and of the Elks home. It will give a history of the order and its part in the World War, together with the names of the men who went from the Newton lodge. Four hundred copies will be bound with hard covers and will be preserved by the members. The other copies for general distribution will be exactly the same except for the covers.

The executive committee for the bazaar is made up of John J. Doherty, chairman; George M. Cox, treasurer; J. Edward Callanan, secretary; Edwin O. Childs, Oswald J. McCourt, Malcolm P. McKinnon, Thomas J. Sullivan, Charles S. Ensign, George P. Tracy, Bancroft L. Goodwin, Geo. P. Flood, Vincent M. Tarley, Dr. Howard Moore and Walter F. Hannigan.

Mrs. Willard L. Sampson is chairman of the Ladies' Committee. Mrs. A. W. Fairweather, Mrs. John Barwise, Mrs. M. C. Drennan, Mrs. Geo. P. Flood, Miss M. M. Shields and Mrs. James T. Burns are the assistant chairmen, who, with a competent corps of helpers, will have charge of the various booths. Mrs. Walter F. Hannigan will have charge of the candy table and Miss Georgia Winslow of the doll table.

The Ladies' Committee has been very busy for the past month with many social events for the benefit of the bazaar. Notable among these was the dance January 1st, by Mrs. A. W. Fairweather. The following week a dance was given by the Blue Bell Club, Mrs. John Barwise, hostess, and last Wednesday evening an entertainment and dance was given under the direction of Mrs. James T. Burns and her assistants.

READ FUND LECTURE

Donald B. MacMillan of Bowdoin College gave a most interesting lecture at the Hunnewell Club on the "Riddle of the Arctic," Monday evening under the auspices of the Read Fund. Mr. MacMillan made his first trip to these regions with Col. Perry and later at the head of his own expeditions. Many of the pictures were unusually beautiful coloring, and gave a very good idea of conditions in that little known country. He was greeted by a large and appreciative audience.

IT CAN BE DONE

The U. S. Government has decreed that it is unlawful to buy or sell intoxicating liquors.

THE HOTEL WESTMINSTER

always has and always will live up to the letter and spirit of the laws of the country. And while there was a substantial revenue derived from the sale of wines and liquors, we maintain the fact that this revenue is not a vital issue in the successful management and conduct of a hotel.

THE POLICY OF THE HOTEL WESTMINSTER

will be as heretofore, to give the Best Quality of Service in All Departments, to provide comfortable and attractive rooms for the convenience and comfort of our patrons, to furnish the best obtainable in food, dance music and entertainment and, by so going, we expect to gain and hold the approval of those who make the Westminster their headquarters.

THE NEWTON SCHOOLS

the educational plant has passed in the last thirty years. Its product today, 1919, as measured in the highest or the eighth grade, is 563 pupils, substantially all of whom take up high school work. The total number of pupils in the three higher schools is made up of 697 in the technical; 317 in the vocational and 933 in the classical, totaling 1947. Since 1898 to June of the present year, there have been graduated from the classical high school, 2893 pupils, of whom 1679 or 58 per cent have gone to colleges and other advanced institutions. In the present school year there have been under training in the classical high school 19 non-resident students; in the technical, 8; in the vocational, 106; total, 133; the receipts for whose tuition, from sources outside the city treasury, are estimated to be $20,773. These outside students are in the main in the vocational school, attending under the provisions of the state law and the state will return to the city, under this law the sum of $18,550. Toward the maintenance of this school, the city receives through state allotment, federal funds authorized by the "Smith-Hughes" Act.

Statement of the Federal Board for Vocational Education: "The Smith-Hughes fund allotted to Massachusetts is an increasing amount up to the year 1925-1926. It is not possible at this time to forecast the amounts to be received in the different years but we have indicated the figures from the 1919-1920 allotment to the maximum allotment in 1925-1926 on the basis of the amounts we received during the last two years. The allotment to Newton is on the basis of Newton's per cent. of the expenditures of the State for certain kinds of vocational education. If larger amounts are spent by other places Newton's share will be reduced. It may also be reduced if we do not use it for the purposes indicated, that is, promotion of vocational education as outlined by instruction from the State Office."

The amounts to be distributed to Massachusetts, and the possible amounts which Newton may receive are estimated to be 1919-20, State $11,960.45; 1920-21, $135,214.44; Newton, 1919-20, $5,598.02; 1920-21, $6,760.72.

There has been no question as to the standing of the Newton schools on the educational scale and there will be no question thereon in the future if these schools are rightly praised. To maintain them progressively, to enable them to serve the paramount purposes of teaching, training and developing the children into youth and the youth into intelligent, sound and straight thinking citizens, will require that adequate appropriations be made therefor. But such appropriations by this Board must be weighed most carefully in the scale of the efficiency of the school committee as expressed in its estimates and methods.

The committee has given much study to the expenditures made and proposed by the school committee and to the question of "worth while economies" which the order imposes. The conclusions may be stated as follows:

The school committee is an unpaid body. In 1918 it held 15 meetings, the current year there will be probably 18 meetings. The members of the committee rarely visit the schools, with the exception of the Chairman, and the information on which the committee acts is furnished mainly by the Superintendent of Schools, the secretary of the committee and the general supervisor acting as assistant to the Superintendent. The accounts, records, etc., are kept by the secretarial department which also conducts all correspondence and maintains all files. The methods of this department are accurate, but overloaded. They have been evolved by the labor of the secretary who has come to the point where details and complications have required much overtime work. This department is a labor saving mechanism in modern office accounting, and its bookkeeping should be separated from its statistical and general work. Only by these improvements can its work be promptly done and results made available on short demand. More floor space is necessary for employees and furniture and with all of the provisions, the efficiency of this central function of school administration will become what it ought to be.

The Superintendent of Schools carries the largest burden of the administration; his activities are necessarily unremitting and his experience of twenty years or more, coupled with his executive ability, has fitted him to carry the responsibility of conducting the teaching of 5000 with successful returns to parents and the municipality. The committee believes him to be efficient and skilful in the apportionment and distribution of appropriations allotted to the school committee and expended under the direction of that committee.

The schools are widely separated throughout the city, preventing the concentration of pupils possible in compact cities, and therefrom results an increase in the cost of education in the public schools when compared with the cost in such cities.

There appears to be no way by which concentration of pupils can bring about economies. The elementary school principals now divide the time between the different school buildings in their charge and under the universally accepted system of elective studies, concentration of pupils in greater room numbers is impracticable; hence no saving can be safely made in this respect.

In the purchase of supplies, such as books, stationery, apparatus, and material required for use by teachers and pupils, the committee finds that no saving can be made in the appropriations therefor, except as and when prices for the same become lower.

The purchases of the department are made with care and many materials are used to serve double purposes.

In the heating and lighting of the school buildings material savings may be made through the assignment of the care of these things to a properly qualified head, who by training and experience would have the capacity to take charge of and should have authorized supervision over, interior repairs, maintenance of equipment and janitors' service. As a field or supplementary assistant to the superintendent, having charge of physical upkeep, consumption of fuel, maintenance of lighting service and repairs needing prompt attention, he would save to the city several times more than the salary he would be paid. Such attention and prevision as he would give to the various buildings would enhance the facilities of the school rooms and promote the comfort and health of the pupils.

Another economy possible is in the rearrangement of the department heads of the vocational school.

This school is maintained in part by the state; to annex it to the technical school might reduce the total cost of conducting it as a department but certainly not below the cost which the city now meets after the state has contributed to the maintenance. Unless this school is maintained by the city on its present scope the contributions by the state and from the Federal Smith-Hughes fund will cease. The possible rearrangement would substitute four department heads for the present eight, placing one man in charge of all shop work. The necessary co-ordinator, or medium between the outside demand for students who had completed their courses and qualified for positions and the school courses, should have the general supervision of all shop activities. There may be difficulty in the way of obtaining a man equipped for this position, but that it would result in an arrangement securing economy there is no doubt. It is the belief of the committee that the school committee can well consider this opportunity to save money while not lessening the efficiency of the school in any particular.

As to whether the schools of any grade are teaching unnecessary "fads or frills," the committee finds that the classical high school educates only in those subjects which are prescribed for admission to college or normal school. The committee believes that there should be more men on the teaching staff of this school and fewer women. One reason why citizens send their boys to private schools is that there are so few men teaching in this high school. As there are only 6 male instructors in a corps of 36 it often happens that a boy has no male teacher in an entire year. The influence of a strong virile man on a class of boys is of great and lasting value.

The committee finds that the courses provided in the technical and vocational schools are those prescribed in the objectives of the schools. The output or product of these schools are absorbed—some in advance—in the demand for pupils so well trained and fitted to take up supporting and profitable occupations on leaving the school.

In the elementary schools the committee finds among the older teachers eight who have served in the Newton schools 30 years or more, some of them much longer. It is a question whether efficiency, freshness and personal influence on the young pupils always is maintained in the later years of a teacher's life. The welfare of the pupils should always be first considered, for the schools are maintained to make citizens and much of this making is done in the years before the boys and girls enter the high schools.

Of the condition of the school plant the committee reports that the evidence of neglect appears in many instances. Improper lighting and lack of lighting has resulted in unsanitary and hence unhealthy toilet conditions. The committee names no instances and is of the opinion that janitor service is in large measure to blame for many of them. Many blackboards need repairing or replacing; some of them fail entirely in the purpose they should serve. The committee believes that the entire care of the maintenance of the school house interiors, equipments of all kind, and repairs, should be lodged by ordinance with the school committee, who should be given the authority to employ a superintendent of physical property, maintenance and operation and provided with an appropriation annually, sufficient to restore the buildings and equipment to the conditions which the welfare of the pupils and the consideration of the parents demand.

In regard to the lighting of the schools the committee is unable to want of technical knowledge and the ability to estimate cost to report further than to state that some of the present lighting is defective in quality, quantity and location. The committee recommends that the school committee request an appropriation sufficient to pay for the inspection, report, advice and estimate of the cost of putting the lighting facilities of the several schools in proper and competent order.

AIDS THE Y. Q. FUND

Mr. George S. Smith, Newton Centre, Mass. My dear Mr. Smith:— I am very glad to learn that you and other good friends, are starting a movement in behalf of the Y-D Community Club House, in which our Newton citizens are asked to contribute.

As an old soldier, one of three brothers, who gave themselves to their country, in the War for the Preservation of the Union, and who holds in high esteem General Edwards, and the officers and men of the Y-D Division, I want to add my voice to the appeal you are making in their behalf.

It has been my great privilege recently to visit the historic Battle Fields on which the Y-D Division made so glorious a record, and to meet some of the men of France who fought with them. I know how much their service was appreciated. I hope Newton will make a generous subscription to this Fund. Shall be glad to contribute $100.00 toward the amount you are trying to raise.

Yours very truly,
EDWARD H. HASKELL.

DEATH OF MISS DACIS

Miss Gertrude Frances Davis, formerly a resident of Newton and one of the old families of this city, died on Tuesday in Brookline, where for the past three years or more she had made her home with her only sister, Mrs. Jeffrey Richardson (Caroline Louise Davis). Miss Davis had been ill since last September. She was of Mayflower ancestry on both sides and was born forty-four years ago in Newton, the daughter of the late Francis G. and Seraphina Homer (Whitney) Davis. Their home was on Pembroke street. Miss Davis was brought up in Newton, where she attended Miss Spear's private school. Her father, who was agent in Boston for Lawrence mills which manufactured duck, died suddenly twenty-five years ago this month, and her mother died about four years ago. Up to then, Miss Davis had devoted herself to the comfort and welfare of her mother. Later, she went to Brookline to make her home with Mrs. Richardson, who is a widow. In Newton Miss Davis was prominently identified with Channing Unitarian Church and, after going to Brookline, she attended, with her sister, the First Parish Church.

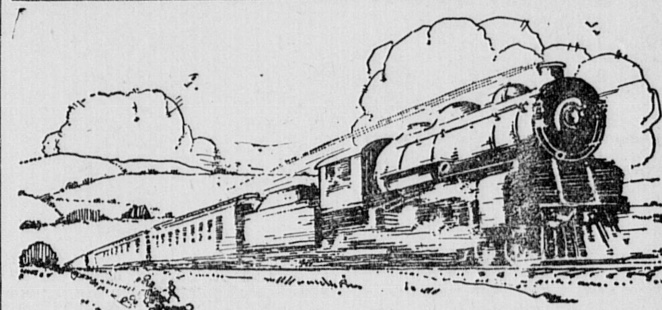

EPISCOPAL CHURCH CAMPAIGN

The Nation-wide campaign of the Episcopal Church has been opened in all of the Newton churches, and from now on until Easter special services will be held in all of these churches, singly and combined throughout the time designated by Bishop Lawrence as the campaign period.

Grace Church, Newton, will begin its active campaign next Sunday evening with a musical service and community sing. The service will open at 7.30, and the vested choir will be assisted by Mr. C. S. Goddard, violin; Mr. Harry Owens, Cornet, and Mrs. George Owen, piano.

The Choral Service program is as follows: Cantate & Deus, in C, Buck; Lamb of God (Agnus Dei), Bizet; Community Hymn Singing; Orison Hymn, "O Loving Father," Del Rio; Postlude, "Love's Greeting," Elgar; Inflammatus, Rossini.

A very cordial invitation is extended to all the members of the parish and to those of other parishes and denominations to come and take part in this very beautiful service. Other special services are to follow this one, plans having been made for an active participation in the campaign by Grace Church. Rev. Dr. Laurens MacLure will be in active charge of all of the services.

Out of accumulated capital have arisen all the successes of industry and applied science, all the comforts and ameliorations of the common lot. Upon it the world must depend for the process of reconstruction in which all have to share.

The Successful Farmer Raises Bigger Crops

and cuts down costs by investment in labor-saving machinery.

Good prices for the farmers' crops encourage new investment, more production and greater prosperity.

But the success of agriculture depends on the growth of railroads—the modern beasts of burden that haul the crops to the world's markets.

The railroads—like the farms—increase their output and cut down unit costs by the constant investment of new capital.

With fair prices for the work they do, the railroads are able to attract new capital for expanding their facilities.

Rates high enough to yield a fair return will insure railroad growth, and prevent costly traffic congestion, which invariably results in poorer service at higher cost.

National wealth can increase only as our railroads grow.

Poor railroad service is dear at any price. No growing country can long pay the price of inadequate transportation facilities.

This advertisement is published by the Association of Railway Executives.

Those desiring information concerning the railroad situation may obtain literature by writing to The Association of Railway Executives, 61 Broadway, New York.

MURHEAD—HORSFALL

Miss Elizabeth Lascelles Horsfall, daughter of Mr. Edward L. Horsfall of Newton, was married last Friday night to Mr. Charles Murhead, son of Mrs. Agnes Murhead of Scotland, at Grace Church, Newton. Rev. Dr. Laurens MacLure officiating.

Mrs. Edward D. Van Tassel, Jr., of Newton, was matron of honor, and the bridesmaid was Miss Pauline Trask of Sterling, Barbara Hervey of Needham was flower girl, and William Plant Van Tassel, ring bearer. The best man was Mr. Harlow H. Hovey of Stoneham, and the ushers were Mr. John Norman of Chelsea, and Dr. Henry Viets, Mr. Gardner Viets and Mr. Edward D. Van Tassel, Jr., of Newton.

The bride wore a gown of Brussels lace over white satin, the matron of honor, lavender changeable pussywillow taffeta with ostrich trimming and carried Ophelia roses, while the bridesmaids wore peach-colored messalaine and carried lavender sweet peas.

After the ceremony, there was a reception at the home of Mrs. H. R. Viets on Fairview street, Newton. The house was very charmingly decorated with laurel and Killarney roses.

Mrs. Murhead has been Children's Librarian of the Newton Public Library for several years.

Mr. Murhead is welfare officer at Camp Stuart, Va.

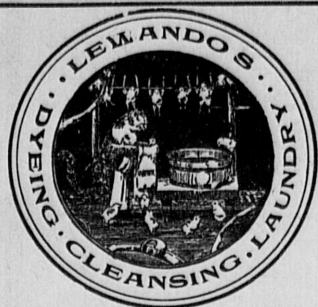

Mr. and Mrs. Murhead will make their home in Newport News, Virginia.

SMITH CAMPAIGN BEGINS

In preparation for the campaign for $4,000,000, which Smith College is to start January 17th, the Newton alumnae held an enthusiastic meeting at the Newton Club, January 7th. Mrs. Albert S. Hutchinson, chairman of the campaign in Newton, presided and announced that Newton's quota of the fund was $43,550.

Miss Ellen T. Emerson of Concord, an alumnae trustee of the College, who was with the Smith College Relief Unit in France, described the pressing needs of the college for more dormitories and for increased salaries for its teachers. Mrs. Tilden G. Abbott, Jr., chairman for Winchester, told of the ways in which Winchester has already raised its quota, and Mrs. John N. Eaton of West Newton, vice-chairman of the Boston district, described the organization and the details of the campaign. Tea was served and an informal discussion of ways and means followed.

Various entertainments, to be announced later, are planned by different groups of alumnae throughout the city to help raise this fund. Newtonville held a successful Food Sale Saturday afternoon, January 10th. Newton is arranging a series of six lectures on "The New Era," by Dr. H. H. Powers to be given in Channing Church Parlor beginning January 21st, detailed notice of which is given elsewhere in the paper.

AMERICAN LEGION NOTES

At the Army last Monday the motion pictures of the 26th Division in France were exhibited, and a large crowd was on hand to see just what the Yanks did to pass away the time while sojourning in that country. Several of the scenes were taken in the training areas, and it brought back dear (?) memories to F. D. men and other overseas men, when pictures showing troops on the hike, or learning the art of throwing hand grenades were shown. Capt. Cooper, formerly of the Signal Corps, 26th Division, delivered a descriptive lecture in conjunction with the pictures, and his humorous remarks at times evoked applause. He took the audience right into "No-man's Land" and when the last picture was flashed on the screen, everyone was firmly convinced that Sherman did not exaggerate in the slightest.

One of the hardest worked members of the Post is Finance Officer Thomas F. Hickey. In addition to his duties with the post, he is Commander of the Veterans of Company C of Newton. He is one of the most popular members as is shown by the fact that he was twice unanimously elected to fill such an important office.

Chairman Joseph Campbell of the Entertainment Committee is working hard to make this end of post activities a success, but he can do very little unless he receives the support of the whole body. He is now busy endeavoring to locate the talent that must exist somewhere in the post, but most of the members are too modest to come forward and offer their ability to him. Therefore, he is going to institute a "Secret Service Board" consisting of every member of the Post, whose duty will be to report the names of any man or woman in the post whose ability to entertain in any way is sufficient to warrant their appearance before the rest of the members.

The next meeting will be Monday, January 26th, at which some very important matters will come up for action. Commander Weeks urges every member to be present, and also extends to every Service man or woman in the city an earnest invitation to become a member.

THE GOLDEN RULE IN BUSINESS

Mr. Charles A. Andrews, treasurer of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts, and organization of over 1400 of the leading industries of the Commonwealth, spoke at Trinity Church, Newton Centre, last Sunday evening.

Mr. Andrews' message comes at a critical period in the business life of the community and of the country and was, therefore, of special interest at this time. Mr. Andrews spoke in part as follows:

"It has been the fashion of late years to look upon business as something sordid, mercenary, as something quite apart from the spiritual principle stated by Jesus. Yet, business bears a close relationship to that principle. When he said, 'For this is the Law and the Prophets,' he signified that this was the final word about co-operative effort. You cannot get along for any length of time in business unless you treat other people as you expect them to treat you. In all business, there are at least two parties, and these parties must have confidence in each other."

In 1919, $17,000,000,000 of transactions were carried on in the banks of Boston, offering innumerable opportunities for wrong doing, and yet so few were the defaulters that when one is heard of he causes a sensation. This means that when we deposit money in the banks we may trust the banks to take care of it.

Business management may be divided into two parts: those transactions dealing with those outside of the industry, and those dealing with those within the industry. In regard to the former, it is of the first importance to the manufacturer to obtain the good will of the public; to win a reputation for honorable dealing.

In regard to the second group, employers have in the past paid less attention to the Golden Rule here, but there are hopeful signs. The spiritual exaltation won through the war is manifesting itself in increased attention to "human relations."

Employers are realizing that wages are not the whole of the employment relation, that a vast other thing is necessary namely an appreciation of the employee. When groups of people get together and stay together it is because they have found a meeting place on some spiritual basis.

Industry as never before, is trying to follow the Golden Rule. Managers have already learned that if they are to maintain the good will of the public, there must be throughout the plant a feeling that the management is interested in the employee. There are still many faults, but industry is facing in the right direction. There is no need for any in this country to apologize for business today. The whole world has learned the necessity for co-operation.

HIGHLAND GLEE CLUB CONCERT

The Highland Glee Club Concert, Tuesday evening at Bray Hall, Newton Centre, was a great success.

This was the twenty-eighth concert of the club. The director was Mr. Almon J. Fairbanks, and the pianist, Mr. W. Franklin Butler. They were assisted by Miss Christine Schutz, contralto, who made such a marked success at the Worcester Festival.

The stage and entire end of the hall was decorated with evergreen trees, making an effective forest background.

The selections chosen combined classical and popular elements and the words as well as the music were of an unusual character.

Miss Schutz sang with much feeling and appreciation showing her careful training.

The selections of the club were well chosen, and much enjoyed. Especially noteworthy were the pianissimo effects, "Pirate Dreams," a lullaby with an obbligato solo by Miss Schutz was very popular. In this selection, the club hummed an accompaniment.

The program concluded with the ever popular "Annie Laurie."

CLARENCE BIGELOW ASHENDEN

The hearts of musicians and music lovers in the Southwest, say the Dallas, Texas, papers, will be saddened to hear that, after a lingering illness, Mr. Ashenden died Dec. 29th, at his home here. He spent his early years in Auburn, Mass., and was graduated at the Newton High School.

Mr. Ashenden had been prominent in musical circles before going to Dallas, having been a member and soloist of the Apollo Club of Boston, he had also sung at the Boston Symphony concerts. For several years he had charge of the Auburndale Congregational Church choir. He was a member of the Amphion Quartette.

Mr. Ashenden for fifteen years had been musical director of the First Presbyterian church of Dallas and his loss will be deeply felt by the entire congregation. He organized and conducted the old Dallas Quartette, one of the pioneer musical organizations here.

Mr. Ashenden's funeral was held at the Presbyterian Church. Music was furnished by the members of his own choir, the selections being: "Now I lay me down to sleep," "The Souls of the Righteous," "Nearer My God to Thee," the last selection being sung by the "Ashenden Quartette."

His pastor said: "Mr. Ashenden was a man of high musical taste with noble emotional ideas. He was a man of culture, and a true gentleman. He would weave his music into lines appropriate to every service. He will be sadly missed by his host of friends here and wherever he has lived."

His wife intended to take his body to her old home in Paris, Texas, but his friends and pupils came to her to beg her "to let him stay in Dallas."

They got the most beautiful lot in Grove Hill Cemetery, on the top of a hill, and there he is resting. His friends are going to put a monument there. Mr. Ashenden is survived by his wife, who was formerly a student at Lasell Seminary, Auburn, Mass., his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Ashenden of Auburn, and he is also survived by four brothers.

DEATH OF REV. MR. JAMES

Rev. D. Melancthon James, a well known resident of this city died suddenly last Friday while in New Haven, Conn., where he had been called by the illness of his son, a student at Yale.

Mr. James was in his 65th year and was born in Edensburg, Pa. He graduated from Randolph Macon College at Ashland, Va. and from the Yale Theological Seminary. He was pastor at the Pilgrim Congregational Church at New Haven from 1888 to 1897 and pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational Church, at Plymouth, Mass. from 1899 to 1904. He came to Newton in 1904. He was the assistant pastor at the Shawmut Congregational Church of Boston in 1916-17.

He is survived by his widow, Margaret Denny, a son, Donald D. James, and two daughters, Mrs. Everett W. Lathrop, and Mrs. Richard D. Pierce. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at his late home on Park street. Bishop Collins Denny, brother of Mrs. James, and Rev. J. Grant Person officiating. The bearers were Mr. R. H. Pierce, Newtonville; Mr. F. L. Ferguson, of Brooklyn; Mr. C. D. Pomeroy, of New Haven; Mr. C. W. Kelsey, of New Haven; Mr. C. R. Lamson, of Boston; Mr. A. M. Beale, of Boston and Mr. J. Woodbury, of Boston. The interment was in Newton Cemetery.

"THE RIGHT WAY"

Mr. Edwin M. Whitney of Boston, gave a delightful presentation of the comedy "The Right Way," before the Teachers' Club, Wednesday evening. There was a large and enthusiastic audience.

The play is full of wit and humor which Mr. Whitney's rendering of the parts admirably brought forth. The theme of the comedy is the regeneration wrought in one town by the straight-forward, manly character of one, "Billy Holladay" who, as he expressed it, would not "stand for a raw deal."

Almost over night, he becomes famous for daring to stand up against the "bully" of the town and his weak, cowardly son.

Eventually he succeeds in overthrowing the breweries of the town, and becomes so popular that he is invited to speak in neighboring towns, and even in far-away cities. With the money which comes to him in this way he builds up the church, and sets upon his feet the hotel-keeper, a man of sterling character whom the brewer was about to run out of town. Incidentally he marries the minister's daughter.

EDITORIAL

We believe that today, January 16th, will in the years to come be observed as one of the epochal days in the history of our country. It should rank with Emancipation Day, one marking the freedom of the slaves of work, the other the freedom of the country from the curse of alcohol.

The beneficent results of the national policy will not be perceived at once and it may be many years before they will be realized, but just as the freedom of the slaves is now recognized throughout the entire world, so will the freedom of the former slaves to alcohol, sooner or later be accepted as the best policy for the country.

The appointment of City Solicitor Bishop as a judge of the Superior Court is a matter of congratulation to the state, the city and Governor Coolidge. Mr. Bishop is the type of man to make an ideal judge and will, we predict, make a fine record on the bench. The only flaw in the ointment is the fact that he must retire from the office of city solicitor, which he has so ably filled for the past five years.

The retirement of Judge William F. Dana from the Superior court bench is a matter of regret to all who know him. Judge Dana had a splendid legislative record as president of the state Senate, member of the House and as an alderman before his appointment as judge in 1906. His painstaking, thorough and conscientious work as a judge during the last 14 years brought on a partial paralysis and compelled his retirement on account of health. Judge Dana has earned and is fully entitled to the gratitude of the community for his work as a judge.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The Great and General Court has been making time the past week waiting for the expiration of the time for filing new business which comes at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. After that there will be another delay while the hundreds of bills are being printed, and then public hearings will be assigned and the real work begin.

Committees are being organized this week by the election of clerks, the writer being selected for that job on the committee on Reconstruction.

Representative Rice of Newton Centre has been absent from the House since the day of inauguration and has been seriously ill at his home on Summer street, narrowly escaping an operation. He is now recovering.

D. A. R.

Mrs. William E. Gill entertained the Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R., at her home in West Newton on Monday, Jan. 12. The other hostesses were Mrs. Dexter R. Puffer, Mrs. George Royal Puffer, Mrs. James H. Rand and Miss Ella M. Rice. The regent, Mrs. Frederick J. Fessenden, presided and there was a large attendance. At the business session it was voted to send an annual gift to the International College at Springfield. Miss Melville, representing the Pine Mountain Settlement School in Kentucky gave a brief sketch of the origin, work and ideals of the institution. In the short time given her, Miss Melville gained many new friends for her school and a subscription was taken, to demonstrate their interest. Henry Whitmore, 2nd, of West Newton, read a paper on "Old Newton," which showed the result of much careful research. It was interesting to know, among other facts, that less than one hundred years ago the present populous city of Newton consisted of several sparsely-populated groups of houses. With the advent of the steam railroad which ran from Boston to Newton Corner, beginning in 1834, the city began to grow. Members of Lucy Jackson Chapter consider themselves most fortunate to have for their chapter house one of the few remaining houses which have stood since Newton was in its beginning.

Residents of this village are reminded that the removal of snow ordinance now applies to Newton Highlands. The snow must be removed within 24 hours after it falls, from all paved sidewalks.

A number of the friends and neighbors of Mr. E. H. Corey gathered at his home on Floral street last Saturday evening, the occasion being his 75th birthday anniversary. A pleasant evening was spent by all. Mr. Corey was the recipient of many valuable and useful presents.

Mayor Childs of Newton will be the special speaker at the Sunday evening service at St. Paul's Church next Sunday evening at 7.30. This service will be held in connection with the nation-wide drive of the Episcopal Church, and Mayor Childs will give a regular old-fashioned get-together talk in behalf of the drive. A special musical program has been prepared which will aid greatly to the interest of the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Mercer of Erie avenue, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Emily Hall Mercer, to E. Gerry Tuttle, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Tuttle of New York city. Miss Mercer is a graduate of the Newton High School, and was actively engaged in Red Cross work during the World War. She is an accomplished violinist, and has often played in aid of local charities. Mr. Tuttle is at present a student in his senior year at Amherst College. The wedding date has not been announced.

PLAYGROUND DEPARTMENT

The band concert planned for last Saturday afternoon on Bullocks Pond will be held this Saturday afternoon, weather permitting. Sufficient ice has been cleared to accommodate a sufficient number of skaters. Unless the weather spoils it again, the ice will be splendid. The band will start playing at 2.30 and play until 5 P. M.

Among the well known expert skaters will be Mr. Niles, Miss Marjorie Weld, Mr. and Mrs. Holland, Dr. and Miss Browne, Miss Foster and others. They will give a demonstration of artistic skating, including couple ice dancing.

Space will be roped off in front of the band stand for these experts. They can be watched from the ice or from the beach and automobile parties can enjoy both the music and the skating.

The Newton Classical High School

Newton's hockey septet smashed all of Brookline's chances for a victory on Wednesday, Jan. 7, by beating them 4-0 on Brae Burn skating rink. The game was marked by flashy playing on both sides, although Brookline's forward men were not fortunate enough to slip through the defense, as the Newton fellows did when they rushed the puck toward Brookline's goal. Coady was on hand every time, and seemed very capable of scoring a dozen goals, but his speed failed him at the last part of the game, and he did not have the chance to show his wonderful ability as he did when he first entered. Ayles is another forward man, not flashy, but steady and well worth watching in his stick-handling. Capt. Crosby was as steady and true as he is most always and helped to push the puck through and into the net a couple of times. The defense certainly showed up well in this first league game and with Leonard at goal, the trio never had trouble keeping Newton's goal safeguarded against score. One thing seemed to be lacking, and that was team work. This style of play has always won for Newton a high place in hockey contests, and it certainly will not be left out this season, but there was an aspect of one-man play which hindered occasionally in the progress of the game.

The contest with Andover on Saturday, January 10, proved a good example of Newton's power among "pre" schools, and resulted in giving this city the victory 4-1. Certainly much can be said about the merits of high school team which can beat a varsity team of such a school, but the score stands as a good example of what can be expected of Newton during the rest of the season. Thursday, Jan. 15, Cambridge Latin's hockey team faced Newton on the former's ice rink, and it is very probable that a stiff battle will be in store.

A third of the city government lectures being given by various men connected with the city, took place last Monday morning, when Mr. Harriman talked to the senior boys. His main point was that of the process through which a bill goes in the Board of Aldermen. He carefully traced the work of the different committees, the action taken in general cases, and then its passage or defeat in the regular session of the Board. He spoke highly of the men who were serving as aldermen and in other capacities at the City Hall, and terminated his address by saying that he felt that the city was justly proud of the fine men who served as officers directing the city's affairs.

The three upper classes assembled Wednesday, Jan. 14, in the hall, where they listened to one of the finest speakers heard this year. "Sailor" Ryan talked on the "Spirit of America," and certainly enthused his audience by his fine straight-forward manner. He told many of the facts during the Revolutionary period of this country, which lead to that spirit of Americanism, of the reasons why we should uphold the free-born policy which our forefathers struggled to save, in face of the greatest hindrances possible. His portrayal of the manner in which our ancestors fought in the Revolutionary war, how the sons of those men carried out the ideals of Americanism in the great Civil War, and in turn how their sons went to France and drove back the Hun with the true fierceness and boldness which accompanies every true American, when he fights an evil. He read a letter, written by the commander of the 6th Regiment of Marines, whose task it was to push the Germans back into their own land and save the thin line of struggling Frenchmen, 40 miles from Paris. This commander's tribute to the men who fought under him, was wonderfully expressed and showed clearly that he was willing to risk at any time the educated, athletic American, who came to fighting with Education was the key-note, education in lines which will bring before us the great deeds of the founders of Americanism.

DEATH OF MISS ELLA C. JORDAN

Miss Ella C. Jordan, one of the best known teachers of the Newton American, for 46 years a teacher in the Horace Mann School for the Deaf in Boston and principal of the school for about ten years, died at her home on Crescent street, Newton Lower Falls on Tuesday.

She conducted a private school for children on Pinckney street, Boston, for several years, then, after taking a course in the study of kindergarten work under Madame Krager, one of the first to come to this country and advocate the Froebel system, she became an assistant in the Horace Mann School in 1873, the building then being in Pemberton square. She was appointed assistant principal of the school 29 years ago, when Miss Annie E. Bond, who had held the position, died. She received instruction in the mechanism of speech from the celebrated Dr. Alexander Graham Bell. In June, 1910, she was appointed head of the school as successor to Miss Sarah Fuller, her aunt. She held the position until she resigned on account of ill-health last November.

Miss Jordan was born in Newton 67 years ago and received her early education in the Newton public schools. Her advanced studies were pursued in a Boston private school. She was a member of the New England History Association, Association of Teachers of the Deaf and of other educational organizations.

PATRIOTIC SECTION

Sarah Hull Chapter D. R. met at the Newton Club on Wednesday, the 14th. Miss Dorothy Drake was elected Historian. The program for the afternoon was in charge of the hostesses for the day Mrs. J. G. Godding, Mrs. Jacob Greene, Mrs. Warren Gregory, Mrs. Emma H. Hammett, Mrs. Wm. E. Harding and Mrs. Albert E. Hayward. A large number of guests including the daughters of several members were present and greatly appreciated the kindness accorded to us by Prof. Charles W. Kidder of Emerson College of Oratory, who read the play "Disraeli." With Mr. Kidder as our guest, and the inspiring subject of the play as a topic of conversation the social hour following the meeting was even more than usually successful.

Services were held at her late residence Friday, the Rev. Charles N. Arbuckle, and Prof. John M. English officiating. The interment was at Randolph.

In the annual bank election in Boston this week, Mr. Louis K. Liggett was elected a director in the Shawmut and in the Rockland banks. Mr. George S. Smith, a director in the Boylston, Mr. George Peabody Gardner, Jr., a director in the Merchants and Mr. Harry R. Stimpson, a director in the Massachusetts Trust Company.

Mrs. Vesta Ella Callowhill, wife of Mr. Sidney T. Callowhill, died at her home, 997 Beacon street last Thursday in her 54th year. Besides her husband Mrs. Callowhill leaves a daughter who is in High School. Services were held at her late residence, Saturday at 2 o'clock, the Rev. James E. Wagner officiating. The interment was in Newton Cemetery.

On Tuesday evening the rectors and committees of the eight Newton parishes and delegates from the parishes at Wellesley, Needham, and Watertown, were entertained at Trinity parish house. A splendid supper was followed by an address by Bishop Lawrence, and by Rev. Henry E. Sherrill of the Church of Our Saviour, Longwood.

After these addresses there was a discussion in regard to the campaign to be carried on in the Newtons.

Mr. Henry J. Ide is one of the two vice-presidents of the Diocesan Committee of the Episcopal Church, and is chairman of the Committee on Speakers. He has charge of the immense work of providing speakers for all the group meetings, instructional and devotional, and also the five minute speakers for all the churches. Mr. Ide is also chairman of the Diocesan Committee on General Missions, and under his leadership the Diocese of Massachusetts has for the eleventh consecutive year paid its apportionment for missions, and a little more, and is on the honor roll.

Lieutenant Governor Channing Cox will be the speaker Sunday evening at 7.15 at Trinity Church. His subject will be "Americanism: and Its Foes." The Boy Scouts will escort the Lieutenant Governor on that occasion. Mr. Geoffrey W. Talbot, Scout Executive of the Norumbega Council, has promised an escort, under his command, of 75 or more Boy Scouts, made up of patrols from the various Newton troops. The scouts are to meet the Lieutenant Governor in the parish house, and be presented to him, before the service, after which they will escort him into the church.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL NOTES

At the Monday Morning Assembly the Rev. J. Edgar Park of West Newton, gave an illustrated lecture upon Ireland.

Dr. Park knows the Irish nature, industries and history, both from the view-point of a native of Ireland and also as a deep student of racial characteristics and his address was most helpful and interesting throughout.

LIBRARY NOTES

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

Pursuant to a license granted to me by the Probate Court for the County of Middlesex on January 24, 1920, the following described real estate formerly of Jane Thompson late of Newton in said County of Middlesex, deceased, will be sold at public auction for the payment of her debts and charges of administration, on MONDAY, the NINTH DAY OF FEBRUARY, A. D. 1920, at 3 O'CLOCK IN THE AFTERNOON, on the premises. The property consists of land and buildings and is bounded and described as follows:

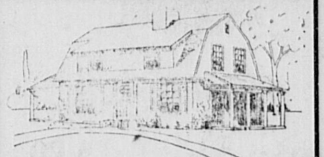

A certain parcel of land situated in said Newton, comprising Lots 8 and 9 on a plan of lands of Atwood & Weld at Newtonville made by E. S. Smille, dated July 24, 1886, and recorded August 3, 1886, and being bounded and described as follows: Easterly by Clarendon Street 114.40 feet; Southerly by Lot No. 7 on said Plan conveyed to Henry F. Ross 120 feet; Westerly in part by Lot No. 2, by Lot No. 1 and in part by other land of said Ross 114.40 feet; and Northerly by Lot No. 10 on said plan 120 feet; containing 13,723 square feet, be said measurements more or less. Together with the fee in said Clarendon Street to the middle thereof adjoining said lots, said street being a private way to be kept open for use of abutters thereon forever. Excepting, however, so much of the above described premises as was conveyed by said Jane Thompson to Henry McDermott, by deed dated June 1, 1911, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 3615, Page 577.

Said premises will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes and municipal liens, if any there be. $500 will be required to be paid by the purchaser at the time and place of sale, and the balance in ten days at the office of Dallinger & Stearns, 89 State St., Boston.

PROBATE COURT

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin and all other persons interested in the estate of George B. Knapp, late of Newton in said County, deceased.

WHEREAS, certain instruments purporting to be the last will and testament—and one codicil—of said deceased have been presented to said Court, for Probate, by Arthur M. Brown and Frederick J. Ranlett, who pray that letters testamentary may be issued to them, the executors therein named, without giving a surety on their official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge in said County of Middlesex, on the second day of February A.D. 1920, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioners are hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court, and by mailing postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, fourteen days at least before said Court.

Witness, George F. Lawton, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this thirtieth day of January in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty.

An alarm from box 234 was rung Tuesday for a fire caused by an overheated lantern in a fruit wagon owned by Mr. Soudan, of Allston.

At the cat show recently held at the Copley-Plaza Mrs. H. G. Fisher won the second prize in class 78-A by her cat, Maudy Dixie Boy.

Miss Phyllis Coombs is to play the part of Madame Larchmains in "Pomander Walk" the mid-year play to be given this year at Wheaton College.

Mr. John F. Casey and Mr. Wm. H. Sylvester were guests Monday evening at the reunion of the class of 1887 English High School of Boston.

At the annual meeting this week of the Woman's Seaman's Friend Society Mrs. Henry F. Ross and Mrs. William E. Strong were re-elected directors.

Jan. 29 the Claffin Club of the Methodist Church is to give a banquet to the members who were in the service. The speaker is to be Mr. John Kendrick Bangs.

An informal social was held in the church parlors of the Church of the New Jerusalem on Thursday evening. Dancing, bridge, music, etc., made a very enjoyable evening.

Mr. Lichter has instituted for Friday evenings at Central Church a course of study based on the origin and significance of the Bible, such course to be a definite part of the Church School.

A musical and dramatic entertainment will be given by the combined forces of the Sunday Evening Club and Central Circle of Central Church which promises a delightful evening.

Wednesday night at the church, the Central Guild of Central Church held its annual meeting Tuesday night, a unique banquet, at which Mrs. Lichter gave vivid glimpses of her work with girls in other cities, inspiring the Guild with higher goals.

Mr. George W. Taylor, for eight years Superintendent of the Sunday School of the Methodist Church, at the annual meeting on Monday asked to be relieved from his duties. His request was reluctantly granted and his successor will be Prof. W. H. Timble.

The Young People's League of New Church will meet with Miss Kathryn McLaughlin of Harvard street next Sunday evening. Supper will be served promptly at 6 o'clock. Members and friends are cordially invited to attend.

A very successful sleighing party was enjoyed by a group of young people from the New Church Monday evening. A pleasant hour followed at the church parlors where refreshments were served by Mrs. E. M. L. Gould before a blazing wood fire.

At the bank elections held this week in Boston, Mr. H. K. Hallett was re-elected president and director in the Fourth Atlantic. Mr. Arthur H. Soderstrom, vice-president and director in the Commercial and Mr. James L. Richards, a director in the Merchants.

The Woman's Association of Central Church will sew for the orphanage at Adanapur, Turkey, in charge of Miss Mary E. Kinney, and dolls will be ready to dress for the little girls of that school. Mrs. Harold Sherman has volunteered to take care of the dolls work. Mrs. F. G. Willson and Mrs. W. L. Vosburgh will be hostesses at the tea. A full afternoon is expected.

The next meeting of the Every Saturday Club will be held on January 17th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Davidson, 19 Prescott street. The subject for the evening is "The Power of the Pulpit," "John Cotton," "Anne Hutchinson," "Roger Williams." Rev. William E. Strong is chairman for the evening, assisted by Miss Alice M. Nelson and Mrs. Joseph H. Willey.

The fourth annual concert of the Glee Club and Orchestra of the Methodist Sunday School took place Tuesday night at the Methodist Church. The program included selections by the orchestra, a solo by Mr. Whitney, readings by Miss Ethel Berner, a double quartette, and selections by the Glee Club. The concert was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended special favorites being, "Dear Old Pal of Mine" by the double quartette, and "Alabama Lullaby" by Mr. Somers and the Glee Club.

The annual meeting of Central Church was held January 9, following an unusually good dinner to which 250 sat down. The church clerk, Mr. W. C. Boyden, read his twenty-third annual report, describing the eventful year, the successful quest for the right man as pastor, Mr. Lichter, and the spirit of unity, progress and devotion of the members. Among new members elected to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Albert L. Gordon, Mr. A. D. Anyansan was elected deacon, Mr. Percy F. Williams was elected deacon for six years. For superintendent of the Church School, Mr. Frank G. Willson was elected as member of the Standing Committee from the church and Mr. Samuel J. Spear and Alfred M. Ziegler from the congregation. The treasury shows a spirit of increased giving, the benevolence budget amounting to over $4,700. In the last Every Member Drive it was found that over 90 per cent. of the church members contributed through the church envelopes. Every detail of business was carried through harmoniously, under the chairmanship of the Moderator, Mr. Albert M. Lyon, even including the proposed plan of free pews and securing a suitable manse. Mr. Lichter closed the meeting with a tremendous plea that the church may stand for nothing else than a religious center of life, a spiritual challenge to young and old.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

With the approach of the Mid-winter meeting of the State Federation the Legislative matters are beginning to be considered by the clubs. The State chairman, Mrs. Charles Leslie May, in the current number of the Federation Bulletin requests all federated clubs to make time on their regular programs between January 1st and February 11th for the reading of a synopsis of the bills that the State committee will recommend for endorsement, so that the club women generally, and delegates in particular, can be well informed before the Midwinter meeting on February 11. This synopsis will be sent to every club in the State before the middle of January. The further request is made to send the Legislative chairman as one delegate to that meeting.

This is altogether desirable and should be heeded by every club. The practice is already in force in many clubs, but sometimes it is overlooked.
Women must learn more and more that they must use intelligently their power, which is great. It may, however, be said that a club runs very little risk in endorsing measures which have already been endorsed by either the State or the General Federation, for such have already been pretty thoroughly investigated, but it is wiser to know exactly what is being done by having first hand knowledge.

Local Announcements

Mrs. F. S. Keith will be hostess for the meeting of the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club tomorrow afternoon.

The Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will meet on Monday, January 19, with Mrs. C. Peter Clark of Newton Centre.

Mrs. C. S. Luitwieler will entertain the Monday Club of Newton Highland on Jan. 19.

On Monday, Jan. 19, the Christian Era Study Club will meet with Mrs.
George F. Howland, 31 Vista avenue, when the Political and Religious Results of Elizabeth's Reign, the Spanish Armada, Drake and other explorers will be considered.

John Kendrick Bangs will address the Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls on Monday evening, Jan. 19, at 8 o'clock.

Professor Bliss Perry lectures before the Newtonville Woman's Club next Tuesday afternoon on "The Puritans."

Mrs. Ernest F. Drew, 324 Central street, will be hostess at the regular meeting on Tuesday, January 20th of the Abundant Review Club. Mrs.
William I. Lawrence will speak on the "Unification of Italy."

Tickets are still available for the January concert to be given by the Chorus of the Abundant Review Club, and may be procured from any member of the Chorus. The concert will be given in the Lasell Gymnasium on Wednesday evening, January 21, at 8 o'clock. An interesting and varied program will be presented, including a cantata with Mrs. Edward Legge and Mr. W. J. Spaulding as soloists. A specially interesting number in a group of short pieces written by Benjamin Whelpley for the chorus, and not yet in print. He will accompany his own compositions, and will also be the soloist of the evening.
Mr. Whelpley is organist at the Arlington Street Church, and his fame both as organist and composer is well known. The chorus, under Mrs. W. J.
Spaulding's direction, has established an artistic standard of true excellence, which is fully maintained in the program offered for this concert.

Mrs. William C. Crawford will give the monthly lecture on Current Events before the Social Science Club next Wednesday morning. Guests may be invited.

Great interest is being manifested in the lecture by John Kendrick Bangs for the Community Club on Thursday evening, Jan. 22, at 8 o'clock, in Channing Church, not only on account of the speaker, but also from the fact that it is the first Guest Night of the club. The club chorus will render appropriate music. Mr. Bang's subject is "America Abroad."

The Newton Centre Woman's Club will have a Legislative Day on Thursday, Jan. 22, at 10 A. M. Mr. Robert W. Kelso will speak on "The State and the Individual." Mrs. Charles Leslie May, chairman of the Legislative department of the State Federation, will speak of the bills to be presented at the Mid-Winter meeting of the Federation in February.

Local Happenings

Hunnewell Club hall was taxed to the limit of capacity for the meeting of the Community Club last week when Susanna Cocroft spoke on "Woman's Place in the New America." "The America of today," she said, "is not the same as the America of four years ago.
It is a less selfish place; we are not working for ourselves alone; we have got the habit, let us keep the habit." Miss Cocroft decried the seriousness of New England women in general and urged her audience to play more, not to be absorbed by little details, but to do something outside the home; because the children are outside in the street, the mothers should get out and know the conditions under which the children are living.

She pointed out how in the last ten years disease has been on the increase and urged her audience to do something to build up the health of American women as a preventive measure.

"The health of this country is in your hands very largely, for you mothers are responsible for feeding the people. You need to know the chemical constituents and what food to eat."

She told of organizing the U. S.
Training Corps for Women at Washington among the women workers in the offices during the war and how their health was improved by the drill and other measures carried on under her direction. Miss Cocroft is now working in the interests of a bill before Congress for the establishment of permanent camps for women for the building up of their physical strength and health. She desires that Congress allow her to use certain camp equipment left over from the war and to establish these camps upon Government land, and that army officers be detached to direct the drill. It is in no way a military measure, but to provide a place where women may go for their vacation period and be built up physically that they may take their place in the world. An experimental camp was held last summer on Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, which was eminently successful.

Among the general health hints which Miss Cocroft gave was the necessity of correct posture and she scored in scathing terms the "debutante slouch," saying that it not only was detrimental to the health, but also has a moral effect upon their characters. "Relaxation of tissue means relaxation of character. Learn to stand up right in order to express uprightness."

Since the General Federation had already endorsed Miss Cocroft's measure, a motion was made from the floor that the Community Club also endorse it and it was carried without a dissenting vote.

The Chorus, assisted by Miss Katharine L. Stone and Mrs. J. J. Bosan, violently obligato, sang one selection and the club sang, "America" at the close.

Seldom, if ever, has the West Newton Woman's Educational Club held such a delightful meeting as that of last Friday, which was a musical afternoon. Miss Gladys Crockett, harpist, presented several groups of selections which were beautifully rendered. Miss Clara Wilder Jackson sang, accompanied by Miss Mertena L. Bancroft. A group of songs presented by these two artists was the original work of the pianist, Miss Bancroft, both words and music, and so thoroughly did the audience appreciate the wonderful harmony that time, place, and season were forgotten and the dark, gloomy winter's day seemed changed to an atmosphere of blue skies and sunshine, birds, flowers and butterflies. Such magic spells did these real artists work with their skill. Miss Florence King, reader, also added much to the enjoyment of the occasion by the very clever sketches. The attendance was remarkably good for such a stormy day and a very social time was enjoyed in the tea room where the pourers were Mrs.
Frederick Cole and Mrs. John B.
Shaw.

The club sent a vote of thanks to Mrs. Walter A. Beedle, chairman of music, for preparing such a delightful program.

President Mary E. Woolley of Mt.
Holyoke College speaking before the Waban Woman's Club at its Guest Day on Monday afternoon on the subject of "Reconstruction and the education of Women," said, "Reconstruction is the word which will typify this twentieth century, not a patching up of old foundations, but a building up of new and more secure ones. The way this country solves these problems will show the world how to solve them, for the world is looking to us for leadership.
This responsibility puts education in an entirely new category. Education ceases to be a luxury and becomes a necessity. What Boston is fifty years hence depends upon the character of its men and women. The draft has opened our eyes to the fact that our boasted education was not so universal as we had thought. We need to send more men and women, particularly women of a different calibre into the teaching force. The character of those who are going to train our children must be taken into consideration as well as their ability to teach.

The world is getting a new conception of the importance of education.
Men have long recognized the importance of developing the material resources of a community, but have overlooked the importance of developing the mental and spiritual resources.
Men have not hesitated to employ $10,000 to $15,000 men to develop the material resources but have never considered it necessary to employ $10,000 to $15,000 men and women for the development of the children, the intellectual and moral resources of the community.

Women have three characteristics which peculiarly fit them for bearing the burden of today. Natural love of the constructive; a sense of the personal, which is particularly needed in settling industrial questions, and idealism. We ourselves have faced a very different world from that which the girls of today are going to face.
Therefore, the girls need the college training. What are our colleges doing for them? First, they give a background, so that the woman of tomorrow will be better equipped to help in solving the world's problems. They are giving a trained mind. We have just touched the surface of what we may do through the trained mind. The thinking leadership must come from our colleges.

She urged the audience to help the colleges that they may have the power to send out young men and women quick to see and ready to meet the need of the world.

Two delightful groups of songs were rendered by Miss Mabel A. Starbird and a social hour was enjoyed afterward.

Miss Cora S. Cobb gave a most interesting account of the Solar System at the meeting of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. on Monday held at the home of Miss Marion Dorr of Lake avenue. Charts were shown and some of the latest theories concerning the heavenly bodies were explained. A social hour with refreshments concluded the afternoon.

The meeting of the Abundant Woman's Club, Tuesday afternoon, was a most enjoyable one. A double quartet, composed of members from the club
chorus, Mrs. Corey, Mrs. Ingram, Mrs. Gore, Mrs. Bacon, Mrs. Wilson,
Mrs. Furbush, Mrs. Herrick and Mrs.
Robinson, sang three short numbers.
The well known play reader, Mr. Edwin M. Whitney was most entertaining, in his reading of the play, "Turn to the Right," his dramatization being remarkably fine.

The Art class of the Newtonville Woman's Club is having a very interesting and successful season, meeting at the homes of members on the second Friday of each month. At the meeting last week at the home of Mrs. W. A. Corson, who was also in charge of the program, the subject was the English Cathedral.

The club's Home Economics class is likewise successful. The demonstration of Cakes and Frostings on Tuesday afternoon proved full of interest as was shown by the discussion afterwards.

George W. Coleman of Boston addressed the Social Science Club on Wednesday morning on "Americanization Work through the Open Forum."

In opening his address Mr. Coleman cited someone's definition of the socialist, as the man who didn't know what he wanted and was bound to have it and that of the conservatist, as the man who didn't know what the socialist wanted and was bound he should have it. This, he felt, summed up the situation in a great many cases. What is needed is to get both parties together and give them an opportunity to talk it over. He told his attendance upon the meetings at Cooper Union in New York more than 12 years ago and how he became so interested in them that he wished for something of the sort in Boston, and how he finally induced the Baptist Social Union, which had been intrusted with funds through the will of Mr.
Ford, to make the experiment, the forum. The outcome has been the Ford Hall Forum and some 400 to 500 similar forums in this country. Mr.
Coleman believes that the process of Americanization will never be complete until there is an open forum in every community. Ford Hall, he said, stands for the gospel of brotherhood. The forum is the only thing which offers the opportunity for people of a community without regard to race, character or creed to get together to listen to great men and women.
He said that for himself nothing had brought him an experience so vital and so real as that which had come through his association with the people who frequent the Ford Hall forum.
The members showed their great appreciation of the address by the numerous questions and discussion which followed.

Because of the request from Washington that the women keep strict account during January and February, Miss Agnes Donham changed her plan for the Budget class on Wednesday afternoon and instead of continuing the subject of Standards, she advised each System of Accounts, she talked upon one to hunt for the system best suited to herself, that which one person can readily understand and carry out may not be at all suited to the type of mind of another. Whatever the method adopted, it should be suited to one's need and yet be simple enough for a third person to understand. Results should be approximately correct, but don't spend time to balance to the last cent.

Every account should show date, source and amount of receipts and when, why and for what you have spent, how much you have had and how much you owe. Any system should be easily balanced, one should be able to detect leaks and gain a real sense of values.

Several systems were explained, the envelope or box system, the card index system, check book and distribution sheet and the cash book and distribution sheet. She advised carrying the checking account wherever it was possible to obtain in advance a sufficient sum to carry the balance required by the bank.

Mrs. J. S. C. Taber, chairman of Thrift for the Newton Federation, called together for a conference the Thrift chairman of the local clubs on Wednesday afternoon at the Technical high school following Miss Donham's lecture. Mrs. Irving O. P.
Palmer, state chairman, explained what is being done in other localities by the clubs and Miss Donham spoke of the Thrift exhibit recently held in Somerville.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

Interest in Camp Fire work is growing in Abundant which was shown by the larger attendance at the meeting on Thursday. In spite of the stormy and disagreeable weather a great many new names were added to the list of applications.

The girls gathered in the Kindergarten room of the Congregational Church and amid a great deal of fun and good natured criticism the following officers were elected:

CHURCH NOTICE

Ruth Obermeyer, president; Eleanor Berry, secretary; Evelyn Keyes, treasurer.

Following the election of officers
the Wobelo cheer, and the hand sign were taught to the new members and a short talk on the aims of the organization by the Guardian.

Plans for raising money for dues were discussed and decided upon and a brief program planned for each meeting for the month of January.

January 15, Council Fire.
January 22, Name Meeting, for all new girls to choose their name and symbol.

January 29, A short meeting for the younger girls followed by a lunch planned, provided and cooked by the Fire Makers.

Plans for February are not so definite but will include designing headbands, a hike, a Patriotic Council Fire, and some definite work done and planned for the rest of the year.

After this discussion the two groups separated. The younger girls were told by Miss Ames, Assistant Guardian all about the organization, its aims, ideals, about the different ranks, the honors and beads, gowns and headbands, as well as learning the Law of the Fire which every girl strives to follow every day after she joins the Camp Fire.

The last few minutes were spent in singing with motions, in preparation for the Council Fire, the Camp Fire song, Burn, Fire Burn.

It is hoped that all girls who have passed their tenth birthday and are at all interested in Camp Fire will come to the meeting January 22nd in the Congregational Chapel.

Every girl is welcome.
Mothers are very welcome, too.

SCHOOL NOTES

Miss Dorothy Drake, Editor

Stearns School

The Italian Mothers' Club enjoyed a musical program at their meeting on January 8th. It included both piano and violin solos and several trios, consisting of two violins with piano. The violinists were Mary Pucciarelli and Seby Caruso, of West Newton, pupils of the West Newton Music School. The pianists were Teresa Caruso of West Newton, also a pupil at the Music School, and Haddon White of Newton.

The senior hockey team was much elated by its victory over Peirce, the score was 3-0. A victory in the first game was all the boys needed for complete confidence.

Although the junior team was not as successful, the game resulting in a tie, 2-2, the boys were very enthusiastic over their splendid showing. Hardly any practice was held by the team before the Peirce game, but with a little practice now the boys feel confident of victory in their next game.

Cyr and Landry excelled for the seniors, while Dewolfe was the star in the junior game.

Miss Cunningham has two months' leave of absence on account of the illness of her mother.

Miss Bessie A. Mirfield of the Bigelow School is taking her place.

Peirce School

The girls in the eighth grades in spite of the many trials of a cook, are looking forward with regret to the day in about two weeks hence, when the apron and cap will be discarded and the sewing bag substituted.

The "artistic spirit" which Christ-mas awoke in us, seems to be with us still. On one of our 7th grades black-boards is drawn a wonderful representation of United States Red Cross Steamer. On it, however, is a Red Cross flag while on the stern an American flag floats.

On the board in our geography class-room we have the Panama canal drawn. We also have a sand table made to look like a canal and the surrounding country with its people, huts, and vegetation.

A meeting of the Girls' Economics Club was held Wednesday, January 14th, after school.

In the bread club a most interesting demonstration was exhibited by Miss Stocking. She showed the girls how to make bread the correct way and as she worked she explained the reason for putting the yeast cake into lukewarm water. We voted on our name for the club. It was voted to be "The Grand Old Fourteen."

The Garment Making Club also held a meeting up in the hall. The roll call was taken and games played. The name of the society is to be "Watch Our Needle Fly."

Our school magazine, it is hoped, will be published the first week in February. Pupils have been requested to contribute to the paper any literary work which they compose. The staff is as follows: Editor-in-Chief, Rosemary Scott; Assistant-in-Chief, Elizabeth Retan; Assistant-in-Chief, Lillian Johnson; Local Editor, Gertrude Wilder; Assistant Local Editor, Mary Ryan; Prose Editor, Mary Yeager; Poetry Editor, Rosemary Scott; Fun Editor, Mildred Smith; Athletic Editor, Benjamin Louis; Business Manager, Franklin Hoyt; Assistant Manager, James Carter; Alumni Editor, Katherine Tower; Assistant Alumni Editor, Philip Cronin; Foreman of Shop, Leonard Smith; Foreman of Dolan, Charles MacCarthy; Pressmen, James Cronin, Norman O'Neill, William Merritt.

Clafin

It has been arranged to have two dancing classes on Thursday afternoons, in Clafin School Hall, for the benefit of the pupils of the school. The classes will be under the supervision of two teachers who come from a school in Boston, Miss Worth and Miss Masters.

A. Horace Mann-Clafin Hockey team is to be organized to join the Grammar School League of Hockey teams.

The Class of 1920 went on a sleigh-ride on Wednesday evening, January 14, riding to South Natick, where a light lunch was enjoyed at "Old Natick Inn."

The Roger Wolcott School

The School class pins for the seniors have arrived. These pins are gold filled, circular in shape, with a small green border. "Roger Wolcott School 20" appears in raised gold letters on the border. The center has the impression of the coat of arms of the Roger Wolcott Family. Each pin has the initials of its owner engraved on the back and has a safety clasp. Nancy Kimball, the class treasurer, made all arrangements with Doherty & Company of Boston for these pins.

Keen interest is being manifested in the new vocational guidance classes, started in the seventh and eighth grades. Miss Emerson and Mrs. Colton are in charge of this work, and speak most favorably of the first lessons.

Several girls of the eighth grade cooking class prepared a most delicious dinner Friday noon for the teachers of the school.

Hyde School

Last week's purchase of thrift stamps amounted to $172.50. Miss Green's fifth grade being the leader with $62.44.

The graduating class has voted a class memorial of $35. Each member of the class has pledged a dollar toward the fund.

Some of the grades are deriving much pleasure and benefit from the use of the additional pianos of the music school.

The civics organization of Mrs. Blackmore's seventh grade has elected the following new officers: Governor—Virginia Mason; Lieutenant Governor, Almond Tewksbury; Secretary, Lillian Noyes; Treasurer, Mildred MacDonald. Chairmen of the following committees were appointed by the Governor: Health, Dorothy Smith; Police, Elizabeth Savage; Highway, Joseph Lane; Forestry, Stuart Hills; Public Welfare, Rachel Smith; Librarian, Madeline Powell.

The sixth grades of the Hyde School were favored this week by having Mr. Clarke of New Mexico, an uncle of one of the pupils, address them on Mexican life and industry. The talk was of especial value because the class is studying Mexico at this time. The intense interest of the children was manifested by the number of questions asked at the close of the address.

Allen School

The Allen School basketball team defeated Framingham last week, score 19-13.

Last Saturday the school beat Dummer Academy. The game tomorrow is to be at Norwood.

Tonight there is to be a reader from the Leland and Powers School at the school.

LA SELL

Thursday afternoon Miss Neville spoke on the school work of the Pine Mountain Settlement. Sunday at vesper services at 6.30 the Student Volunteer Movement of Des Moines, Iowa, will be reported by a group of Wellesley delegates. This is to be a Camp Fire service. The White Mountain Party is announced for February 13th.

TEACHERS' SALARIES

To the Editor of the Newton Graphic:

In October, 1919, the Newton Teachers made a request for an increase in salary. They were led to make this request by three motives: first, that those now teaching here ought to be able to meet the unlooked for and continually mounting cost of necessities; second, that our best teachers might not be taken away by the higher salaries paid in many other places; and third, that vacancies in the teaching force might be filled with experienced and efficient teachers.

The amount of increase asked for was arrived at only after the most painstaking investigation of actual living costs submitted by large numbers of Newton teachers. At a hearing granted the teachers by the School Committee, all facts then in the teachers' possession were brought out. Later the Committee, evidently impressed by the justice of the teachers' request and aware of the serious menace to the efficiency of our school system, submitted its request to the Board of Aldermen for $215,000, to increase teachers' salaries. In the meantime the Committee on Schools of the Board of Aldermen, after an immense amount of time and labor spent on the subject, submitted a report calling for the sum of $189,726, to increase the salaries of the teachers. The resolution, presented by the Finance Committee on December 29, 1919, and later adopted by the Board of Aldermen, fixes the amount for increasing teachers' salaries at $164,568.75.

The teachers wish to present another interpretation of the facts set forth by the Finance Committee of the Board of Aldermen. It is true that an increase was given averaging $100 in September, 1919. This, however, was an annual increase for length of service, and should have had no bearing in considering salary increases. If teachers are to feel that salaries in our school system are to remain stationary, there is no inducement to enter Newton. The $200 granted in December, 1919, was a cash bonus to meet pressing needs. It left no permanent increase in the salary of any teacher. This bonus, then, cannot be considered in making comparisons with Boston, Brookline, or any other city. At the present time the salaries of the teachers have not increased since September, 1919. The sum proposed by the Finance Committee of the Board of Aldermen is sufficient to increase salaries as follows:

19 at $300, 39 at $350, 229 at $450, 24 at $750. (Men principals and department heads).

The difference between the amount asked for by the School Committee and recommended by the Finance Committee is, in round numbers, $50,000. This $50,000, or about $145 for each of the 342 teachers in the city, represents almost exactly the average amount placed under the head of savings in the individual budgets upon which the teachers' request were based.

If, then, the sum of $164,568.75 recommended by the Finance Committee is appropriated for raising teachers' salaries, the actual increase in living costs only will, on the whole, have been fairly well met.

In regard to the other two reasons which led the teachers to request a salary increase, namely, the retention of our best teachers and the attracting of the best from other places to fill vacancies, we are in entire accord with the Finance Committee, that the law of supply and demand should be a large factor in any increase granted. Comparisons of Newton salaries with those now paid or proposed in other places, are very misleading in view of the fact that conditions and salary schedules are changing almost daily. Of far greater importance is the testimony of those whose duty it is to bring back the teaching force to its former plane of efficiency and maintain it there. From that testimony we are convinced that the sum recommended by the Finance Committee is inadequate and only postpones the time when further increases will be necessary.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

The scouts of Newton are going to form a Wireless club in the immediate future. It has been found that fully one-half of the scouts in the district are interested in wireless, and therefore Commissioner Irwin has placed the matter of the formation of a club of these wireless sharks into the hands of Executive Talbot.

Already the district has a field wireless receiving set, the same as used by the Signal Corps of the Army, and Executive Talbot has built a portable aerial mast to go with the set. This mast has been tried out, and found to be very efficient. Although only three of the four sections were used, giving a height of 24 feet, Arlington, Va., and Sayville, L. I. signals were heard and copied.

The present plan is that the scouts use the old Veteran Fireman's house on Watertown street, West Newton, for their club house and another at the Playground House in Newton Centre if arrangements can be made to erect an aerial over the building. At present the scouts are in need of a stove with which to heat the old fire house.

The scouts will be divided into grades, according to their ability and knowledge of wireless, and will be given an examination from time to time and be promoted to a higher grade. Scouts here in Newton have sets ranging from a single slided tuning coil to Audion sets upon which are receiving stations from abroad.

Several well known men in the wireless field have promised to come and lecture to the boys, and the club room will be open very often, almost daily it is hoped.

A trip to Dover was taken by Mr. Talbot, Mr. Robert Irwin, Mr. John Woodbridge and Mr. Koehler to investigate a location for a log cabin to be erected by the scouts. A fine place was found, and Commissioner Irwin is arranging with the owner for permission to use the timber.

It is hoped that several meetings of the scouts at the Armory will soon be held.

Scout Executive Talbot awarded tenderfoot badges to Scouts Gadsden, Nelson and Rogers and a second class badge to Scout Putnam at a recent meeting of Troop 7. Scout Dewing and Crosby received their First Class badges only a short time before.

The Patrol Leaders school met Friday and while the attendance was not as good as usual, due to many being away, the session was most interesting. Mr. John Woodbridge led the scouts in the setting-up exercises, and then he gave them a talk on the examination results of the previous week, answering many questions. Mr. J. C. Irwin then gave a talk on Map Making, which was most instructive.

Mr. Talbot, the Scout Executive, seems to have been bitten by the "wireless bug" which has attacked so many of the local scouts. He is fitting up a wireless station at his home, and expects eventually to have a set capable of receiving foreign stations. Mr. Talbot is not absolutely new to the game, as he was research engineer for the American Radio &

Poor Fuel is Partly to Blame

When your motor heats up, do you blame the lubricating system, tight piston rings, the spark too much retarded, poor water circulation in the cooling system? Poor fuel often has a lot to do with it. Low-grade gasoline burns slowly and incompletely, producing high heat—deposits carbon on the piston heads and in the combustion chamber which retains the heat and prevents quick radiation. The remedy? High quality, quick-burning gasoline that is uniform in its vaporizing and ignition characteristics, that burns up completely and delivers maximum power in all weathers—SOCONY Motor Gasoline. Standardize on SOCONY and you will avoid lots of engine trouble and secure big mileage per gallon of gasoline.

At filling time look for the red, white and blue SOCONY Sign.

MORSE-REED

The marriage of Mr. Herbert Baer Morse of Wolcott street, Auburndale and Miss Mary Burr Reed, the daughter of Mr. A. Allen Reed of Belmont, took place last evening in the Church of the New Jerusalem in Boston, where the ceremony was performed at 7.30 o'clock by Rev. H. Clinton Hay, the minister of the church.

In the bridal party were Miss Eva Morse of Auburndale as maid of honor; Miss Florence Whitehead of Arlington, and Miss Elizabeth Starkweather of Newtonville as bridesmaids; Miss Elizabeth Reed of Weston, as flower girl, and Master William B. Miller of Watertown as ring bearer, with Thomas E. Reed of Belmont as best man. The bride wore white satin combined with duchess lace. The maid of honor was in orchid pink tulle and silver lace and the bridesmaids' gowns were pink tulle and tulle of the same color. The ushers were Messrs. Richard B. Perrin of Roxbury, William Pettis, Brookline; Walter C. Reed, Weston; Marshall Smith of Newtonville and Dr. Walter E. Young of Newton Centre.

After the ceremony at the church a reception took place at the bride's home in Belmont. In the receiving line with the bride couple were the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Ella Morse, and the bride's father, Mr. Reed. The wedding journey will be to California, and on their return Mr. Morse and his bride will live at 421 Wolcott street, Auburndale.

Holyoke graduates are especially invited.

GIRL SCOUTS

—In October, the National Organization of Girl Scouts had a drive for funds and leaders. Owing to unsettled affairs in the state at that time, Massachusetts did not enter the campaign, but postponed it until January. The time is now at hand. The campaign will begin January 26th and last through the week.

Representatives of the local troop committees of Newton met Monday, January 13th, and unanimously voted to join in the campaign and co-operate with the state organization.

The money raised will be used for the year April 1, 1920, April 1, 1921. Those present at the meeting were: Mr. Charles E. Hatfield, chairman of the Finance Committee; Mrs. Albert P. Carter, chairman of the Executive Committee; Mrs. I. S. Dillingham, chairman of the Newton Troop Committee; Mrs. B. P. Howard, Mrs. Calvert Cray, Newtonville; Mrs. C. S. Cook, Jr. Mrs. Norman Bingham, West Newton; Mrs. Melville Smith, Miss Priscilla Ordway, Newton Centre; Mrs. Theodore H. Piser, Mrs. Walter Brown, Waban; Miss Louise Lovett, Nonantum; Miss Caroline Freeman, local director.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE—That good old-time honored saying that "murder will out" is the case eventually in "At 9.45," the thrilling melodrama of mystery, marriage and murder, by Owen Davis, author of Alice Brady's greatest stage success, which William A. Brady, Ltd., will bring to the Plymouth Theatre, Boston, for a limited engagement, beginning Monday night next, January 19, after its long and notably successful New York run at the Playhouse. But in this instance, as in many other cases which have occupied the attention of the police and the keen interest of the public, the Clayton case as disclosed by Mr. Davis in "At 9.45," is one of innumerable surprises and a variety of complications long known to fame as one of the most successful writers for the American stage, Mr. Davis in "At 9.45" has written a melodrama as compelling as it is ingenious.

About 500 boys were present. The meeting was addressed by Rev. Dr. Mason of Trinity, and Rev. W. Appleton Lawrence of Lynn.

—The annual meeting of the Church of the Messiah was held last Monday evening and about 90 were present. A delicious supper was served at 6.30 in charge of a large committee of ladies, with the young ladies as waitresses. At 8 o'clock reports were read and these officers elected: Senior Warden, Manly T. Adams; Junior warden, M. E. Beardsley; treasurer, Edmund I. Wilson, Clerk, W. G. Sampson; vestrymen, Edgar Ward, Wm. W. Heckman, John H. H. Turner, Wm. Coulson, J. J. Heibek, James Dunlap, T. D. Baldwin, James Patchett.

AMERICANIZATION MEETING

Mrs. MacLean said that she was very careful to learn the name of each one present, and to address him or her as "Mr.," "Miss," or "Mrs." She called attention to the fact that we are not careful in dealing with the foreigner to treat him with the courtesy which we would treat our American friends. The purpose of the meeting was explained by speakers very carefully chosen, and then opinions of the racial leaders themselves were sought. Committees of their own choosing were then formed who should meet with the committees chosen by the women's organizations (including organizations of foreign women) and with the committees of the business men, all of the committees together with the Superintendent of the Schools as chief executive, forming the executive board.

This plan worked admirably. The foreigners became interested, and showed a willingness to co-operate which was very encouraging. At all meetings the Mayor was asked to be present, and often Mrs. MacLean said she was asked to provide a speaker for a group who wanted to learn about Americanization.

Teachers for the different groups were provided, sometimes in the school buildings, and sometimes in the factories. In the factories men and women are usually taught separately, and at an hour convenient for them and satisfactory to the management; in the other gatherings men and women are often taught together. Always the desire of the group itself is sought.

The naturalization work has been a natural part of the work of Americanization, over 300 men coming for help in the way in one year.

Mrs. MacLean made the statement that the real test of the work was when the people no longer have to be sought out, but come of their own accord for help. This is now the case in Lynn, where the work has been going on for two years.

In contrast to Mr. Towne, Mrs. MacLean believed in compulsory education for the foreign adults, for, she said, most of the trouble with the foreigner comes through misunderstanding, and the cure for misunderstanding lies in education.

K. OF C. DRAMATICS

"Idle Moments Over There," an A. E. F. love-making and fun-making skit, is to be given by ex-service men of Newton Center, K. of C., at Bray Hall, Newton Centre, Jan. 19 and 20. Newton girls will act as the French jolies and every male member in the cast was "over there."

The scene is a K. of C. hut just behind the trenches. The soldiers, after a week's hard fighting, have a respite. There is some Y-D horseplay and singing, and then some one suggests a minstrel show, which is soon under way, soldiers, K. of C. secretaries, Red Cross and Salvation Army girls and colored stevedores of the supply depot taking part.

John Molloy of Dorchester is the director, George H. King, musical director, and among the principals will be John Lane of the Overseas Minstrel Troupe, Edward King, John Demoy, Joseph Oldfield and Vincent Hargaden. The soloists are Miss Claire Kincaid, John E. Barwise, Paul Ryan and Marie Laffie, Miss Grace Kerrivan, Dorothy Cunningham, Dorothea Quinn, Louise Leonard, Lena Mullen, Mildred Demoy and "Tom" Harvey are also to appear in special numbers.

Bigelow School

By the increasing figures on the Thrift Report Cards, it appears that the campaigners are gaining in enthusiasm.

Miss Coolidge's class leads this week, having bought stamps during the week ending January 9th to the value of $82.75.

Miss Mary H. Keefe is taking Miss Bessie A. Mirfield's place as building assistant.

For the last four weeks Miss Dyer's class has had the highest attendance in the building: an average of 96.8 per cent.

Unitarian Society of Newton Centre Takes Important Action at Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Newton Centre Unitarian Society was held in the church room on Friday evening, January 16. The meeting was well attended and developed into a very enthusiastic gathering.

As an innovation the dinner was prepared and served entirely by the men of the church. The dinner was very well prepared and excellently served, assuring that if the men were thrown on their own resources always they at least wouldn't starve.

Following the dinner the Society held their annual business meeting at which they elected officers to fill such vacancies as existed and listened to the report of organizations covering various church activities for the past year.

The Sunday School is growing very rapidly indeed. It has never been so flourishing as it is at the present time. The secretary of the Newton Centre Chapter of the Laymen's League reported on the organization and development of this branch of church activity. The Laymen's League of Newton Centre was organized last Fall and has received a most enthusiastic reception. The men of the church are very much interested in this League as is evidenced by the tremendous growth since its start.

The Stebbins Alliance report showed the usual continued growth and activity of this indispensable branch of the church. This is the ladies particular organization in which they take great pride.

Another new feature is the organization of the Newton Centre Unity Club under the guiding hand of Mr. Hawes. This is an organization of the younger boys and girls of the church. They have had several meetings which have been attended very largely and have been productive of much enthusiasm and enjoyment among the younger members.

The church as a whole has added to its membership 40 families since last April, indicating the increased interest and new life which is enervating this Society.

After the conclusion of the regular business meeting a most important project was placed before the Society and enthusiastically received. This is nothing more nor less than an ambitious plan to remodel and rebuild the present church and Sunday school. Two pictures were shown, one detailing the floor plan showing the proposed changes inside the church which involved a complete redecoration of the church room proper and a unique plan for enlarging the present Sunday School room, making it into both a Sunday School room and social room. This room in the present church seats 150 persons. When the proposed plan is completed it will seat 450. It will also have a large stage and kitchen on the same floor. The basement for social purposes will be abandoned.

Perhaps the most important change of interest to the community as a whole is on the outside. The church will be brick veneered and the present lines considerably beautified. A new vestibule and steeple will be added to the church, all of these changes resulting in an edifice which will be a credit and a source of pride to the community. These changes will do much to improve the beauty of the public square and when finished this building will be quite in keeping with the other beautiful edifices now under course of construction or contemplated in the public square.

To cover the cost of this work the Newton Centre Unitarian Society is conducting a two-weeks' campaign to raise $45,000. Substantial progress has been made. Subscriptions are coming in in a most gratifying manner. The campaign ends on Saturday night, January 31, at which time there will be a tremendous mass meeting in the church to celebrate the completion of this campaign.

LIBRARY NOTES

The story telling hour will not be held this Saturday on account of the illness of the story tellers. It will, however, be held next Saturday morning at 10.30.

With the coming of Sir Oliver Lodge interest in spiritualism and psychic matters grows by bounds. The library has numerous books of interest to those believing in the psychic, and tries—sometimes it seems in vain—to keep up with the demand.

THE NEW EGYPT

Interesting Address by Prof. H. H. Powers at Channing Church

The "New Egypt" was the subject of the first of the series of lectures given by Professor H. H. Powers at Channing Church Wednesday evening for the benefit of the Smith College Fund before a large and enthusiastic audience.

He spoke in part as follows. About one hundred years ago Egypt was in a wretched condition. The Keddies though chosen by France ruled for themselves alone, purchasing certain immunity from Turkey by large sums of money. They borrowed so much money, and spent so much, that Egypt was at length brought to a state of bankruptcy. In 1880 the wealth of the average Egyptian was twenty-five cents per capita.

In 1880 European "advisors" were called in and England and France took a hand in affairs. But the old time corrupt circle at court still existed. Then arose the cry, "Egypt for the Egyptians." This really meant Egypt for the corrupt blood sucker. Foreigners were driven out, and massacres occurred.

At length England protested. Her people are obliged to live in different parts of the globe. She has, therefore, always stood for law and order. These are necessary to her very existence. As a nation she has always protected the lives of her people in whatever part of the world they may be.

England, therefore, appealed to Turkey to restore order, but Turkey was unable to do this. She then appealed to France and Italy in turn, but they were unwilling to help.

England then, single handed, undertook to restore order in Egypt. Difficulties were almost insurmountable. The country lacked everything that a country needs. Finances, railroads etc. were in a dreadful condition, and the Egyptian element added greatly to the difficulties.

Because of the jealousy of France, who when she perceived the possibilities of Egypt, wished to have a share in them although the burden and heat of the day had been borne by England, England was obliged to conquer the Sudan. France at one time even threatened to cut off the headwaters of the River Nile which would have ruined Egypt.

Eventually, however, England succeeded in restoring law and order in Egypt. "Never" to quote Professor Powers, "since recorded history began, did a country improve so much as did Egypt under thirty years of English rule."

One of the greatest difficulties was the "capitulations." These were spheres of influence which different nations possessed. The "capitulations" arose because of the unwillingness of Turkey to protect Christians. Each foreign consul therefore, was obliged to look after the interests of his own country, and these interests grew with the rise of the foreign country to power.

NEWTON CONSTABULARY

Company B. Holds an Enjoyable Reunion at Waban

Company B turned out full ranks last Friday evening, not for a tour of duty, but for a jollification at the Waban Neighborhood Club and when the members arrived they gathered on the lower floor and kept the four bowling alleys busy, in fact, had the pin boys looking worried for a while; after the smoke of battle had cleared away Squad One put in the claim for the championship and any number of privates thought they could beat out the officers, who were listed on the bulletin board. As the awkward Squad, Private Richardson of Newton Centre with a string of 113 was high man.

The pool and billiard tables were also much used, Privates Clark and Mosser excelling at billiards.

About 10 o'clock the company assembled in the hall of the clubhouse and grouped in a half circle, as Captain Fulton called for songs from the men who roared out the constabulary song under the leadership of Captain Francis Davis.

Private Fletcher at the piano was a pleasant surprise and surely did keep busy the rest of the night. Colonel White was introduced and presented State Commission as follows: that of Captain to Charles A. Jackson and Francis W. Davis and Second Lieutenant to Lester B. Cardell.

Colonel White then gave a fifteen minute review of the work of the Constabulary from its formation in 1917 and announced that the organization is to be mustered out of the State Guard this week. Company A on Wednesday night, Company B on Thursday night, Company C on Friday night, Company D on Saturday night, at which time the men are to turn in all equipment belonging to the state. Colonel White announced that plans are being formed to perpetuate the organization of the Newton Constabulary. Major Chandler was loaded (with good stories) and was very entertaining during the time he held the floor.

Top Sergeant A. Leslie Harwood was called on and no evidence was lacking of the popularity of "Les" Harwood, who spoke briefly.

Private Herbert (alias George) Stetson then read extracts from his "diary" kept during the tour of duty in Boston and revealing, as he said, many items of an intimate, almost sacred nature and which he read only on orders of his captain and not from choice,—this feature was a scream. Many others were called on to take the floor, and many songs by the company given. It was near midnight when Sergeants Evans and Mitchell were called on for their stunt and

MR. BANGS LECTURES

Before Newton Community Club at Channing Church

Channing Church was packed almost to the limit of its capacity last evening by members and guests of the Community Club on the occasion of the first Guest Night to hear John Kendrick Bangs lecture upon "America Abroad."

"The patriotism of America, the only patriotism in the world," Mr. Bangs had heard the philosopher, Bergson, tell an audience at the celebration of Mothers' Day in France. This led him to see for himself if the speaker had been right. He found it in the absolutely selfless attitude of the boys upon the steamer upon which he had crossed. When it had entered the danger zone unprotected, the boys only played a little harder and laughed a little louder. The same spirit he found among the welfare workers in Paris and wherever he went. "Everyone on the other side learned something from the American doughboy. I wish everyone at home had learned something too."

Mr. Bangs in his lecturing since his return from France has visited 38 states and everywhere he has found a decided slump in American morale, much of which he attributed to pernicious propaganda, printed in our newspapers, spoken upon platforms, slurs upon our Allies, Great Britain, France, Japan.

The speaker depicted in detail the terrible destruction wrought in France as he saw it himself, destruction the direct result of battle and the wanton destruction to the mines, trees sawed off, of machinery from the manufacturing plants carried away by the German soldiers before their evacuation. If we don't stand by our Allies now in their need, we shall have to face it alone in the next war. It was a strange contrast which he found in Germany, not a leaf touched, not a thing changed, the women well-fed, fat, smiling and happy, the men without the slightest conception that Germany has suffered a lasting defeat, for they have, he said, the date already set to begin the next war, twenty years from now.

He paid his maintenance relief work who are still maintaining relief work in France determined not to leave until they see them upon their feet once more. He closed with an incident at the dedication of the cemetery where

MONEY FOR TEACHERS' SALARIES

Aldermen Appropriate Nearly $600,000 For Use of the School Committee in 1920

The first meeting of the 1920 board of aldermen since the inauguration was held on Monday evening, with President Harriman and Aldermen Goodwin and Jewell the only members absent. Vice President Forknall presided like a veteran.

The board had two long discussions, one relative to conditions in the Comptroller's office, and the other over the appropriations for school teachers' salaries.

The debate over the Comptroller's office centered on an order to allow the Comptroller a matter of $500 for clerical assistance in advance of the budget. Alderman Hollis wanted a committee of three to "investigate" the office, but this was later changed to a committee of three to "confer" with the Comptroller. The passage of this amended motion was lost by a tie vote. The board then voted to request the Comptroller to file a report at the April meeting showing what had been done to that time and to submit a copy of his last trial balance at the same time.

The gallery was full of school teachers who listened with great interest to the debate on the appropriation recommended by the Finance committee. An attempt made by Alderman Allen to have this matter considered in the committee of the whole was first defeated, after Aldermen Blake, Clement and Hollis had spoken against it, the members of the Finance committee being the only aldermen voting for it.

Alderman Allen made a long explanation of the action taken by the Finance committee, to the effect that it had seemed better policy to make practically the entire appropriation of $597,992.43 at this time instead of the item of about $162,000 merely for increases. The Committee still had some question in regard to an item of a few thousand dollars, and would take that matter up with the school committee in the near future. This order which divided the above amount between regular schools $530,917.77 and Vocational schools $66,121.66 was unanimously adopted. The Finance committee, however, had hard sledding in passing an accompanying resolution intended to inform the school committee how it wanted this amount expended. The resolution stated that the board intended to have $145,659.37 used for salary increases in the regular schools from Jan. 1st, and $3,787.50 for increases after Sept. 1st, while $11,857.03 was to be used for salary increases in the vocational school after Jan. 1st and $1196.63 after Sept. 1st. The resolution, which has no practical effect, was finally adopted by a vote of 10 to 8. Aldermen Blake, Cook, Hickey, Hollis, Madden,

Morse, McAuslan and Young voting in opposition.

There was also a small flurry over the order establishing salaries for city hall officials and clerks. Alderman Young made an unsuccessful attempt to have the salary of the Plumbing Inspector increased from $2100 to $2310 on the ground that a journeyman plumber now employed in the Buildings department, under orders of the Plumbing Inspector was being paid more money than the Plumbing Inspector was receiving.

Routine business included hearings on Edison and Telephone poles on Al-bemarle road, on petition of Richard White for a three car garage on Cherry street, the latter being subsequently granted.

Mayor Childs sent in recommendations for $7850 for purchase of a auto heater for the Street Dept., $3000 for maintenance of new Forestry Building, requests for small appropriations to make up 1919 deficits, relative to changes required in ordinances when Eminent Domain act takes effect Feb. 1st, offer of F. J. Croft to lease land owned by city near Nor-umbega Park, $1000 for plans on proposed War Memorial, $6000 for Snow and Ice account, and $2220 for laying various water mains. The mayor also submitted appointments of Henry Baily as chairman of Assessors for three years, of William J. Kiley, Edward P. O'Neill, Michael J. Keating, Michael J. Carroll, Nicholas Veduccio, John J. Monaghan, William M. Riley, Patrick J. Burke, Bartlett Cullen, Thomas J. Burke and Edward A. Moan, as assistant assessors, Charles E. Gibson, Alfred E. Alvord, for 3 years, James Kingman and Vernon B. Swett, for 2 years, and Geo. R. Pulsifer, for 1 year, members of Planning board, Chief W. B. Randlett, as Forest Warden and Inspector of Petroleum, and Edward F. Emerson as a Public Weigher, the last nomination being immediately confirmed.

The Street Commissioner reported curbs laid on Centre street at cost of $315.39, the board of health recommended a sewer in Bridges avenue and Buildings commissioner Forbush estimated an expense of $4050 for fitting up the old church building for use of library and American Legion. Petitions of the Garden City Garage, the Garden City Sales Co., Will L. Morgan, J. B. Jurd Motor Co. and Newton T. Turner for automobile sales licenses, and of R. G. Crosby to build two private garages on Lake View avenue were granted. Other petitions were received from Ann H. Bacon for permit for private garage, from the Edison Co. for attachments on Jewett street and Walnut street and from the

OAK HILL PURCHASED

The Peabody Home for Crippled Children, the pioneer institution of its kind in New England, has just purchased the Dr. Bigelow estate, known as Oak Hill, in Newton, and after additions and renovations are made will occupy its new home next spring.

Oak Hill, which crowns Newton's highest hill, was the private estate of the late Dr. William Sturgis Bigelow, a famous Boston surgeon. It comprises a tract of more than 40 acres, but the east, west and southwest slopes down to the main highways. Landscape gardening was one of Dr. Bigelow's hobbies, and he used to boast that his Oak Hill estate had every kind of tree that would grow in this climate. He spent a large sum of money, not only on the buildings, but also on the grounds and the roadways through it, and the place will be an ideal one for its new purposes.

LOW BIRTH RATE

Editor of the Newton Graphic:— Each year, when compiling the vital statistics of Newton for the annual report of the Board of Health, I am impressed by two facts. One is the low birth rate of Newton and the other is the laxity of physicians in filing the required returns of births.

This is shown by the fact that each year upon the completion of the canvass of the City by the City Clerk's office it becomes necessary to revise the figures compiled earlier in the year. In 1918 the canvass increased the number of births by 73 raising the number from 877 to 950 and raised the birth rate from 19.39 to 21.01 per 1000 of population.

In order to bring the 1919 figures up to the level of those of 1918 it will be necessary for the canvasser to find at least 230 unrecorded births!

The birth rate of Newton has fallen from 29.1 per 1000 in 1896 to 21.01 in 1918. Based on the figures recorded on Dec. 31, 1919, the rate is 16.00 per 1000. Comment seems unnecessary.

The state statute requires physicians who have attended a woman in confinement to make a return to the City Clerk within 15 days.

The facts contained in this return are filed and remain as a permanent record. How well this requirement is carried out is seen by the 1919 figures quoted above.

Parents and physicians do not seem to realize how very important to a person it may be to be able to prove when and where he was born.

Only those who have tried know how much time and money sometimes are expended to prove that a person was born when and where he has always believed he was.

The right to work, to be married, to inherit property, to vote, even such vital matters as legitimacy and citizenship itself, may depend upon a proper registration of birth.

For these reasons I wish to urge all physicians to do their full duty to the new born citizen by seeing that his or her rights are protected by a properly filed birth return and all parents to make sure that the physician does his duty. The wise parent who wishes to be absolutely sure will call up the City Clerk's office and find out if his new born child is properly registered, and if he finds that it is not, will call upon his physician to register the birth before it is too late.

NEWTON CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL

A short time ago, a list was published, showing the remarkable standing which had been attained by Newton High boys entering Harvard last fall. This record certainly will stand as a specimen of the work which can be turned out in this city's schools, but in addition to this, there has come another record from the Harvard authorities. Among those who gained a first place in scholarship are Warren Blake and Paul Coggins. Then in the list of those who were awarded honorable mention in the second class are Robert Aubin, Harold Flynn and Robert Lutz. All these fellows stood exceptionally well when in Newton and have succeeded well in carrying this achievement to Harvard with them.

A French Club has been organized and has already held a meeting for the purpose of talking over general plans for carrying out the program for the coming year. The only students admitted to this club are those who have an average of 75 per cent. in their French class work. It is earnestly hoped that this society will give all those interested in advance French, and matters concerning French, adapted to the daily life, a chance to gain some valuable information.

Mr. Richmond, head of the Chemistry Department has agreed to perform advance experiments in this line of work for the benefit of another new organization of the school, the Chemistry Club. The restriction on this is that all members must have an average of 70 per cent. in the daily class work, in order to belong. Last year many of the students were given a chance to go to the Mass. Institute of Technology, to witness there, the performances of several noted scientists, in different chemical experiments, which the large facilities made possible.

But it has been arranged now, to bring to the eyes of those especially interested, much of this same work, and thus give a chance to more students than the allotted tickets allowed last year for Lectures at Technology.

Mr. Underwood of the English Department left Tuesday this week, for Florida, where he will spend a few weeks in what he hopes will be complete rest. His sickness during December was very serious and when he did return to school, it was only with a great deal of struggling that he kept up his work. Thus, this vacation offers him a chance to really convalesce and to regain strength for the remaining season.

Hockey has now taken its course toward the regular season, and games are being run off very speedily these days. The game with St. Marks was called off on account of snow, but the regular game with the Harvard Freshmen was played on Monday at Soldiers Field. Newton fought hard and in fact scored three goals, two of which were not legitimate according to the judges, thus giving only one earned goal to them.

Harvard, however, slipped the puck into the cage twice and won the game 2-1. Owen, a former Newton man, played for Harvard and showed the same fighting spirit which won him a place at Newton a year ago.

Crosby, Rane and Coady staged the best stick handling of the squad, for Newton. The coming games of Somerville and Middlesex are due to be scrappy battles.

GRACE CHURCH

In furtherance of the Nation-Wide campaign of Education, Information and Inspiration of the Protestant Episcopal churches of this country, Grace Church, Newton, will hold a special musical service next Sunday evening, January 25, at 7.30 o'clock.

The United choirs of the church will render several selections from Elijah, by Mendelssohn, during the service, and will be assisted by Mr. Louis Dalbeck, cello; Mr. Charles Goddard, violin; and Mr. George Owen, piano.

This will be only of a series of special services at Grace Church during the winter and spring, or until after Easter, and it is expected that these meetings will materially aid in giving momentum to the religious campaign now under way throughout the country.

Next Tuesday Evening, January 27, at 8 o'clock, of the Episcopal churches in Newton will hold a mass meeting in Grace Episcopal Church, Newton, to further the same cause.

The Rev. William H. Van Allen, D. D., Rector of the Church of the Advent, in Boston, will be the speaker of the occasion. An invitation has been extended to every one in Newton who may or may not be interested in this intensive work of extending the influence of the church now going on in every Parish of the Diocese of Massachusetts, as well as the whole Nation.

Rev. Dr. Laurens MacLure will be in charge of both of these services.

CENTRAL SQUARE THEATRE

Hal Reid, the American playwright, has written over a hundred and twenty stage successes and upon being interviewed was asked "to what he attributed the unbroken line of success." Reid's answer was "To the fact that in all of my plays I have Mother no matter how. I have Mother defending and sheltering her children, and I have found that the hearts of the World have responded and are still doing so."

The vaudeville program for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday consists of five big acts, including Janet & Warren Leland in Paintography, Murphy & Klein in Timely Tunes—Lively Songs, Pearson Trio in A Study of "Pep", Allman and Nally in Vice-Versa, and Bervacs in a Petite Indoor Circus.

There will be an entire change in the vaudeville program Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with five new, all-star acts. There will also be two big Sunday night concerts, continuous from 5.30 to 10.30 P. M.

NEWTON BOARD OF TRADE

The annual meeting of the Newton Board of Trade will be held next Tuesday evening at the Newton club-house.

The speaker of the evening will be Col. Percy A. Guthrie of the famous McLean Killies.

REV. C. WALTER SMITH

New Pastor Lincoln Park Baptist Church, West Newton

NEW PASTOR

Rev. C. Walter Smith, the new pastor at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church at West Newton, was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., and was educated in the Warsaw High School, the University of Rochester, N. Y., and received his theological training in the Rochester Theological Seminary. While in Rochester he was closely connected with the playground work and the Boy Club leader among the Grammar schools of that city.

He graduated from the Seminary in 1914 and for three and a half years was pastor of the Baptist Church at Bridgewater, Mass. He accepted a commission as chaplain in the Army in October, 1917, and served with the 20th Engineers in camp at Washington until February, 1918, when he went overseas and served with the 29th Engineers until September. He sought and obtained a transfer to the 2nd Engineers in the regular army and participated in the Champagne and Meuse-Argonne offensives at the front.

After the armistice he was with the army of occupation in Germany for six months. While in France and Germany, Mr. Smith, in addition to his other duties, acted as interpreter and official photographer.

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY

"There are more jobs for forceful men than there are for the timid," according to Charles M. Schwab.
"To my mind," he states at another time, "the best investment a young man starting out in business can possibly make is to give all his time, all his energies to work—just plain hard work. The captains of industry are not hunting money. They are seeking brains—specialized brains." The rule of thumb method is being replaced by scientific management in office administration as well as in factory work and the same principles are further being applied to the habits of the individual. The old haphazard office is now transformed into a work room where the tools are arranged for the greatest convenience of the staff. The operations of each worker are more specialized that greater speed and accuracy may be obtained. A thorough explanation of the various systems advocated and a discussion of their peculiar merits is stated in the following books.

The treatment in the above books is sufficiently detailed so that any one may find concrete suggestions applicable to private as well as business life. This is even truer in the books on personal efficiency for there the great importance of such fundamental characteristics as enthusiasm, accuracy, initiative, imagination, capacity for work, are stressed and as Frank A. Vanderlip says: "Finally in all things a man must have common sense, horse sense, gumption—call it what you will."

A RUSSIAN CLUB

During these days of Bolshevism rising in this country with the consequent deportation of Slavic groups it will be well to call the attention of Newton people to the fact that no one from this city has been arrested under the charge of disloyalty. Furthermore, the scale is tipping in the other direction. A group of between 40 and 50 Russians in Newton Upper Falls, wholly upon their own initiative, have formed a social and educational club. A few months ago these men were approached by radical agents and urged to form a Russian Workers Union. This did not interest them and upon the advice of their pastor, Rev. Alexander T. Alehin, pastor of the Greek Catholic Church, Dorchester, they decided to band together for their own personal improvement. They leased a small hall at 48 High Street and at once started their work. They are proceeding with the study of the common branches under the direction of their priest who comes to them two nights a week.
Most of the men speak, read and write English a little, but are especially eager for more knowledge, therefore, two nights each week are devoted to the study of English.

Through the kindness of Mr. U. G.
Wheeler, Superintendent of Schools, they have been provided with maps for the walls, with the promise of further assistance in the near future. Until such time as the School Department gives this assistance, books are being provided through the State Library Commission and their English instruction under the Messrs. Daniel-off of Harvard College, whose father is a member of General Denikine's staff.

Those most interested in this group of men have been forced to defend them against persistent malicious rumors that they were a bunch of anarchists. Nothing could be farther from the truth. They are open to inspection at any time, and have already entertained most hospitably the local heads of the Saco-Lowell Shops where they are employees. Almost any night those passing on the street can hear them singing together the songs of their native land. Nothing but interest and praise should be given these men. Their president, Mr.
Vladimir Pochebut, who is employed in the tool room of the Saco-Lowell Shops, is a fine young fellow of high purpose and good sense. He has the entire confidence of every member and with the assistance of Father Alehin, whose splendid work among similar groups in greater Boston is another fascinating story, hopes to lead his friends to the good things of America.
Let us help and not hinder.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

John T. Burns & Sons report that they have sold for Julia F. Daniels, the property situated at 36 Parker street, Newton Centre. With the house which is modern, there is a frame garage and 14,000 square feet of land.
The total valuation of which is $9,000.
The property is conveyed to F. S. Bonney, who purchases for a home.

John T. Burns & Sons also report that they have sold for A. E. Simmons the modern, frame, 10-room house situated at 48 Eldridge street, Newton.
With the house, there is a brick garage and 8000 square feet of land and the total valuation is $11,000. D. C. Fraser purchases for a home.

John T. Burns & Sons have also sold the single frame house together with 5000 square feet of land situated tion.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The final standing in the Church
League is as follows:

Y. M. C. A.	29	3
Immanuel Baptist	15	10
Newton U. F. Meth.	15	17
North Congregational	9	15
Newton Methodist	1	27

The high single was won by Orman
of the Upper Falls Methodist with 119, the high three string by Cady of the Newton Baptist with 303, and the high average by Cooper of the Y. M. C. A. with 95.

The winning teams will have their names engraved on the Abbott B. Rice Shield which will eventually go to the team winning first place three times.
The Immanuel Baptist and the Y. M.
C. A. each have won twice.

The Boston pin tournament begins February 2nd. Entries can now be made at the office. Only one more match remains in the candle pin tournament. Team V, which has been leading from the first was tumbled into second place and Team VI. takes the lead by one point. The deciding match will be a good one.

Wakefield Y. M. C. A. will play a match game with the local Y. M. C. A.
on the alleys Thursday evening.

Rev. C. R. Ross was the speaker
Monday evening at the fellowship club.
His talk was much enjoyed. Mr. S. M.
Sayford, a former leader of the club, who was present, was called on for a few remarks and responded with an account of the work of one of the men who is doing evangelistic work among the lumbermen of Northern New Hampshire. Next week on Monday, Jan. 26th, Rev. Newton A. Merritt of Immanuel Church will be the speaker.

THE HOTEL WESTMINSTER

The Hotel Westminster at Copley Square, Boston, is the acknowledged headquarters for excellent food, service and entertainment. The proprietor Emile F. Coulon is to the manor born, a hotelman from A to Z, born in France, educated there and getting his training and business experience among the best hotels in Europe. A favorite saying of his, "To those who know how to dine and will devote the time to it"—Well both those who know how to dine—and those who want to know how to dine are selecting the Westminster for their tuition and experience and they come away singing its praises. Such salads, entrees, roasts. No where else can they be had with that distinctive alluring flavor so different from what one gets at home or in the average hotel.

Telephone Mr. Coulon or his manager, Mr. Del Monte that you wish luncheon or dinner for two, four, ten or more. They will be glad to select the dishes—then be promptly there at the time appointed and the results will far exceed your fondest anticipation.

The Winter Garden of the Hotel is packed nightly with the best class of people who appreciate the privilege of dining well and dancing to the strains of an orchestra that is as high class as that to be found in any hotel anywhere.

—A good number of the young folk took part in the Minstrel Show, given at Bray Hall, Newton Centre, this week. Mr. John Lane, of the Overseas Minstrel Troupe, being one of the leading characters.

—The Rev. C. N. Arbuckle, of the Newton Centre Baptist Church, conducted the services at the Stone Institute last Sunday, Mrs. Haskell, who accompanied, made the service doubly pleasant with many beautiful solos.

—The severe storm that prevailed the first part of the week was the cause of considerable discomfort on the part of those going to work and to other places. The heavy fall of snow played havoc with the street cars, resulting in serious delays of long duration.

—An entertainment was given at the Stone Institute last Saturday night by Mrs. William Gould and daughter, of Waban, and Mrs. William Dowse, of West Newton, visitors for December. The entertainment consisted of vocal selections by Mrs. Stewart of Waban and of piano selections by Miss Meadow. Refreshments were served.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

The Girl Scout Campaign, which opens on Monday next, January 26, and continues through the month, should appeal to all Newton people both men and women and receive a hearty response from them. During the years of the war the value of the Boy Scout movement was amply demonstrated in many instances, but unfortunately the Girl Scout movement is not so well known. For this reason, namely, to arouse interest, to get more leaders and to secure money with which to work, the present campaign has been inaugurated. The Girl Scout movement, which is nation-wide, was started about ten years ago and there are now over 60,000 members through the country. In Newton there are from 250 to 300 members divided into six troupes, the first having been organized in Newtonville in 1917. The primary object is to help others, their motto the same as that of the boys, "To be prepared." The aim is to teach them things which every girl should know, but in such a way that it does not seem to be a task and some of the things they do not get either in school or at home. For example, to pass the "tenderfoot" test, a knowledge of the history of the flag and the proper respect due it, is necessary; how to tie the six different kinds of knots, the scout laws and promises, how to cook simple dishes, to sew, knit, crochet, simple lessons in First Aid and the rudiments of signalling. Before they can pass the highest test they must have made two or three articles of clothing, have saved at least fifty cents, be able to set a table properly, know the first three lessons in the Red Cross First Aid course, describe ten different kinds each of wild flowers, animals and birds, as well as understand both the semaphore and Morse codes of signalling. Girls may be Scouts between the ages of ten and eighteen. At eighteen they are eligible to be lieutenants and captains when twenty-one.

State Federation

Monday, January 26, 2 P. M. Studio of Miss Grace Horne, Trinity Court, Boston. Conference of Music chairmen and others interested. Subjects for discussion: "Music in Motion Picture Houses"; "The Difference between good and bad Music"; "Methods for establishing a Musical Contest for the Children in your Community." Tea will be served. Please reply to Miss Horne.

Tuesday, January 27, 2:30 P. M. Legislative conference for the Second district at Highland Club Hall, West Roxbury. All club women invited.

Wednesday, February 11 is the date of the Mid-winter meeting to be held at Revere. Full particulars concerning the program will appear in this column in ample season.

Newton Federation

Monday, January 26, 3 P. M. New church parlors, Newtonville. The first lecture in the course arranged by the Federation and the Welfare Bureau. "Our New Americans as seen in selections from their Biographies." Speaker, Mr. Clarence Kingsley, Public cordially invited to attend.

Tuesday, January 27, 2:30 P. M. Budget Class will hold its concluding lecture in the course. Subject, "Household and Personal Budgets."

Friday, January 30, 2:30 P. M. Technical high school hall. A conference on "Ways of meeting Shortage in Household Service," under the auspices of the Civics and Social Service committee. Mrs. Aubrey Hilliard, director of the Bureau of Household Occupations, will present the plan of the Bureau in Boston. Mrs. George H. Haynes of Worcester will explain how a similar bureau has been worked out in both Worcester and Providence.

Mrs. Bertram Williams will tell of the Cambridge Community Kitchen and the plan of the one in Brookline will also be explained.

The addresses will be followed by a Round Table conference with opportunity for questions and exchange of suggestions for solving the household service problem. There will be an exhibit of household helps. This meeting will be open to all women in the city who are interested in the subjects under discussion. It is hoped that all Home Economics and Thrift committees will feel a special responsibility for making this conference a success and of real value to the home-makers of Newton.

Local Announcements

The postponed meeting of the Newton Highlands L. S. C. will be held with Mrs. C. Peter Clark on Monday, Jan. 26, at her home on Pleasant street, Newton Centre.

On Monday afternoon the Waban Woman's Club will have a lecture by Prof. William G. Ward on "Masaryk and the Czech-Slovaks." The music at this meeting will be a "cello solo" by Miss Emily Pizer.

Tuesday, Jan. 27, the Newton Parliamentary Law Club will hold its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. W. D. Tripp, 45 Boyd street.

The Ladies' Home Circle will hold a whist party at G. A. R. hall, Newtonville, on Monday, January 26, at 2:30.

The attention of the members of the Conservation class is called to the fact that, as there are five Fridays in January, there will be no meeting this coming week, and that Feb 6th is the date for the next one. The subject will be announced next week.

In Lincoln hall on Tuesday, Jan. 27 at 2:30 P. M. a musical will be given for the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands. The following artists have been secured by the Music committee: The Olivet Trio—Mary Cooper, violin, Gladys Berry, violinello, and Olive Davis, piano. Mrs. Laura May Lampont, soprano, will be accompanied by D. Ralph MacLean.

A discussion of the amendment to the constitution will take place, Mrs. H. B. Walker for the amendment and Mrs. Sanford Thompson against it. The class in Citizenship will meet on Thursday, Jan. 29, with Mrs. Charles A. Clark, 15 Harrison street, at 10:30 A. M. and on Thursday, Feb. 5, with Mrs. W. M. Leonard, 34 Forest street.

An Art Exhibition of unusual interest will be opened Tuesday, January 27, at the Methodist Parish House, Auburndale. Curious and rare works of art, old and new porcelains, miniatures of the 18th and 19th centuries, bronze and pewter of earliest New England and from over seas, embroideries of East and West, together with a rich and varied collection of important prints, will be among the features. Of special interest is a large collection of French war medals, which has been loaned for the occasion. The exhibition will be open at 2:30 on Tuesday next under the auspices of the Art Committee of the Auburndale Woman's Club. No formal meetings will be called, but as the exhibition is a feature of the Club's program for the winter, members will be admitted as at any regular meeting. Guests are welcome at the usual guest fee, anyone interested in the occasion being cordially invited. Tea will be served to members and guests throughout the afternoon.

The Newtonville Woman's Club desires to remind the members that the meeting of February 3rd will be held in the evening at eight o'clock instead of the afternoon.

Mr. D. Chauncey Brewer, president of the North American Civic League for Immigrants, will lecture before the Social Science Club Wednesday, Jan. 28, on "Making of an American Citizen, Native and Foreign-Born." Guests may be invited.

The Newton Centre Woman's Club announces a meeting of unusual interest for Thursday, Jan. 29, at 2:30 P. M. Miss Helen Messenger Murdoch, P. R. S., will give a talk on "The Pleasures of Autochrome Making around the World." Miss Murdoch's color photograph is creating much discussion in art circles.

A class in Citizenship has been started the first having been held Monday and will include four more lectures on alternate Mondays. Mrs. Claude U. Gilson is the leader.

A class in Dressmaking is being organized. Apply to Mrs. S. B. Paul.

On Saturday afternoon the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club will meet with Mrs. H. W. Drew of Dedham street. Mrs. F. C. Snow is in charge of the quiz which will be on the 4th and 5th acts of "As You Like It."

Local Happenings

"The Holyland" was the subject of the papers given at the meeting of the Newton Highlands Monday Club on Jan. 19, Mrs. Eagles and Mrs. Ogden being in charge.

Prof. Bliss Perry is always a welcome speaker before any Club and especially so to the members of the Newtonville Woman's Club where he appears almost every year and no one is given a more cordial reception. His topic on Tuesday afternoon was "The Puritans." By way of preface Prof. Perry reviewed incidents in the history of England responsible for the rise of the Puritans and Pilgrims and then pointed out their sturdy characteristics as the founders of the new nation. He expressed the opinion that the problem before the country today of welding together the widely different races is an even more difficult task than that of the first settlers in building up a new nation.

At the meeting of the Social Science Club on Wednesday it was voted to endorse the measures now before the legislature relative to State censorship of motion picture films.

Mrs. William C. Crawford in her lecture upon current events discussed the coming presidential campaigns, touched upon the recent election in France pointing out some of the differences in their form of government from our own and presented some of the perplexing questions confronting the British Empire, concluding with an exhaustive survey of the Irish question.

Miss Agnes Donham in her lecture before the Budget class on Wednesday afternoon at the Technical high school discussed "Standards in Clothing, Operating and Development." Miss Donham advocates a clothing budget, that there may be a conscious choice in the articles one purchases rather than drifting along. "Clothing should serve to protect the body from heat and cold, to satisfy one's own sense of the beautiful and to gratify the eye of our friends. Carelessness in the selection of clothing is inexcusable with any income and a tragedy with a moderate income. Be very sure that each article purchased is needed, is suitable in style, material and quality for the purpose for which it is intended, is as beautiful as you can afford, and will wear long enough to warrant its purchase. Avoid extreme fashion, unbecoming styles, colors and trimming, as well as unsuitable material."

Comfort in operating is more important than a large amount spent for clothing. She pointed out ways in which one may save in operating through watchfulness in the use of gas and electricity and water. As to laundry select the way which is the least expensive to you taking into consideration not only the money cost but the time and strength as well.

Miss Donham urged that the expenditure for each department should be consistent that the result may be a well rounded life.

At the regular meeting of the Newton Federation Executive Board on Monday morning the Mothers' Rest Association was selected to associate membership. Mrs. Ralph C. Henry reported that the proceeds of the Rummage Sale amounted to $1690.32. Mrs. Edmund I. Leeds, chairman of the Education committee, reported that Newton had gone "over the top"

in the sales of the Red Cross seals. A small sum of money was voted the committee to be used for the prize essay in the high schools' contest on The Pilgrims, which is being urged by the State Federation department. The resignation of Mrs. B. E. Taylor, chairman of the Legislative committee, was accepted with regret. The annual contribution of $500 to the Welfare Bureau was voted. The rest of the morning was given up to business and consideration of plans for the mid-winter meeting.

Auburndale Woman's Club Chorus Concert

The Chorus of the Auburndale Woman's Club at its annual concert on Wednesday evening at Lasell was enthusiastically received by both members and guests. The work of the chorus was of high order and showed the result of careful training on the part of the leader, Mrs. W. J. Spaulding, and of the fine support given them by the accompanist, Mrs. L. D. MacNutt. The first part of the program included groups of miscellaneous songs, three organ numbers by Mr. Benjamin Whelpley, organist at Arlington Street Church, Boston, and a group of three songs composed by Mr. Whelpley and accompanied by him. After the intermission a cantata, "A Legend of Granada," by Hadley was given, Mrs. Edward Legge, soprano, and Mr. Hancock, baritone, taking the solo parts. Mr. Hancock substituted at very short notice for Mr. W. J. Spaulding, who was ill. The whole concert was very enjoyable, but possibly the highest praise should be accorded the rendering of Mr. Whelpley's songs.

Education Conference

A conference teeming with good things was that held by the Education department of the State Federation at Wakefield on Friday afternoon of last week. Mrs. W. S. Ripley, Jr., the chairman, reported that the prize essay contest in the schools has been adopted all over the state.

Prof. Clifford Moore of Harvard spoke briefly of "The Place of Latin in Modern Education," a subject which is being stressed by the department, in the request that the clubs give a place on their programs in the months of February and March to ten-minute speakers. Prof. Moore raised the question, What kind of an education do you wish for your children, one which will fit them for the present moment or one which will fit them to deal with problems all their lives. "If we want one not simply for immediate use," he said, then we must deal fundamental subjects, history, science, meaning the exact science of physics, chemistry, mathematics, some other literature and language than one's own. No education is worthy the name which doesn't give perspective. With such subjects the pupil is unable to get through without hard work. The study of Latin opens a great door into the past and without a glimpse of that civilization it is impossible to understand what man has thought and done. He quoted eminent persons who uphold his theory that the classical training does fit for life, for the college trained men have shown themselves able to do effectively things they have never been trained to do.

The little play, "Tony, the Mender," presented by high school boys and girls in the interests of "Better Speech Week," was most cleverly done and proved a striking object lesson, not only in the use of slang, but also in Americanization. Prof. Dallas Lore Sharp of Boston University in his address on "Democracy in Education" held his audience in closest attention with his sallies of wit, his trenchant characterization of the present educational system and keen denunciation of aristocratic tendencies among those whose forebears came to this country in the early days. "No democratic system of government can be better than its educational system. We can't inherit democracy, while we inherit the spirit of aristocracy very easily. The only thing in this country worth inheriting is the constitution. The great and vital end of education is training the children not to get a living but to live together. Eighteen per cent. of the children of the country never darken the door of a school room. The remaining 82 per cent. are divided. There is no such thing as a common school in this country. The educational ideal is, all go to school, all go to school together and all go to school in one common language. Every school needs to be democratized much more than it needs to be Americanized."

The educational standard in America, he said, is the fourth grade. Only 6.36 per cent. reach the eighth grade. We must push the education of the whole people before the country is made safe for democracy. Prof. Sharp would have the children of the rich and poor alike all go to one common school; reduce the courses by two years; eliminate the college preparatory course and push the vocational program into the background, so that it follow the high school, rather than be a substitute for it. "Give us more education until every citizen in the United States has the equivalent of a high school education."

Education, he feels, is the only known solvent for the different classes of society. There is no place for the private school in America, except for the backward, the stubborn or the feeble-minded child.

JUNIOR LEAGUE

The Junior League which is doing such good work in social service in connection with the Newton Hospital will hold a tea next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Miss Marguerite Jones, 41 Columbus street, Newton Highlands. This is but a short walk from Newton Highlands square. Rev. Palladino will give a short talk on the Italians. All members and their friends are cordially invited.

MR. KNAPP'S WILL

The will of the late George B. Knapp of Auburndale just filed at East Cambridge makes public bequests of $30,000. He left $10,000 in trust for certain relatives, and provided that upon their decease the fund is to go to St. Johnsbury Academy at St. Johnsbury, Vt. He gave $10,000 to Berea College at Berea, Ky. He left $5000 to the Newton Hospital and $1000 each to the Centenary M. E. Church at Auburndale, the Auburndale Congregational Society and the Church of the Messiah, Auburndale. He left his house on Central street, Auburndale, to Mrs. Anna J. Knapp, widow of George P. Knapp, who was for many years a missionary of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, in Turkey. He also left her the residue of his estate. Upon her death this is to go to Phillips Andover Academy. No valuation of the estate was given.

COPLY THEATRE—The next play to be presented by Henry Jewett's company at the Coply Theatre will be "Man and Superman," one of the most delightful comedies by G. Bernard Shaw, whose knowledge of men and manners gives him an admirable opportunity of introducing an interesting group of people into any play that he writes.

"Man and Superman" abounds in rich humor and its development of plot through character is one of the interesting features of the play; then there is the battle of the sexes, and the conflict between candor and hypocrisy and these are elements that will rivet the attention of the audience.

"Don't forget to send up a case of Ginger Ale, and it MUST be White House."

Happy is the housewife who keeps a supply of White House Ginger Ale on hand. It is the drink she can always serve with confidence and pride.

Whether for the informal lunch, home party, or the between-meal "snack," the pure, mellow, real ginger flavor of White House is always a favorite. The first step is a delight—an invitation to a new appreciation of how good and how pure ginger ale can be.

GIRL SCOUTS BUSY

Plan to Enlighten Massachusetts Concerning Work

The Girl Scouts of Massachusetts will conduct during Girl Scouts Week, January 26th to February 1st, a campaign to enlighten the people of Massachusetts concerning the value of their organization to the community and state. There are approximately

A TYPICAL MASSACHUSETTS GIRL SCOUT

200 Girl Scouts Troops in Massachusetts, with a membership of more than six thousand.

The Officers of the Girl Scouts' movement plan to greatly extend the work during 1920, and for this purpose have asked the Scouts to aid them in raising $100,000 during Girl Scouts' Week. Each Scout will be expected to obtain pledges from ten persons that they will contribute at least $1 to support the expansion work of the organization.

A campaign committee has been organized with headquarters at 725 Boylston Street, Boston, to aid the girls in making their movement successful. Mr. James J. Storrow is state chairman and Charles F. Weed, President of the First National Bank, state treasurer.

The motto of the Girl Scouts' Week campaign is "For a Better Womanhood." The campaign posters also declare "We work for Home, Town and Nation."

Since the first Girl Scouts' troop was organized in Massachusetts the movement has done much to develop good health and character among the members. The organization is non-sectarian and non-political. Each scout must promise on her honor to try to do three things:

1. To do my duty to God and to my country.
 2. To help other people at all times.
 3. To obey the laws of the Scouts.
- The Girl Scouts' Laws embody the following provisions:
- A Girl Scout's honor is to be trusted.
 - A Girl Scout is loyal.
 - A Girl Scout's duty is to be useful and to help others.
 - A Girl Scout is a friend to all, and a sister to every other Girl Scout.
 - A Girl Scout is courteous.
 - A Girl Scout keeps herself pure.
 - A Girl Scout is a friend to animals.
 - A Girl Scout obeys orders.
 - A Girl Scout is cheerful.
 - A Girl Scout is thrifty.

H. H. Waterspoon, director of the Girl Scouts' Campaign, has explained why it is necessary to raise a fund for the work. He said: "Great educational movements like the Girl Scouts cannot support themselves. The Girl Scouts is not a money making institution. Its purpose is much broader than that and it is deserving of the whole-hearted support of the public."

There is a great need of money to meet the demands of a rapidly growing organization. Trained leaders are necessary for the proper supervision and enlargement of this movement. Hundreds of girls each month are applying to become Girl Scouts who cannot be registered because of lack of funds to train the leaders. The Girl Scouts' organization needs more camps for summer time where the members of the troops can meet and profit by contact with one another, and by the healthful recreation which they provide.

There is hardly a community in Massachusetts which cannot boast a Girl Scouts' troop and the officers hope that by the aid of Girl Scouts' Week in 1920 they will be able to provide leaders so that every community can have such a valuable asset as a Girl Scouts' troop.

Newton is hoping for a splendid result both on funds and leaders. Leaders to carry on the work and to start new troops and funds to make this work possible.

The members of all the Troop committees are hard at work and the captains and lieutenants as well as the Scouts themselves have a part to play in this campaign.

Sunday, January 25th is to be Girl Scout Sunday. Troop 1 will attend the St. John Church, Newtonville. Troop 2 will go to Grace Church, Newton. Troop 3 will go to the Congregational Church, Newton Centre. Troop 4 will attend the Union Church in Waban. Troop 5 will go to the Unitarian Church, West Newton, and on the following Sunday will attend the Second Church.

The Troops are to hold open meetings during the week and it is hoped that those interested in the Girl Scout movement or those who would like to know what the Girls do will attend these meetings.

The meetings are as follows:

Troop 1—Tuesday, 2.30 P. M., in the parlors of the New Church, Newtonville.

Troop 2—Today, 3.45 P. M., in the parlors of Channing Church, Newton.

Troop 4—Wednesday, 3.45 P. M., in the vestry of the Union Church, Waban.

Troop 5—Tuesday, 3 P. M., in the Entertainment Hall of the Second Church, West Newton.

Troop 6—Monday, 7.00 P. M., in the Gymnasium of the Stearns School, Nonantum.

Instead of an open meeting, Troop 3 of Newton Centre will give an entertainment including moving pictures in Trinity Church parish house.

Each day through the week will be named.

Watch for the posters.

A class for Leaders will be organized early in February. All those who would be interested to join in this work are asked to send their names to the Local Director, Caroline L. Freeman, 258 Mt. Vernon street, West Newton. Details of this course will be printed in full, later.

The Girl Scouts of Newton want to increase in numbers and in usefulness. Will you help to make this possible.

Send contributions to your local chairman: Newton—Mrs. I. S. Dillingham Jr., 11 Church street; Newtonville—Mrs. C. D. McDavitt, 212 Mill street; West Newton—Mrs. C. S. Cook Jr., 70 Valentine street; Newton Centre—Mrs. Melville Smith, 504 Ward street; Waban—Mrs. Theodore Piser, 155 Moffat road.

Col. Guthrie was the first Canadian to volunteer. He was in the first gas attack of the war, which was launched by the Germans against the Canadians in the Ypres salient. He was afterwards desperately wounded by a shell, twenty-two pieces of shell being taken from his body. He was invalided home, and when he recovered he recruited the McLean Kilties in Boston and New England, and took them overseas.

He was afterwards assigned to the famous Black Watch. At the morning service the rector will preach on "The Way to Power: and the Obstacle in the Way."

DEATH OF MRS. DRAKE

Mrs. Laura M. Drake died on Monday, January 19 at the home of her only surviving son, Louis Stoughton Drake, 24 Bennington street, Newton. She was born in Chester, Vermont, January 28, 1835, daughter of Foster Clark and Harriette Blake of Walpole, N. H. At the age of 18 she married Andrew Jackson Drake, who at that time was a prominent cotton manufacturer of Matamoras, Virginia. Always a student, she was a woman of broad intellectual capacity and kept up her intellectual interests and pursuits to the day of her death.

Mrs. Drake has been a resident of Auburndale and Newton for the past thirty years. She was a life-long communicant of the Episcopal Church and for many of her later years an enthusiastic follower of the work of the Psychical Research Societies of England and America of both of which societies she was a member.

She was a lineal descendant in the 9th generation of Hugh and Elizabeth Clark, the emigrants who settled in Watertown, Mass. Hugh Clark was one of the original members of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Co. of Boston.

His son, John Clark, built at Newton Upper Falls in 1658 a saw-mill, the first mill to be erected on the Charles River in Newton.

Mrs. Drake had two sons, Harrie Beekman Drake, Harvard '88, and Louis Stoughton Drake, genealogist, and Boston importer and manufacturer.

Funeral services were held at her late home on Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Dr. Laurens MacLure, rector of Grace Church officiating, and the interment was at Newton Cemetery.

Specimens of her work in the field of genealogy will be on display at the Newton Centre.

—There will be an all-day meeting of the Sewing Circle of Channing Church next Tuesday. Supper will be served at 6.30 and there will be an entertainment in keeping with the Tercentenary of the landing of the Pilgrims.

—Among the scholarship groups announced this week at Harvard are the names of Warren E. Blake '20, in the first group, Robert A. Aubin '21, Duncan P. Ferguson '22, Harold M. Flinn '21 and Robert E. Lutz '21 in the second group.

—In the lecture class at Eliot Church, Sunday noon, Dr. Alice Hamilton, professor of preventive medicine at Harvard Medical School, will speak on "Conditions in Europe as I saw them." Dr. Hamilton went through devastated Europe as the agent of Herbert Hoover.

—The Norumbega C. E. Union Alumni Banquet was held at the Immanuel Baptist Church, Monday at 6.30, following the banquet there was a business meeting, and an address by Mr. Stanley B. N. Vandersall, Alumni Superintendent of the United Society of Christian Endeavor.

—The last of the series in charge of the Y. P. S. C. E. at Immanuel Baptist Church, will be held on Sunday evening at 7.30 o'clock. The speaker will be Dr. Joseph C. Robbins, one of the leaders of the New World Movement. Mr. Carl Webster, and Mr. Charlotte Peege Hollander, contralto.

—Miss Margaret McGill of the History department of the Newton High School gave a most interesting and stimulating address last Sunday evening at the Eliot Church on "Bits of War Work in Three Countries." Miss McGill was at the head of the M. T. Holyoke College Unit in the Intercollegiate War Work and gave personal reminiscences which were of unusual interest.

—At the annual meeting held at Grace Church Monday night the following were elected: Warden, Mr. Edward H. Cutler; Vestrymen, Mr. John H. Sellman, Mr. J. Harris Aubin, Mr. Edwin P. Brown, Mrs. Frank E. Perkins, Mr. William E. Jones, Mr. Sydney Harwood, Mr. Curtis Nye Smith, Mr. Theodore E. Jewell, Dr. Charles F. Painter; Clerk, Mr. Edward H. Cutler, and the treasurer, Mr. Donald A. White.

—Miss Catherine Louise Coffin, a resident of this place for over fifty years, died this morning, after a long illness at her home on Bellevue street. Miss Coffin was born in Boston Jan. 6, 1843, and was the daughter of the late Langdon and Catherine Bailey Coffin. She is survived by three brothers, Mr. Howard B. Coffin of Newton, Mr. J. Coolidge Coffin of Cambridge and Mr. William Coffin of California. The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.

—The annual meeting of Immanuel Baptist Church was held on last Friday night. At 6.30 supper was served by the committee of the Women's Association. There were about two hundred present. A delightful feature of the evening were the group of songs by Mrs. G. E. Merrill accompanied by Mrs. Farrand, and the piano solos by Mr. William Haddon, organist of the Church. Reports showed a most successful year. Membership of Church and Bible school has substantially increased, as have the income for current expense and the gifts for Beneficence. Advance work along all lines was planned and the following officers elected: Clerk, Dr. L. H. Naylor; Recorder, Harold P. Fuller; Treasurer, E. D. Seccomb; Auditor, Stephen Moore; members of Advisory Committee, Miss Florence Butterfield, Miss E. G. Safford, Miss Noritza Gullian, Percy E. Eden.

WORKS AT BRIGHTON

DEATH OF MR. GLATZ

Mr. Henry G. Glatz, who died Sunday at his home on Central street, Abundale, had resided in this city for about a year. He was 35 years of age and widely known in advertising circles. He had been associated with the George Batten Company, J. Walter Thompson Company, Frank Seaman Company and the Morse International Agency, all advertising concerns, and for five years previous to joining the Butterick forces he had covered the New England field for the Chicago Tribune. In September, 1917, he first became connected with the Butterick Publishing Company at New York, and in January of the following year took up his duties as New England manager, with offices in Boston.

He is survived by a widow and one son, Herbert, a lad of nine years. Funeral services were held on Wednesday at his former home in Hackensack, N. J.

GIRL SCOUTS

Events of the Week and History of Several of the Troops

It was on the afternoon of May 12, 1917, that fifty-one girls assembled in the hall of the Mason Grammar school, to form the third troop of girl scouts in the city of Newton. Fifteen of these original charter members are still in the troop, all enthusiastic members, one of them an acting lieutenant and all of them potential leaders for the future. The troop numbers seventy-two and is divided into a junior and a senior group.

It is hard to review these two and a half eventful years in a few words, but the work falls naturally into three groups: the educational, the philanthropic and the recreational. To begin with the educational; we have raised one hundred and fifty-one ten-foot Scouts (think of the 604 not!) 78 second class scouts and nineteen first class scouts. Thirty-four girls have won merit badges. We have also held classes in personal hygiene and baby care, also in millinery.

We are prouder of the things that we have done for others, than of the things we have learned for ourselves. Our biggest single gift was the $350 that we gave for war service, when 9 of our 73 members were "Victory girls." In addition to this we have given away $166 and have supported two orphans in France for two years and one for one year. And all that money is earned, too, not a cent solicited. But the earning of it was fun as well as work, including two very lovely out-door masques, two moving picture shows and the proceeds from war garden, and a large collection of junk. Of course during the war we did a great deal of special war work. As a troop we canned 300 quarts of foodstuffs, that being the total of two summers' work. We had war garden one summer and raised food valued at $50, and we made and gave away 270 garments. In addition to this troop work, 58 girls won the war service pin, which stands for approximately 90 hours of work from each individual. The troop owns two liberty bonds and several war-saving stamps. Now that the war is over we are giving things that will spread joy instead of saving lives; we have sent 50 little dolls to the children of France, and nearer home, we have given six Thanksgiving dinners and a Christmas party for ten children.

It is hard to tell much about our recreation, it has been scattered so thoroughly throughout the entire time. Our annual banquet is a very special time for fun, with its good supper, which we prepare ourselves, the singing, the awarding of badges and the stunts. The inter-troop rallies are great fun, with all their competitions; the trips to swimming school are fun, our exhibition fire drill was tremendous fun; but best of all, and more fun than any thing else are the outdoor hikes. Every girl in the troop knows how to build a fire in the open and can cook her savory bacon and eggs. So far only the older girls know the joys of the overnight hike, but our two trips will never be forgotten. Our great hope now is that some time we can have a girl scout camp, all for ourselves, so that the littlest scouts may share in this greatest of scout joys.

Of course to have results like these, there has been constant and faithful work by a great many people. For two years Miss Louise Walworth was our Captain, for the last year Miss Priscilla Ordway has taken her place. The lieutenants, past and present, are Miss Helen Chapin, Miss Margery Rideout, Miss Martha Weeden, Miss Margery Taylor, Miss Margery Tilton, Miss Margaret Pierce, Mrs. Ber-

THE INFLUENZA

Good Advice from Chairman of the Board of Health

Editor, Newton Graphic:
At the present writing it appears not unlikely that there will be a return of influenza, and the Board of Health takes this opportunity of suggesting a few precautions against possible infection.

Owing to lack of positive knowledge of how the disease is transmitted it is not possible to do more than give general directions in regard to conduct.

It is probable that the infection of influenza may lie in the secretions of the upper air passages and, therefore, persons should be very careful about associating with persons who have a cold. Do not allow anyone to cough or sneeze in your face and do not cough or sneeze yourself without covering the mouth and nose with a handkerchief.

Keep in good physical condition; keep the bowels open; eat plain simple food; eat slowly and chew thoroughly; sleep at least six hours, in a well ventilated room; dress warmly, taking special care that the feet are dry and warm.

Headache, pains in the back and legs, chilliness, fever, sore throat, running nose and sneezing, any or all of these may be the beginning of an attack and a physician should be called at once.

Keep away from the other members of the family when any of these symptoms appear.

Finally, do not allow yourself to become frightened and do not imagine that you can cure yourself.

As far as can be learned from the meagre reports obtainable the present situation is as follows:—

PERMIT REFUSED

Mayor Childs Opposed the Proposed New Theatre at Newton

As a result of a public hearing held at the City Hall last Monday afternoon on the application of Frederick Green of Boston to operate a theatre on a proposed building at the corner of Washington and Bacon streets, Newton, Mayor Childs has refused to grant the necessary permit.

Mr. Green, Mr. John T. Burns and Mrs. Moore spoke in favor of granting the permit and it was opposed by ex-mayor Charles E. Hatfield, Mr. Drown of the Newton Olympia Theatre, Mrs. Edmund I. Leeds, Miss Emma E. Walker, Mr. Harry W. Bascom, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and others. Mr. Hatfield and Mr. Drown stated that plans had already been prepared and the Olympia Co. was ready to spend a large sum of money on altering and improving the present Newton Opera House. These plans would not be carried out if another theatre was to be allowed to compete for the Newton business.

The mayor's letter refusing the permit is as follows:—

Newton, Jan. 28, 1920.
In view of the fact that the new management of the theatre at Newton, already licensed and in operation, is planning extensive alterations and improvements with the end in view of providing a first class place of amusement, it would seem for the best interests of the City to allow said management to carry out said plan and demonstrate that a theatre, first class in every way, can succeed in this City rather than to establish a new theatre, and thus have two in operation in the same village.

The question is whether we in Newton ought to strive for one first class show under first class conditions, or for a first class show and a second class one.

I believe that the majority of our

ANNUAL MEETING

Newton Board of Trade Elects New Officers and Hears Col. Guthrie

The annual meeting of the Newton Board of Trade was held Tuesday evening at the Newton Club house, Newtonville, and was preceded by an excellent supper at which about 60 members were present. President John H. Gordon was the toastmaster and the chief guest and speaker was Col. Percy A. Guthrie of the famous McLean Kilties. Col. Guthrie was a most entertaining speaker. He took the great war for his subject and told of his own experiences and made interesting comparisons between this war and Biblical history.

Previous to the speaking satisfactory reports were read from the officers of the Board and the following new officers elected for the ensuing year:—President, Arthur W. Hollis; Vice-Presidents, John T. Burns, Joseph B. Jamieson, John W. Byers, Gordon H. Rhodes, John Weston Allen, Henry B. Reed; Secretary, Harold Moore; Treasurer, W. L. Sampson; Directors, Ward 1 George F. Wilson, Ward 2 H. W. Orr, Ward 3, T. Wallace Travis, Ward 4 John H. Gordon, Ward 5 George M. Angier, Ward 6 Walter Winn, Ward 7 Walter B. Wolcott.

citizens favor one up-to-date theatre with a high class show and for this reason I respectfully decline at the present time, to grant the petition of Mr. Frederick Green to operate a theatre in a building proposed to be located at the corner of Washington and Bacon streets in the City of Newton.

If I am in error in this ruling, correction can be made in the future without injury to the City or to her people.

EDWIN O. CHILDS, Mayor.

MASS MEETING

Of All Episcopal Churches in the City Held at Grace Church

Grace Church, Newton, was filled to capacity on Tuesday evening, the recorders and members from the Episcopal Churches of the eight Newtons as well as those from Needham, Wellesley, and Watertown being present.

The meeting was a part of the National-Wide Campaign of the Episcopal Churches of America, known as the "Call of the Church," the purpose of which is to arouse the churches to a sense of responsibility in regard to the present crisis, and to deepen the spiritual life of the church.

The choir of Grace Church was augmented by delegates from the choirs of the other Episcopal churches of Newton. The Rev. Ransom Church of Lower Falls read the lesson for the evening. The speaker of the evening was the Rev. William H. Van Allen, D.D., of the Church of the Advent, who was introduced by the Rev. Laurens MacLure, rector of Grace Church.

Dr. Van Allen spoke as follows: When he had read the story of the revolt of Absalom, he called attention to its suddenness, and its seriousness, and the fact that one of David's best friends had joined the ranks of his son. He then read the beautiful reply of the Captain of the Guard, a Philistine mercenary, who remained loyal to David although the latter offered him an opportunity to join his enemies if he so desired.

He then went on to show what loyalty to Christ should mean to the Christian. Great as is the loyalty of an intimate friend to another in human life, still greater in degree must be the loyalty of the soul to Christ.

He also showed that the true test of loyalty is obedience. Answering the question where Christ was to be found, he said that He was to be found in the House of God, in communion with His saints, in the daily task rightly done, among the poor, and in the sacraments. Much of the real heroism of life, he said, was hidden from the sight of the world where only the Master could see.

He called upon his hearers to share the suffering of the world calling attention to the fact that Christ was ever to be found among the poor, the afflicted, and the suffering.

In conclusion, he said, that there was no room in Christ's Kingdom for the Hyphenated Christian, nor for the Bolshevik—"Christ's call is for whole hearted service now and here."

NOTICE

On April 23rd, 1919, the Board of Aldermen established the rates of fare for the conveyance of passengers in taxicabs, to be not in excess of 50 cents for three-fourths of a mile, and not to exceed 25 cents for each additional half mile or fraction thereof.

The Crawford Garage & Taxi Service have been carrying their passengers at the old rate and although this increase has been allowed for the past ten months, they have waited until absolute necessity due to the increased cost of operation has forced them to raise their price, and it is with regret that they wish to announce to their many patrons and friends that beginning February 1st, 1920, the rates for taxi services will be as follows:

1 Passenger with ordinary baggage not exceeding 100 pounds, three-fourths of a mile or less; 50 cents and 25 cents for each additional half mile or fraction thereof.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE WEST NEWTON NEIGHBORHOOD HOUSE AND DAY NURSERY

The annual meeting of the West Newton Neighborhood House and Day Nursery was held Tuesday, Jan. 20th at the Neighborhood House. Excellent reports were read which bore testimony to the splendid work of the organization during the year, and to its popularity among the people with whom it is working. One boy paid an unconscious tribute when he was overheard to say, "Gee, but I have the best times here!" The reports showed, too, a fine spirit of co-operation between this organization and other organizations such as the playground organization.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. McLean, Director of the Americanization work in the city of Lynn, who spoke at the Technical High School recently.

Mrs. McLean, as in her earlier address, spoke of the necessity in any work of Americanization of the co-operation of the representative women of the community, of the business men, and of the racial leaders. She showed how foreign women were influenced by their group leaders, men who were looked up to by them and whose advice they sought on all important occasions.

She spoke of the school board as being the best organization to lead in the work because the average foreigner understands what the school means better than he does other organizations, and because of its freedom from sectarianism.

She told of many incidents taken from her own experience which showed how the foreign woman looked up to the American woman and longed to be like her.

She concluded with an appeal to the American-born woman who has enjoyed from birth all that this country has to offer to meet her foreign-born sister half way, assuring her that she will be more than repaid for her effort.

A social hour followed the address. The hostesses for the tea were Mrs. Andrew S. Woods, Mrs. William J. Isaac, Mrs. Leon B. Rogers, and Mrs. Robert H. Gross.

The officers elected for the ensuing year were President, Mrs. George A. Frost; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. John W. Carter, Mrs. Fred S. Sawyer, Mrs. Irving J. Fisher, Mrs. William A. Young; Treasurer, Mrs. George P. Hatch; Secretary, Mrs. Ernest S. Gile; Directors, Mrs. George A. Frost, Mrs. William A. Young, Mrs. Irving J. Fisher, Mrs. Fred S. Sawyer, Mrs. Sidney B. Thomas, Mrs. H. P. Talbot, Mrs. F. E. Jones, Mrs. H. L. Ayer, Mrs. John W. Carter, Mrs. Herbert L. Felton, Mrs. Grace F. Rice, Mrs. George P. Hatch, Mrs. Henry B. Day, Mrs. Carl E. Pickhardt, Mrs. John A. Paine, Mrs. Ernest S. Gile, Miss Dora A. Allen, Mrs. C. E. Hatfield.

The Council expects to establish radio schools as soon as a competent force of instructors can be obtained. The Council is fortunate in having among its officers Mr. Adolard Durette, who is a specialist in wireless. Mr. Durette will handle the section of the radio club on the South side of the city. Two other experts among the scout force are Stewart, I. C. Q. and Noyes, I. B. N.

The Patrol Leaders School held their last session on Friday last, which was a short one on account of the cold. Mr. Harlan D. Crowell, the director, gave a splendid talk to the scouts, and they, in turn, voted him an expression of their appreciation for his splendid leadership. The scouts decided to hold a course in Woodcraft and Camping, in the spring, under the leadership of Commissioner of the Scouts, Mr. William Phelps, of Troop 7 first; Scout Chas. Barba of Troop 11 second; and Scout Lermond Simonds of Troop 2 third. These three scouts all obtained a mark of A during the course. Certificates will be issued shortly to all those who attended the school, and whose work was satisfactory.

A hike for the officers of the Council will be held this Sunday, the men going to Needham by car, then hiking to the site of the proposed log cabin in Dover. Lunch will be cooked in the open, then after an investigation of the land near by and the site for the cabin, the officers will return to Needham, where they will hold a meeting and talk over their various problems.

Troop 13 of Newton Upper Falls, under the direction of Scoutmaster James E. Tully, is planning to hold an entertainment on Feb. 12 in aid of their scout troop. This troop is noted for the fine "shows" they stage, and this one is going to surpass them all. The motion picture of Evangeline has been secured, and besides this, several musical numbers and scout stunts will take place. A novel feature will be that of the Radio Communication Unit of the Scouts, who will erect a wireless mast on the stage, and receive messages on their field wireless set. The exact time, sent out from the government station at Arlington, Va., will be received at 10 P. M.

A delegation of scouts from the various troops in Newton, acted as an escort to the Lt. Governor of Massachusetts, Channing Cox, at the services at Trinity Church, Newton Center. Despite the storm that was raging, the boys turned out in good shape, and all had the pleasure of meeting the Governor before the services. Only the extremely bad weather, with poor transportation facilities, prevented a very large attendance of the scouts.

THE NEWTON CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL

Last Friday evening, the annual Inter-Class track meet was held in the Gymnasium, and the different events were run off with a great deal of fast running on the part of most of the contestants. The meet, in a general way, however was not as good as previous ones have been, for there was a lack of development which usually marks these races. The Freshmen were represented by a good number of strong boys, one in particular, McQuiston, who promises to be a wonder if he improves at the rate he is now showing. This class, peculiar as it may seem, won the Class Meet by about 18 points, their score being 57. This can be accounted for in the Junior events, where practically everything was captured by the Freshmen and then one or two Intermediate races, which McQuiston appeared in, also became high scores for the Freshmen. One thing which divided the score of the Senior section, was the fact that this year for the first time, the sub-Seniors had representatives. Robert Garrity, winner of the 600-yard Senior run and Bell, who is captain, winner of the 300-yard Senior run, are both members of the sub-Senior Class, having another year in this school before graduating, both helped to bring laurels to their class which finished third. Among the other runners and victors who showed up well were MacDavitt, winner of the Intermediate 600-yard, Clossen who finished second in the Senior 600-yard, and who was only a few inches behind Garrity, Robinson winner of the Senior high jump, Finch first in the shotput, and Cowing winner of the 1000-yard run.

The summary:—
SECOND DIVISION
30-Yard Dash—Won by Garrity; Peppard, second; Richards, third. Time, 4s.
300-Yard Run—Won by Bell; Lyon, second; Hurley, third. Time, 38 4-5s.
600-Yard Run—Won by Garrity; Clausen, second; Richards, third. Time, 1m. 27 2-5s.
1000-Yard Run—Won by Cowing; Letteney, second; Munroe, third. Time, 2m. 38 1-5s.
30-Yard Hurdles—Won by Lyon; Robinson, second; Cunningham, third. Time, 4 2-5s.
Shotput—Won by Finch, distance, 34ft. 3in.; Cowing, second, distance, 34ft. 1in.; Robinson, third, distance, 32ft. 4in.
Running High Jump—Won by Robinson, height, 5ft. 2in.; Cunningham, second, height, 4ft. 11in.; Wellwood, third, height, 4ft. 9in.
Standing Broad Jump—Won by Finch, distance, 8ft. 7in.; Woodward, second, distance, 8ft. 6in.; Robinson, third, distance, 8ft. 5in.

INTERMEDIATE DIVISION
30-Yard Dash—Won by McDavitt; McQuestion, second; Place, third. Time, 4s.
220-Yard Race—Won by McDavitt; McQuestion, second; Flint, third. Time, 27 4-5s.
600-Yard Run—Won by Swartz; Miller, second; Weeks, third. Time, 1m. 37s.
Shotput—Won by Miller, distance, 24ft. 6in.; Donnell, second, distance, 21ft. 7in.; Wingate, third, distance, 21ft. 5in.
High Jump—Won by Place, height, 4ft. 10in.; Andrews, second, height, 4ft. 6in.; Flynn, third, height, 4ft. 4in.
JUNIOR DIVISION
30-Yard Dash—Won by Brown; Lawless, second; Chase, third. Time, 4 1-5s.
160-Yard Race—Won by Brown; Lawless, second; Chase, third. Time, 21 1-5s.
Running High Jump—Won by Brown, height, 4ft.; Chase, second, height, 3ft. 6in.; Lawless, third, height, 3ft. 2in.
Standing Broad Jump—Won by North, distance, 6ft. 6in.; Lawless, second, distance, 6ft. 3in.; Chase, third, distance, 6ft. 2in.
Next Saturday night, an Alumni-undergraduate Track meet will be held in the Gym, to which many of the former Track men will undoubtedly come. This scheme has never been carried out before, although it has been talked about, and it is hoped that every available fellow will come. There is no limit to number of age of those who attend, the one provision being that they have been members of the school, although not of the Track Squad. In order that this event may attract even more than the usual number, dancing will be on the program from 9 P. M. until 11 P. M. Coach Dickinson is expecting a good number to report for this unique contest, which he figures will be a fine opportunity not only to give veterans a chance to limber up but to show the new fellows how the older ones can run.

The last of the series of city government lectures, took place last Monday morning, when Mr. Bishop, city solicitor, talked to the Senior boys. His subject was that of his work, its connection in city affairs and many of the daily incidents which occur along this line. While some of these talks have been on similar subjects, they have all been most interesting and helpful, and have served to give the boys an idea of the civil affairs, which they have to contend with in the future. The list of speakers includes, Hon. Mayor Childs, Mr. Bailly, chairman of the Board of Assessors; Mr. Harman, president of the Board of Aldermen; Mr. Daboll, comptroller of accounts; and Mr. Bishop, city solicitor.

On Wednesday, January 21, the Girls' Debating Club held a rally in the Assembly Hall, which proved to be a fine success. This organization does a fine work for girls, but the main trouble has been that no one was interested in this enough to take the time to find out its merits, and thus it has not been a widespread club. But at this rally, the view of things changed, for after Miss McGill, head of the history department, and at one time a coach of debating in the school, and Miss Hardy had spoken, the number of girls in the audience who promised to join was very promising. If all of them now attend the meetings, the chances are some good speakers will be turned out before the season is over.

The Girls' Basket Ball team has been chosen and is now ready to play the Alumni which will be present next Tuesday in the Gym. The regular nine are as follows: Guards, M. Juth, K. Slattery, and H. Schultz; centers, R. Jones, I. Ducaey, and E. Wheeler; forwards, L. Hughes, K. Daniels, and B. Smith (captain). As opponents for these varsity players the following lineup has been chosen: Guards: Owen, Allen and Arnold; centers: Leach, Doyle and McAndrews; forwards, C. Smith, Booth and Cook. The schedule for the season promises to be full of "snags" for this team, because many strong lineups have been placed as opponents. In the program, appear the teams of Miss Windsor's school, Watertown, Lasell and possibly Woburn, the latter school not yet being able to arrange a date. Although there is some new material for the Newton team, it is strengthened by the aid of a few veterans, who have shown to good advantage, so far this year. Loretta Hughes is a star forward and with Captain B. Smith will bear the brunt of the work for the forward line. In the other sections, Wheeler and M. Juth are about the best and the most capable of the squad. It is earnestly hoped that Newton's record of past defeats may be overcome, this year, and that the girls will bring victory with them when they play these different schools.

OFFERS PRIZES

To increase the interest of the younger generation in the subject of Thrift, the Newton Trust Company has offered the pupils of the Newton High Schools prizes of gold for the best essays on that subject. The prizes are ten dollar gold pieces, one of which will be given for the best essay written by a pupil of either the freshman or sophomore classes of all three High Schools and one of which will be given for the best essay written by a pupil of either the senior or junior classes of all three schools, $20 being the prize in each school. The essays must be submitted within the next few days and the winning papers will be published in the Graphic.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

Monday, Jan. 26th, Mr. Harold T. Dougherty, Head Librarian of Newton, gave an illustrated talk at the School Assembly upon his experiences abroad in the interest of the American Library Association.

Mr. Dougherty had a very fine collection of slides, illustrating library work in the camps both in America and in France.

NEWTONVILLE CHURCH COUNCIL

The Newtonville Church Council, an organization representing all five churches of that village, has arranged for a house to house canvass or church census of Newtonville. This canvass is solely to secure information, and no funds will be solicited.
The people will be asked in regard to church affiliation, whether children attend Sunday school, and other questions desirable for a careful survey of the work the churches are accomplishing.

These questions will not be of a personal or intimate nature, and no doubt the public will gladly give the information that will help the churches lay plans for better service to the community.

It will take over 150 canvassers to cover Newtonville, and some of them are already at work. It is hoped to complete the survey in two weeks.

This canvass is made in co-operation with the Interchurch World Movement, in which all the Protestant denominations are uniting, and which is to conduct similar surveys all over the United States. This movement seeks to secure greater cooperation between churches and denominations, to promote efficiency in church work, and avoid duplication and overlapping. The information to be asked by the Newtonville canvassers is the same as will be collected everywhere else by the workers in this great movement, and the list of inquiries and other literature are furnished by the Interchurch Movement.

After the local churches have obtained such information as will assist them in their work, the material will be turned over to the headquarters of the Interchurch Movement at Boston.

ABOUT LABRADOR

Dr. Grenfell of Labrador fame has many staunch friends in and around Boston. One of his co-laborers, Dr.
H. L. Paddon, an eminent English surgeon, is coming to Boston early in February to tell about this heroic work.

The only opportunity to hear Dr.
Paddon in Newton will be Sunday evening, February 8, at Central Church, Walnut street, Newtonville.
He will tell of his own work on the Labrador during the last eight years and of his experiences with Dr. Grenfell, illustrating by sixty or more stereoscopic views.

Dr. Paddon has charge of two of Dr. Grenfell's most northern hospitals where his medical work is carried on during the summer months in addition to social work among the fishing fleet on the coast. In the winter he goes 160 miles inland to the head of Northwest River to work among the "Lilyvers"—the hunters and trappers of that vast inland territory.

No one should miss the opportunity to hear about this labor of sacrifice and love.

SHUBERT THEATRE—For a limited engagement beginning next Monday night, February 2nd, F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gert will send to the Shubert Theatre, "The Rose of China," which has just terminated its run at the Lyric Theatre, New York.
Accustomed to producing the best in musical shows, Messrs. Comstock and Gert have in this instance put upon the stage a production that may be described as unique. Since the days of "San Toy," old China has offered a tempting background to the writers of musical comedy. In "The Rose of China," Guy Bolton takes some breezy Americans right into the heart of old China, where it is needless to add romance is found in its most attractive form. The lyrics, by P. G. Wodehouse, are bright and humorous, and the reunion of these two writers, the famous authors of "Oh, Boy!" "Very Good Eddie" and "Oh, My Dear!", to say nothing of countless other musical hits of the past few seasons, is one of the happiest and most successful features of the production of this new Chinese musical comedy.

NEW PLAN

To Facilitate Quick Delivery of Mail in Boston District

Acting Postmaster Hurley of Boston announces the installation of a new plan to facilitate the distribution of mail in the Boston postal district. The plan was inaugurated on January 20 and we take the following extracts from a recent report to the Boston Chamber of Commerce on this subject, prepared by Mr. Nathan Heard of this city, a member of the Chamber's committee on Post Offices and Postal Facilities.

The Boston Postal District is the largest and most complicated in the country. It comprises 231 square miles and embraces 23 different cities and towns. For postal purposes it is divided into 84 branch post offices and postal stations including 74 letter carrier stations, or stations from which letter carriers start to distribute the mail.

Duplication and overlapping necessarily exists to a large extent. For example there are five Washington streets in the City of Boston, and 20 in the district. There are five Adams streets in Boston and 17 in the district. It is difficult to have the boundaries of the branch post offices and postal stations coincide with the divisions of the branch post offices and stations. For example, a large part of the mail for Wellesley is more conveniently delivered from the Newton Lower Falls station.

The proposed plan is exceedingly simple and its value lies in the fact that just so far as it is adopted, by just that much will the distribution of the mail in the Boston Postal District be facilitated.

The plan is to give each station or point from which mail is delivered by the carrier or received by the addressee a number and to have that number included in the address immediately after the name Boston, or the name of any other city or town in the Boston Postal District.

Mr. Hurley, Acting Postmaster, suggests the following system and numbering:

The General Post Office delivery being of greatest importance and receiving the largest mail, the numerals 1 to 10, inclusive, have been allotted to that unit, units 1 to 9 being assigned to all box stations including "Banks" and "Newspapers" and the numeral 10 to that mail intended for delivery by carrier in that unit. The remaining numbers have been allotted to the stations and branches in the order of their importance, the Newton stations being numbered as follows: Newton Branch, 58, Newtonville Branch, 60,
West Newton Branch, 65, Auburndale Branch, 66, Newton Lower Falls Branch, 62, Newton Upper Falls Branch, 64, Waban Branch, 68, Newton Highlands Branch, 61, Newton Centre Branch, 59, Chestnut Hill
Branch, 67.

The plan is simple and effective.
All clerks whether in the Boston Postal District, or on the trains coming into Boston or in any outside section of the country will at once know by this number where to distribute the mail and any piece of mail bearing this number will proceed promptly and quickly to its destination.

The plan should not be objectionable to residents of the district. There are objections to requiring persons and concerns having post office boxes in the district to have their mail addressed by the number of the post office box; there are objections to requiring a resident of a certain section of Wellesley to have his mail addressed to the Newton Lower Falls station. There are objections to the use of a station name, such as requiring a business firm in the Jamaica Plain station to have its mail addressed to Jamaica Plain.

Under this plan mail may be addressed to persons or firms in any way desired so long as the number appears in the address.

The public would be encouraged to include the use of these numbers because it would soon be realized that the prompt distribution of the mail thus addressed.

A similar plan to that proposed was adopted for the London Postal District in March, 1917. The London Postal District had previously been divided into several districts indicated by letters, and under the plan adopted the address is followed both by these letters and by the number.

It is also understood that similar plans are in use in Paris where a Roman numeral follows the address; in Berlin where a letter and a numeral follows the address; in Copenhagen where a letter follows the address, and in Vienna where a Roman numeral and an Arabic numeral follows the address.

MASQUERADE AT THE HUNNE- WELL CLUB

A very interesting masquerade was held at the Hunnewell Club last Friday evening. Many parents and friends of the members of the dancing class who took part were present. Among those who were present in costume were the following:

Muriel Naylor, Dawson Alexander, Alice Barney, Joseph Richards, Helen Sylvester, Walter Hagan, Virginia
Bullock, Donald Bullock, Alice Stanley, Donald Grant, Lorraine Deffen, David Whitting, Geraldine Whitting, Edwin Barney, Elizabeth Leeds, Stanley Hallett, Portia Russell, Ralph Bischoff, Constance Sellman, Merihue
Hallett, Francis Holt, Robert Pearson,
Mary Scofield, John Hopewell, Avis
Trowbridge, Harry Sylvester, Flora
Hinckey, Gilman Angier, Mary Clark,
Howard Pitts, Rachel Kibben, Hilton Handley, Barbara Kelly, Lindsey Doherty, Margaret Hatch.

ALUMNI GET TOGETHER

An alumni reunion will be held at the High School gymnasium tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. The chief event of the evening will be a track meeting between the 1916 alumni and the senior class. There will be dancing from 9 to 11 o'clock. An invitation is extended to all the alumni of the school and a large attendance is expected and a good time assured.

76TH ANNUAL MEETING

The 76th annual report of the directors to the members of the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company was made by President Alfred D. Foster, at the annual meeting held at the Home Office of the company, 87 Milk street, Boston, Monday, January 26th.

The extraordinary volume of general business of every kind that was done in the United States last year included Life Insurance. Never was so much insurance bought by the American public.

The New England Mutual Life Insurance Company enjoyed the largest business in its history—so much larger as to stand wholly apart from any previous experience. The new insurance paid for was $88,944,132, an increase of $41,500,000 over 1918; this is one of the striking achievements of the year in Life Insurance.

During 1918, the companies were called upon to undergo the severest test in their history. The influenza epidemic and war caused the death of thousands of policy holders, and the consequent payment of millions of dollars in insurance claims. But the law of average retaliated last year with the lowest mortality in 51 years, the re-establishment of this balance is one of the most striking manifestations that has ever been seen of the law on which life insurance is founded.

Moreover, the New England Mutual is able not only to maintain its increasing dividend schedule, where one of the best companies have felt the necessity of "adjustment," but it reports an actual increase in surplus. The combination of difficult conditions which has thus been surmounted, is a typical illustration of the effect and importance of good management.

The total assets are $96,722,983.88, an increase of $7,556,346.22; total liabilities, $92,473,388.75, an increase of $6,914,484.57; surplus increased from $3,607,412 to $4,249,615.

"Yes, you may drink Ginger Ale but it must be White House"

Kiddies, as well as grownups, like the smooth mellowness of White House Ginger Ale. They can safely have their fill, for White House is not astringent, but stimulates the stomach to a healthy action.
(Physicians are perfectly safe in recommending it.) Every step in the manufacture of White House—from importing the pure ginger root to the final bottling—is under the direct supervision of the experts in our factory, who are alert to maintain the purity of White House Ginger Ale.

LIBRARY NOTES

It may not be generally known that the Library has a very good collection of music that is at the disposal of the community.

The average man in some parts of the country still regards a library as a luxury rather than a necessity. The libraries of the country receive an income of only $16,500,000 while an adequate income would be six or seven times that amount.

Only 794, or 27 per cent, of the 2,964 counties in the United States have within their borders any one library of 5,000 volumes or more, leaving 73 per cent. of the counties without any libraries adequately equipped to take the initiative in developing a service. Thirty states serve less than 50 per cent. of their population, six serve less than 10 per cent, and one less than 2 per cent.

There is a bill before the Legislature this week for a pension fund for librarians similar to that for school teachers.

LEAGUE MEETING

The regular meeting of the Newton Hospital Social Service League was held at the home of the treasurer, Mrs. F. W. Webster, Jr., on Harrison street, Newton Highlands, on the afternoon of Monday, January 26th. Because of the illness of Miss Marguerite Jones, it was impossible to hold the meeting at her home, as scheduled. Owing to the extremely cold weather and bad going, the attendance was not large. However, there was an interesting speaker, much business was transacted and tea and a social hour followed.

Miss Marguerite Flanders, the vice-president, occupied the chair. It was definitely voted to change the name of the organization to Newton Hospital Social Service League, as the league really constitutes the social service department of the Newton Hospital. It was also voted to buy the social worker, Miss Grace Miller, a new Ford car and to furnish her a part-time assistant to help in her ever-increasing work.

Rev. Frederick Palladino, a minister and social worker from Newton Upper Falls, gave an interesting talk on Americanism and social work, referring especially to their bearing on the foreigner, the Italian, in particular. There were a few well-rendered readings by Mrs. Kelly and tea was served.

A special appeal was made for some form of entertainment or money-raising in all the Newtons, to take the place of the well-known May breakfasts, as the treasury is, or soon will be, almost depleted, and this important work for the welfare of Newton must not be allowed to languish. The League must have at least $2000 a year to carry on its work. Why not be one of the 1000 members now being solicited and send one dollar, annual membership fee, to Miss Mary L. Rolfe, assistant treasurer, 49 Clyde street, Newtonville?

ANNUAL MEETING

First Church of Christ Scientist, Newton, Mass.

A largely attended meeting of this church, was recently held in Players' Hall, West Newton, and the reports from the various officers and committees, indicated not only a substantial numerical growth, but an increasing community interest in the subject of Christian Science.

The activities of the church have been along spiritual lines entirely with no attempts to attract attendance or interest by entertainments, or anything apart from the regular church services and the two annual lectures.

Reports showed that this church in common with others, recognizes as a sign of the times, that there is a large constituency ready to respond to the appeal of a simple, spiritual service. Without pledges or anything beside the plate collections, the financial results of the year have been gratifying, not only providing for current requirements, but liberally giving to the church's benevolences. There was also reported a greatly awakened interest in the new church, with a very considerable addition to the church building fund.

The following officers were elected: First Reader, Mr. Harry I. Hunt, Newton; Second Reader, Mrs. William D. Harvey, West Newton.

Executive Board—Mr. A. Thurgood, chairman; Miss Helen D. Barker, Mrs. Lillian W. Dodd, Mrs. Ethel K. Ferrin, Miss Nellie E. Robinson, Mr. William L. Judkins, Mr. Edward A. Safford, Mr. Winfield S. Smyth, Harry P. Stimpson, clerk; Mrs. Delphine N. Moore, treasurer; Mr. E. Channing Bouve, superintendent of Sunday school, Mrs. Eva S. Johnson.

Lower Falls

Postal District No. 62

—The formation in every parish of a Unit of the Service League to federate all societies of women in consultation with the rector is being strongly urged by Bishop Lawrence. Miss Eva Corey of Brookline, chairman, speaks at Newton Lower Falls at St. Mary's Church on Thursday. The purpose is to carry on the women's work in the church with better understanding and to give publicity, and open new opportunities in every woman to do something.

FOR FRENCH ORPHANS

"The Poor Little Rich Girl," a delightful imaginative play will be presented at Bray Hall, Newton Centre, Saturday, February 7th, at 2 P. M. and 7.45 P. M. for the support of the French orphans, who were adopted last year through the production of "The Little Princess." The play is written by Miss Eleanor Gates, who has written several letters expressing her warm interest in this Newton Centre presentation of her play for the little children of France.

Candy and ice cream will be on sale. The leading part is taken by Narcissa Peace Varney. There are 24 in the cast.

George Jean Nathan says of the play, "It presents to the audience a playful meadow-larking imagination such as it has probably never felt in and from an American pen."

Upper Falls

Postal District No. 64

—Miss Mary Mahoney of Elliot street is ill at her home with influenza.

—The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist Church met Tuesday at Mrs. Oldfield's residence on Summer street.

—Mrs. Marcus Morton, and Mrs. Percival M. Howe are the visitors at the Institute during the month of January.

—Court Crystal Lake, Foresters of America, will hold a whist party and dance at Foresters Hall, next Monday evening.

—The Machinists Union No. 788 of Upper Falls held a whist party and dance last Tuesday evening, at Foresters Hall.

—The Boy Scouts of this village are rehearsing a play at the Methodist Church that is to be given February 12, at the Auditorium.

—Empress Mary Lodge, No. 203, Daughters of St. George will run a Whist Party and Dance, at Foresters Hall, February 5, 1920.

—Miss Rose Eastwood of Highland avenue, died suddenly of pneumonia after a short illness. She leaves a large circle of sorrowing friends.

—Miss Mary Conlon of this village, and Mr. J. Healey of Watertown, were united in marriage last Thursday, at the 9 o'clock mass in the Church of the Immaculate Conception.

—Miss Lily Frost of Chilton place had a birthday party last Thursday. The children played games and music, after which refreshments were served, and favors given. She was the recipient of many gifts.

—The Newton Upper Falls Improvement Society and the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club will tender a reception to Mr. and Mrs. George W. Bakeman, Saturday evening, January 31st, at 8 o'clock in the Emerson school, and all their friends are asked to attend. Mr. and Mrs. Bakeman are booked to sail for Europe, February 14th, as Mr. Bakeman has engaged with the International Red Cross for service abroad.

DEATH OF MR. WOODS

Mr. Henry J. Woods of Channing street, a well-known resident of Newton, died at his home on Thursday of pneumonia. He had lived in Newton forty years. Last October, he celebrated his 90th birthday. He leaves one son, Dr. Charles D. Woods of Orino College, Maine; two grandsons, Professor Harry N. Woods of Freedom Academy, Freedom, Me.; and Dr. William C. Woods, associate professor of Biology at Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., and a little grandchild, Nancy Fishing Woods of Freedom, Me.

Services will be held today at 3 o'clock, the Rev. George S. Butters, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Henry H. Crane. The burial will be at Bel-fast, Me.

W. C. T. U.

The Newton W. C. T. U. will hold its next meeting February 5th, 2.30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sydney Meloney, 865 Beacon street, Newton Centre. An interesting program has been arranged. A cordial invitation to all.

Auburndale

Postal District No. 66

—Miss Mabel Ober is recovering from her recent illness.

—Mr. I. S. Dillingham has closed his house, 31 Woodland road for the winter.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Foss of Brae Burn road left last week for a trip to California.

—The young people of the Church of the Messiah will hold a social at the church tonight at 8 o'clock.

—The young son of Mr. Theodore W. Dearborn of Wolcott street is convalescing from his recent illness.

—At the annual meeting this week of the Billy Sunday Business Men's Club Mr. Frank F. Davidson was elected a director.

—There will be a union service meeting next Sunday at the Congregational Church at 7.30 o'clock. Rev. D. Brewer Eddy will be the speaker.

—Money deposited in Auburndale Co-operative Bank goes on interest monthly. Interest is compounded four times a year. Last dividends at rate of 5 1/4 per cent. advt.

—The decorations at the tea given by the Woman's Club Tuesday afternoon were exceedingly interesting. Each table represented a month of the year, and the idea was beautifully worked out.

—At the Community Service to be held at the Congregational Church, Sunday, February 1, at 7.30 P. M. Rev. D. Brewer Eddy will speak on the topic, "America's 'Yes' or 'No' to the World's Appeal."

—The recently formed Young People's Society of the Church of the Messiah is meeting at the rectory Sunday evenings at 6.30 for a conference on "Personal Religion." These conferences have been very well attended.

—The Junior Church Service League of the Church of the Messiah has resumed its work, meeting at 2.30 every Thursday at the church. This society is composed of boys and girls under thirteen years of age. It is at present working for the colored children of the St. Augustine School at Raleigh, N. C.

—The Auburndale Mother's Association will meet Wednesday, February 4th, at 3 P. M. in the Church of the Messiah. Mrs. Edward P. Drew will speak on "Mothers and Children in China." Mrs. Drew spent some time in China and had an opportunity to observe the family life of the Chinese people.

—The first meeting of the Home and School Association will be held in Burr School Hall, Tuesday, February 3rd, at 8 o'clock. There will be an interesting program of readings and of music by the Alpha Quartette. Parents and friends of the scholars of the Burr and Williams Schools are cordially invited.

—A sleighride is being arranged for the members of Castle Stirling and their friends. Elaborate preparations are being made for an entertainment in Norumbega Hall. A play will be presented, the characters being impersonated by members of the Castle. Nearly 175 young men have belonged to the Castle since its founding 12 years ago. A framed photograph of Mr. Frederick Day has been presented to the Castle by Mrs. Day. Mrs. Fisk has also been made honorary queen by vote of the members.

—WOMEN—

Stop and Read the following facts—They should interest You.

25 years' careful study develops the fact that eighty-five per cent of adults die and leave no estate, 33 1/3 per cent of the widows are left without the necessities of life. 75 per cent without the comforts, the same observation demonstrates that the most business-like individual has left among his assets Life Insurance, payable, in most cases, in installments. If you could attend the proceedings in the Probate Court for a short period I am convinced that you shortly would be converted to the fact that Life Insurance, especially that payable in installments, is one of the greatest assets that can be left for the benefit of the family. From my observation I maintain that the head of the household or man contemplating such a responsibility, who can pass an examination and fail to adequately provide his family with Life Insurance is not a worthy husband or son. The above applies to Life, Accident, Endowment and Liability of all kinds, and bear in mind that ladies now enjoy the same protection from insurance as men. For your own protection and the protection of your children you should insist upon the head of your family insuring to the limit, and protect your family against the rainy day. It is your duty also to economize to this end. I call by request only, present applications and explain them, not to annoy you.

TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Mr. Daniel F. Koughan of the Portland (Me.) High School has entered upon his duties in the history department.

The vacancy in the Commercial department created by the marriage of Miss Corinne Huling, teacher of typewriting, has been filled by Miss Nellie B. Dyer of the Hudson (Mass.) High School.

Miss Gladys Bigelow, librarian at the Technical High School, is confined to her home with laryngitis. Her position is being filled by Mrs. Anna B. Hodgson of Brookline.

The teachers of the Technical High School and their families recently spent a very enjoyable afternoon in the library. Refreshments were served, and singing and dancing participated in.

The Annual Prize Declamations will take place in the Assembly Hall on the evening of Friday, February 6th. As a result of the Santa Claus Campaign, 235 books have been added to the Library. Thirty-five of these were given by the Seniors, eighty-two by the Juniors, forty-six by the Sophomores and seventy-one by the Freshmen. In addition to the books, the pupils contributed six dollars to be used in purchasing books. These books are to be placed in the new book-case which was presented to the school by the Class of 1919.

The Newton Woman's Club enjoyed a program of unusual excellence at its regular meeting which was held on Monday, January 25th, at the home of Mrs. Nelson Brown, 490 Walnut street, Newtonville.

Mrs. Jessie Eldridge Southwick gave a lecture recital, "The Drama and Human Life," with readings from the plays of Shakespeare and Percy McKay.

Mr. Southwick is a strong original thinker and her portrayal of Shakespeare's heroines was much enjoyed.

Music by Mrs. Edward Wheeler, and a social tea followed the lecture.

COPLEY THEATRE—"Bunt Pulls the Strings," which is the next play to be presented by Henry Jewett's Company at the Copley Theatre, is a quaint Scotch comedy of life and manners of the period of 1850. It was written by Graham Moffat, who knew intimately the place where the scenes were laid and who was acquainted equally well with the originals of the various characters which he has introduced into his play. In fact, many of his people were members or friends of his own household. Mr. Jewett will give the play all the illusion that painstaking care and attention to detail requires. When the play was given at the Copley last season it was conceded to be one of the best plays and one of the most finely acted ones of the season.

A Campaign Committee to push the candidacy of Miss George A. Bacon for the presidency of the General Federation has been appointed by the Executive Board of the State Federation. The personnel includes: Mrs.
George Minot Baker, president of the Federation, the four vice-presidents,
Mrs. George Winslow Perkins, State Director for Massachusetts of the General Federation, Mrs. George O.
Jenkins, General Federation State
Secretary and Mrs. Frederick E. Dowling, chairman of the Press committee. The first thing for which the committee will work is to stir up interest among the clubs of the state to insure the largest delegation Massachusetts has ever had at a biennial. The fact that the railroads will doubtless be returned to private ownership before that time, it is thought, will materially affect the cost of transportation, so that the expense of attending will not be so large as was at first supposed. Clubs will do well to begin to plan to send representatives. Why cannot some of the Newton clubs who would not otherwise be represented combine in sending a delegate, or at least offer to pay part of the expenses of a delegate? There may be women who would be glad to go and would willingly pay a part of the expense for whom it would be impossible to meet the entire cost.

eration.

Monday, February 9, 10 A. M. and 2 P. M. General conference at the Brighton House, 541
Cambridge street, Allston. The morning session will be given up to the consideration of several subjects, Thrift, speakers, Mrs. Irving O. Palmer and Mrs. S. F. Herron; Mothercraft, Miss Mary Bliss Dickinson; there will be two-minute reports from the clubs of the Third District and at 12 o'clock Mrs. Frederick E. Dowling will speak upon "The Coming Biennial and Miss Bacon's Candidacy." In the afternoon at 2 P. M. Mrs. Charles Leslie May, chairman of the Legislative department will present the bills to be acted upon at the Mid-winter meeting: Health Education and Maternity Care will be discussed by Dr.
Merrill E. Champion of the State Department of Health; for State Censorship of Motion Pictures, Nathaniel F.
Forsyth; the speaker in opposition will be announced later. The chief address of the afternoon will be given by Rev. Frank Kingdon, subject, "Out of the Fire."

Luncheon will be served between the sessions. Reservations at 60 cents each may be secured by sending money and address stamped envel-of Lake avenue on Monday afternoon.

"Polish National Heroes" will be the subject of the meeting of the Auburndale Review Club next Tuesday morning to be held at the Missionary Home with Mrs. Thomas Scott as hostess.

The Newton Mothers' Club will give its annual bridge party at the Brae Burn Country Club on Monday afternoon, February 2nd, at 2 P. M. Instead of the customary luncheon there will be a tea.

"Feeding the Spoken Word" will be the subject of the lecture to be given before the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club next Monday evening by Mr. Herbert S. Rogers of the Telephone company. A three-reel film showing telephone operations abroad during the war will be shown. Refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Vernon Kellogg announced as the speaker for the Newtonville Woman's Club next Tuesday evening is unable to meet her engagement. Her place had not been filled at the time this column went to press. See announcement in another column.

The Social Science Club holds its regular monthly business meeting next Wednesday morning. Mr. Edwin
A. Drowne will present very briefly at 11:30 the Motion Picture Man's Point of View regarding this subject in which the club is particularly interested.

On Thursday, February 5, the class in Citizenship of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands will meet with Mrs. W. M. Leonard, 23 Forest street, at 10:30 A. M.

Mrs. E. B. Bowen and Mrs. F. N.
Nathan will be in charge of the Gray
Hall Card Party for the Newton Centre Woman's Club on Thursday, February 5, at 2:30 P. M.

Dr. George H. Blakeslee will give the monthly current events lecture before the Community Club on Thursday, February 5th at 8 o'clock.

The chorus of the club is making special preparations for the music at the meeting on February 12th, when they will render "The Snow" by Sir W. and E. Star with first and second soloists. The subject of the lecture that afternoon will be "The Appreciation of Music."

The Ladies Home Circle holds its regular meeting on Thursday, February 5, at 2 P. M. at G. A. R. Hall, Newtonville.

At the meeting of the Conservation class in the Newton Library on Friday, February 6, at 10 o'clock, the subject will be "Conservation of Human Life." Mrs. Myron Davis of Malden will give the results of ten years' work of the Harvard Forestry School in the Petersham Forest.

On account of so much illness it is deemed advisable to give up the Ton-Thumb Wedding for Children's Day, of the Auburndale Woman's Club on February 10th and a Punch and Judy Show and Sleight of Hand by Mr.
Joseph Yarrick of Boston will be substituted. A Valentine tea will follow to be served by the Juniors. Children of club members are guests and those not having children of their own may invite one child as guest.

Local Happenings

The regular meeting of the West
Newton Women's Educational Club took the form of a whist last Friday for the Electa Walton Scholarship Fund. It was held at the Newton Club and was a gala occasion for all present who thereby contributed to a very worthy cause. At present this fund is helping a very promising student of the West Newton Music School.

The Travel Class held its annual meeting on Monday at the home of Mrs. G. W. St. Amant. A most interesting trip through Nova Scotia was taken with Mrs. J. A. McDonald. Her well-wondered and vivid descriptions, supplemented by a great many snapshots made it seem a very real trip as well as a very enjoyable one. Fur-ture plans were discussed and Mrs.
W. D. Keefe was chosen leader for next year.

The Waban Woman's Club held its regular meeting on Monday afternoon. Following a short business session Captain Burdett spoke of the work of the Girl Scouts, in preparation for their drive for funds.

Professor Wm. G. Ward lectured on "Masaryk and the Czechoslovaks," describing the location of the country and speaking of its people, its resources, its industries, its relation to the surrounding countries and to the United States during the war and formed a cabinet with his companion ready for their return home. After the armistice they returned and are now in control of the government of Czechoslovakia. The affairs of the country have had many reverses, but its people have shown a fine spirit.
Tea was served by the Girl Scouts and during the social hour some of the Scouts gave an exhibition of their work.

On February 9th there will be a musical under the direction of Mrs.
Archie C. Burnett.

Mrs. Emery W. Clark was in charge of the program for this week's meeting of the Newton Highlands C. L. S.
which was held at the home of Mrs. C. Peter Clark of Newton Centre on Monday. The subject of the afternoon was consideration of five famous astronomers, Copernicus, Gal-ileo, Kepler, Newton and La Place and some account of what they did to bring us knowledge of the solar system. Tea was served during the social hour.

The Art Exhibition, on Tuesday afternoon which was in charge of the Art Committee of the Auburndale Woman's Club proved to be most interesting. A wonderful collection of rare and valuable bronzes, pewter, embossed, porcelains, etc., were exhibited. A large collection of French war medals was also shown. Refreshments were served throughout the afternoon. Mrs. Ingram, chairman of the Hospitality committee, showed her originality by having each of the twelve small tables decorated to represent the holiday which comes in each month of the year, or else something typical of the month. January, Eskimo scene; February, Valentine; March, St. Patrick; April, Easter; May, Maypole; June, Bride; July, Fourth of July;
August, Camping scene; September,
Autumn, fruit and leaves; October,
Halloween; November, Thanksgiving;
December, Christmas. The waitresses were dressed to correspond with the table, which they were to serve. The afternoon proved to be a most social affair.

Under the topic, "Making of an American Citizen, native and foreign-born," Mr. D. Chauncey Brewer of Boston told of the work of the North American Civic League of which he is president, at the meeting of the Social Science Club on Wednesday morning.
This organization is the outgrowth of a meeting of a committee in New York city in 1908 to consider the situation of foreigners and to see what could be done to prevent their being exploited by their own countrymen as was frequently happening. The League stands ready to send workers into any community where the funds will be provided to assist the foreign born and to bring about among them a better understanding of this country and its ideals. In many localities the League has held meetings and received hearty endorsement from the citizens, but has failed to be backed up by financial support until some crisis has arisen. Mr. Brewer feels that many difficulties might have been avoided had their league workers been able to have gotten in ahead of agents bearing inflammatory propaganda. He told of what they have accomplished in Bridgeport, Conn., in the Naugatuck Valley in Connecticut, at Lawrence and elsewhere. Also of how their workers during the Boston police strike were able to hold the foreign-born population absolutely loyal.

The speaker is deeply impressed with the seriousness of our present situation, where we have five million foreigners with no fundamental understanding of this country who are ready to follow any leader of force whatever. We must meet propaganda speed on our schools so they will function better, stop many of the 1400 newspapers now published in foreign languages in this country, safeguard free speech, teach them how they may become good citizens, but block naturalization of undesirable citizens, use our mental machinery and do some thinking. Above all get back to our standards set forth by John Adams in the Bill of Rights. "A frequent recurrence to the fundamental principles of the constitution, and a constant adherence to those of piety, justice, moderation, temperance, industry, and frugality are absolutely necessary to preserve the advantages of liberty, and to maintain a free government."

The first of the joint lectures under the auspices of the Newton Federation and the Welfare Bureau was given at the New Church parlors, Newtonville, on Monday afternoon by Mrs. Clarence Kingsley. Rev. Mellyar Lichter, presided. The speaker gave a sympathetic, warm-hearted and friendly talk upon Our New Americans, and read selections from the biographies of Jacob Riis, Edward A.
Steiner, M. A. Ravage, E. Stern and Rev. Abraham M. Ribbany. The reading was followed by an informal discussion in which Miss Martha L.
Lathie, Dr. Mary Wilcox and Mrs.
Irving O. Palmer took part.

Budget Class

At the closing meeting of the Budget class at the Technical high school on Tuesday afternoon, Miss S.
Agnes Donham told how to go to work to prepare a budget. After first getting in mind one's standards, go over the list of personal expenditures and make an estimate of them for the year. Add the totals. Then find exactly what the income is. If irregular, plan on the minimum, and live as nearly as possible upon it. Having discovered the income, compare it with the estimate. If the estimate proves to be greater, then it will be necessary to lower one's standards, but never the ideals. Think out what ought to be saved and subtract it from the income. The difference is then divided into five equal parts for:
Food, higher life, shelter, clothing, operating. The amount required to provide adequate food will probably be larger than the one-fifth, so that it will be necessary to take something from both operating and higher life, but one is paying too much for food,
when it becomes necessary to take from all four of the other divisions.
Incomes of $1800, $2700, $3000 and $5200 were worked out. The amount allowed for savings was practically ten per cent. of the income, though it fell below for the smaller income and increased with that of $5000. Miss Donham has a way of working out budgets graphically by means of two concentric circles, the small inner one representing the savings, and then dividing the outer portion into five parts and coloring each. This shows at a glance the proportions being spent for each and allows one to judge if one is spending wisely. Literature regarding the subject may be secured by addressing her at 95 Milk street, Boston.

READ FUND LECTURE

Miss Mary E. Woolley, President of Mount Holyoke college, was the speaker for the second Read Fund lecture at Hunnewell Club hall on Monday evening, taking for her topic,
"Americanization."

"The question of Americanization," said Miss Woolley, "has ceased to be an academic one and become one of the most vital before the country today." The term has been used until it has become almost a Shibboleth, so she turned to the dictionary for its primary meaning, namely, "to imbue with the American spirit and methods." For a definition of the American spirit Miss Woolley went back to the Preamble of the Constitution and discussed these six great principles—unity, justice, peace, safety, general welfare and liberty, as the underlying factors which make up the American spirit.

She touched upon the need for inter-racial unity, a sympathy and cooperation on the part of the people of the country in order to safeguard it;
also the need of interclass unity amidst the differences between capital and labor. "Unity of the spirit in the bond of peace" must be the ideal toward which we work. This country must solve the problems of cooperation. There are only two roads.
One leads to reconstruction and the other to destruction. Either we must have evolution or there will be revolution. There is no middle road. The spirit of brotherhood is the very essence of the Americanization problem.

We should feel as great a responsibility for our country now as we felt for its safety in the time of war. We must see to it that we have the right type of education and the right type of teacher. In trying to give the foreigner the right sort of education we must not lose sight of what he has to give us.

The application of the principles of Christianity to the inter-racial, inter-class and international questions is the one thing which can save the world.

GRACE CHURCH.

Answering the call of Bishop Lawrence for a campaign of Education, Inspiration and Expansion in the work of the church in the Diocese of Massachusetts, Grace Church, Newton, will have for its speaker next Sunday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, Mr.
Stanton H. King, of the Sallor's Haven in Charlestown.

Mr. King has a story of intense interest to tell of the work of the church among the sailors who come and go through the port of Boston, and of his own personal experiences covering many years of labor among these men of the sea.

A special musical service has been arranged for this service. The vested choir, under the direction of Mr.
Charles N. Sladen, choir master, will have an orchestral accompaniment and will render Inflammatus, by Rossini. Mr. Charles Goddard, violinist, will assist. Rev. Dr. Laurens Mac-Lure will be in charge.

MACARTNEY-ROBBINS

Mrs. Edith Hyde Robbins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Newton Hyde of Douglaston, New York, was married to James Wilkinson Macartney of Washington and New York on Saturday, January 24th, in Zion Church, Douglaston, by the Rev. Dr. James Black. The bride was given away by her father. The best man was Carroll Dawson and the ushers were Northrup Dawson, Dean Paul, Norris McLean and Donald Wood, all of Washington.
A reception at the Douglas Manor Hotel followed for about two hundred guests. The decorations were pink roses and smilax. The bride wore blue chiffon over shell pink satin, with hat to match, and carried a cluster of pale orchids. Mr. and Mrs. Macartney, after the reception left for the south.
They will reside in their new home in Bronxville, a suburb of New York, on their return.

Mrs. Macartney is the granddaughter of the late John Newton Hyde, of Newton Highlands, a well known artist in his day and the grandniece of the late James F. C. Hyde, Newton's first mayor. At the artist's ball in New York last winter, one of the fashionable and notable events of the year, the committee of artists, including Harrison Fisher, Howard Chandler Christie and Henry Hutt, awarded Mrs. Macartney the prize as the most beautiful woman in New York.
Mrs. Macartney was married once before to Clarence A. Robbins of Brooklyn, N. Y., from whom she was granted an absolute divorce several years ago.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY

The Women's Auxiliary of the Y. M.
C. A. held a most interesting meeting at the Y. M. C. A. building Wednesday afternoon.

The meeting opened with the singing of "America, the Beautiful" followed by the reading of the Scripture
by Mr. H. Grant Person. Mrs. Percy N. Kenway, who presided then told something of the work of the Auxiliary, calling attention to the fact that the society is helping to pay the salary of the Boy's Secretary, that it provides suppers every Thursday night for a number of the boys, luncheons for the Special Aid Society, moving pictures, and many other things.
The program of the afternoon consisted of violin selections by Mrs. Arthur L. Lewis of Newton Centre, vocal selections by Mrs. Wallace Wales, accompanied by Mrs. George Owen, and readings by Miss Edith Jamieson, who took the place of the Rev. Henry H.
Crane, who was unable to be present.
All of the artists gave their services. Both vocal and instrumental selections were of great variety, while Miss Jamieson's readings charmed by their wit and humor.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by DOROTHY DRAKE

Mason School

The Mason School orchestra meets every Tuesday afternoon at 2.30 under the direction of Miss McCray of the seventh grade. It is increasing in numbers and in perfection of work.

Room 11 had a doll party on Friday afternoon. It was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Room 2 has started an Eskimo village in connection with its geography work.

Room 6 is having some very interesting illustrated lectures on the products of the United States. The children show great interest in the reflectoscope lessons.

The hockey team has won both its games, the Bigelow score, being 7-0, and Pierce score 5-0.

Stearns School

A meeting of the directors of the Stearns School Center Association was held Tuesday afternoon. Annual reports were read by the clerk, Mrs. Braman, the treasurer, Mrs. Allen, and the director of community work, Miss Weeks. A very interesting talk was given by Mr. Winslow on the work carried on at the school as seen by the school principal.

The speaker at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Girls' Club was Dr. Deborah Fawcett whose subject was "Hygiene." At the close of the meeting a rehearsal for the Minstrel Show was held.

A hard hockey game is expected with Mason tomorrow afternoon. Neither team has been defeated so far during the season. Bullough's Pond, then should be the mecca of all Newton hockey enthusiasts. Both schools will be well represented by cheering followers.

The Mothers' Club which met on the evening of January 22nd, had its largest attendance of the season. Everyone enjoyed the good time during the evening. Plans are being made to introduce sewing and the study of English into these meetings.

Clafin School

On January 22, 1920, the Horace Mann-Clafin senior and junior hockey teams clashed with the Bigelow senior and junior teams. Both games resulted in favor of the Horace Mann-Clafin teams. The score for the senior game was 7-0, and the junior score was 6-0.

Grade four is studying Boston in geography and have planned to take a trip to Boston and see the points of interest there as soon as the weather and walking are suitable. They will see the South Station tracks of Boston and Albany and New York, New Haven, and Hartford Railroad Companies—and from there down Atlantic avenue to the wharves. It is hoped that the class will be able to go on a ship. They will also visit the markets, Custom House, Old State House, Scollay Square, State House—where they will shake hands with Governor Coolidge—King's Chapel, Granary Burying Ground, Public Garden, and Public Library. They will then return by way of Back Bay.

Grade six and seven are going to have a spelling contest in which daily records of the number of 100 per cent, and an average from each class each day. In order to do this each room will have two officers, a bookkeeper—who will keep track of the 100 per cent, and an auditor, who will look over the marks. The bookkeeper for Grade seven is Lawrence Freedman and for Grade six, Katherine Irwin. The auditor for Grade seven is Alice Allen and for Grade six, Edgar Kent. The Clafin Dancing class has 160 members and they are all pupils of the school.

On the last four week's report, Grade seven and five, Room 2, have the record for "No tardy marks." The following pupils have been elected as members of the Executive Committee of the Class of 1920: Henry Wood, chairman; John Bryant, Anna Horton, Willard Richards, and Marion Trowbridge.

Horace Mann School

The graduating class has received its class banner. It has a black background and the words "Horace Mann" printed in gold letters. It is thought that this year's banner is more attractive than last year's.

The eighth grade class, for the first time in many years, equals the record of the Stearns School in wood working and in the handling of tools. On January 20 a hockey game was played at Bulloughs Pond between the Bigelow and Horace Mann-Clafin Schools. Both schools had two teams, juniors and seniors. The latter won both games; the score for the seniors being 7 to 0, the juniors, 6 to 0.

Miss Seavy, the cooking teacher, closed her interesting lessons with the eighth grade girls on Tuesday. In their last lesson the girls made sherbet and cookies. Miss Fales, their teacher was invited to attend the final lesson and enjoyed greatly the food which the girls prepared.

Miss Ellis will conduct sewing lessons in the eighth grade the last half of the year, the first lesson being on Thursday, February 5th.

Hyde School

Miss Kuntz's class had the highest percent of attendance, 91.8, for the week ending January 23rd.

For the week of January 16th, Miss Smith's class led in the purchase of Thrift Stamps with $10.25. Miss McCarthy's class with $7.00 led for the week of January 23rd.

The seventh grade enjoyed a trip to the Art Museum last Saturday. These trips are made possible through the kindness of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, under the directors of the art committee.

Three seventh grade boys, Willis Bradley, Samuel Pattee, and Harold Carver, assisted Dr. Brewer in his demonstration lesson of "How to Get a Job," at the Technical High School last Tuesday, given in connection with the course in vocational guidance.

The course in cooking which the eighth grade girls enjoyed so much has been completed and next week they will begin their work in sewing. The seventh grade girls are looking forward to the cooking lessons, having finished sewing.

"The Training of the Ruggles Family," a scene from "The Birds' Christmas Carol," which was so successfully presented at Christmas time by the eighth grade, was repeated for Miss Bragg and her guests on January 14.

The Atlas film of this village was visited by Miss Greene with her fourth grade last week.

Bigelow School

Last week Room 10 led in the purchase of Thrift Stamps, with Room 2 a close second.

Miss Keefe is substituting for Miss O'Connor who has been ill for the past week with an attack of influenza. Miss Hiltz is taking Miss Lowe's class. Miss Lowe is still detained at her home in New Hampshire by her father's illness.

Roger Wolcott School

Four girls of Miss Slack's eighth grade cooking class prepared a delicious luncheon for the teachers of the school last Monday. The table decorations were made by Helen Andrews and Nancy Kimball. Menus and place cards were artistically designed and in harmony with the pink napkin rings and table colorings. Gladys Kellaway and Laura McKown particularly took charge of the cooking. The dinner included creamed salmon and potatoes, green peas, hot biscuits, jam, milk, and raspberry jelly with whipped cream. Miss Slack's cooking classes have been greatly enjoyed and have proven most valuable to our girls.

An original charade was presented by Miss Emerson's class on Friday afternoon. Josiah Chandler, Malcolm Hill, and Elizabeth Parker played the leading roles in the charade, "The Midnight Ride of Paul Revere." This class has entertained committees for every Friday afternoon when a half hour is devoted to concerts and dramatics.

The work of excavation on the building of the new school has been continually held up by the snow storms of the past two weeks. However the pluck of the men seems to overcome all this and the work goes on cheerily.

Snow shoeing, skiing, and sliding are in vogue at the present time in our district. Parties of all kinds are being enjoyed. The snow brings no gloom to Wagon school children.

Fessenden School

The annual costume party of the Fessenden School will take place tomorrow night. This is an event which is looked forward to during the year, and promised to be of great interest.

Lasell

Wednesday evening the French Department under the direction of Mile Le Royer gave a most successful presentation of "L'Amour Medecin." The object was the raising of schools in devastated France.

Dr. Guy M. Winslow is this week the guest of the New York-Lasell Club who are holding their annual luncheon at Hotel Plaza in New York city.

A miniature skating rink has been made on the grounds of the Woodland Park School. The little girls seem quite willing to share it with the older students from Lasell.

The Rev. Brewer Eddy will speak at the Congregational Church next Sunday. The students from Lasell will attend the service which will be at 7.30. Mrs. Lucius Ames Meade spoke at Lasell Thursday on "The Peace Treaty."

Allen School

The Allen School has been preparing for a public examination to be held the latter part of February to which parents and friends will be invited. It will be oral and will include practically all the subjects of the school curriculum.

Burr School

The Home and School Association will give a reception to the teachers and their friends next Tuesday evening at the Burr School. All are cordially invited.

Miss Alice Kelly invited the boys and girls of grades seven and eight to Milton, recently for a toboggan party. Needless to say they had a glorious time.

HECTOR HEADS HOTEL ENTERTAINMENT

The Hotel Westminster announces the engagement of Charles R. Hector, well known as a leader of musical and vaudeville events, to provide a series of entertainments to be given nightly in the Winter Garden of the hotel.

Last evening the first of these entertainments was given and the Winter Garden was packed with an appreciative audience. Miss Sue Brinkley, who has charmed thousands of Bostonians with her singing, headed the program followed by Jack Farley, tenor, after which came Mollie Malvena who excels in specialty and character songs, and the Saunders Sisters in a double act. A special concert orchestra under leadership of Walter Gough has also been engaged for these events. Of course the program does not interfere with the dancing which is better than ever.

GOES TO YALE

nice Hodges, Mrs. Alice Melcher, Mrs. Frances Wallour, Miss Sylvia Burdett, Miss Gladys Willey, Miss Frances Stevens and Miss Adelaide Hawes. The troop committee is an excellent one, each member the mother of at least one child. Mrs. Addison C. Burham, Mrs. Oscar Hawes, Mrs. Fredrick Rising, Mrs. Melville H. Smith, and Mrs. Everett W. Varney. Beside these official friends there have been a host of others who have given to us their time, their skill, their money and their hospitality. Chief among these friends we count Mrs. Thomas Taylor to whom we took pleasure in presenting a "thanks" badge.

These are just the beginnings, our troop is still a child of little more than two years, and we look forward to a long life of ever increasing happiness and usefulness.

Troop 5—The Girl Scouts of West Newton held an Open Meeting on Tuesday, January 27. There were about 50 visitors present.

After the regular opening meeting a business meeting was held at which Barbara Bryant of Patrol G presided. Reports were read and plans for coming week discussed. The afternoon's program consisted in a short exhibition of Semaphore led by Lieutenant Sprague, First Aid under the direction of Lieutenant Redfield, Knot-Tying and a short play. The drummers and buglers played for the Troop for the first time. Songs were sung, a relay obstacle race run and the meeting closed at 4.30 with the singing of Taps. Troop 5 attended the Unitarian Church on last Sunday and have accepted an invitation to go to the First Church this next Sunday.

Weather permitting, the Girl Scouts of the City are to have a Camp Fire at the Brae-Burn skating pond on Saturday, January 31, afternoon and evening. They expect to cook "eats" over this fire and hope that the skaters will patronize them.

Have you noticed the Posters this week, and have you followed the days? Here they are in case you didn't see them.

Sunday—G. S. Friendly Day. Remember the Golden Rule.

Monday—G. S. Smile Day. Are you smiling?

Tuesday—G. S. Honor Day. Can you be trusted?

Wednesday—G. S. Prompt Day. Be on time.

Thursday—G. S. Thrift Day. Are you saving?

Friday—G. S. Service Day. Are you helpful?

Saturday—G. S. Perseverance Day. Finish your job.

Why not follow these mottoes every day?

THE ARAB AND HIS NEW SUZERAIN

"The Arab and His New Suzerain" was the title of the second lecture by Dr. H. H. Powers in Channing Church Thursday night, for the benefit of the Smith College fund.

Dr. Powers said that men are influenced very largely by their habits, and that this was especially true of the Arab. He exhibited a map which showed the center of Arabia as a desert, with a fringe of tillable land around the edge. The climate of the country is hot and dry. In such a climate, the Arab has shown himself to be energetic and resourceful.

The Arab race has always been a conquering race; the basis of Egyptian civilization is Arabic, and the Arab has overflowed around the Mediterranean Sea as far north as Tours. In character, the Arab is a fatalist. This is largely the result of his habit, which is that of a fatalist. The words of the Bible, "His hand is against every man, and every man's hand is against him" is characteristic of the Arab. He is lacking in cohesive power. It was this lack of cohesion which drove him out of Europe.

The Turk is in every way a contrast to the Arab. He is good natured, easy-going, and unprogressive. He belongs to the Turanian race, while the Arab is a Semite. Between the two races, there is a deep-seated hostility. The Arab has been for centuries under the Turk politically, but the fortunes of war have at last placed him under Great Britain.

Great Britain, long before the war had controlled the narrow strip of Arabia near the Suez Canal. It is absolutely essential to her that the passageway to India be in her hands. It was for control of such a passageway that Germany had been planning for the years immediately preceding the war. Great Britain cannot afford to have a hostile nation obtain a naval basis in this vicinity. The future of Great Britain, and to a large extent, the future of the world, depends upon the British fleet, and an unhindered passageway to India, with frequent naval bases are, therefore, vital.

The German nation expected an uprising of the Mohammedan nations which might easily have proved fatal to Great Britain.

That this did not happen, is a splendid tribute to the organization and rehearsal of Great Britain upon her dependencies.

The Arab in exchanging Turkish suzerainty for that of Great Britain has gained much. Great Britain, in keeping with her general policy, will not interfere with him and will respect his religious scruples, while she will protect him from other nations.

Great Britain as a result of her splendid strategy during the war, has also gained control of the Mesopotamian Valley. It will take many years, and much capital to develop this region.

Dr. Powers said that the two great results of this war have been, first the transfer of the Arab from the Turk to Great Britain, and secondly, the closer union of the Anglo-Saxon Race for the maintenance of peace and order.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Middlesex, ss. PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Gustav Wilhelm Ulmer, late of Newton, in said County, deceased.

WHEREAS, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for probate, by Arthur M. Beale and Richard de Z. Pierce, who pray the leave of administration with the will annexed may be issued to them without giving a surety on their bond, or to some other suitable person, one of the executors named in said will having declined to accept the trust, the other being a minor.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge in said County of Middlesex, on the sixteenth day of February A. D. 1920, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days, at least, before said Court.

Witness, George F. Lawton, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this twenty-ninth day of January in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty.

F. M. ESTY, Register.

Jan. 30-Feb. 6-13.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Middlesex, ss. PROBATE COURT.

To all persons interested in the trusts under the will of Leverett Saltonstall, late of Newton in said County, Middlesex, praying to be appointed trustee under the will of said deceased, which has been proven in said Court.
